

STRENGTH

The outstanding quality in the fence you build should be Strength.

Cattle will put their heads through the wire—they will stretch over the fence—they will rub against the posts. Will the posts stand the strain or will they bend?

BURLINGTON STEEL FENCE POSTS

will stand any farm strain. They are made of high carbon steel, rust resisting, with a yield point of 55,000 to 65,000 pounds per square inch. They will not bend, break nor burn. You drive them in the ground in less than a minute. No post holes to dig—no staples to drive nor clinch. Hundreds of farmers are using them to build permanent fences and repair old fences.

HERE'S THE FEATURE THEY ALL WANT

The West Bend One Lever Control is "in right" with the farmers because it saves them so much time and work, and insures safety in locking up or releasing cows. Any number of stanchions and cow stops—2 to 50—are locked or opened with one throw of the lever. The West Bend line is the only one that has this valuable patented feature. Find out all about the West Bend line before you buy barn fixtures of any kind. The West Bend line includes everything needed to completely equip your barn.

The Farmer's Advocate and Home Magazine

Before January 1st, 1921

Subscriptions sent in before the first of the year will be accepted at the rate of $1.50 per annum when paid in advance, or

Two Years for $3.00

The subscription price of "The Farmer's Advocate" has not been increased for the past seventeen years, but beginning with the New Year the cost of postage will be increased 200 per cent., with a further increase of 300 per cent. the following year. This alone means an increased cost of $8,000, and other costs of publication have increased enormously, so that after January 1st, 1921, the subscription price will be advanced to $2.00 per annum.
