QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS. Miscellaneous.

STORING GRAPES.

How can I pack grapes on the stem, just as they are picked from the vine, so as to have them fresh during the winter?

R. S.

Ans.—In order to keep grapes well, a temperature of from 32 to 36 degrees Fahrenheit is required. If you have a cold-storage plant in which you can keep the temperature down as low as this, the grapes should keep all right stored in small baskets, or on shelves. The best storage-room for this purpose is one kept cool by ventilation.

REGISTRATION OF STALLION.

I bought an imported Clydesdale stallion last May; he was imported by — and registered in Ottawa in his name; then sold to —; then sold to me, and I have the pedigree, but it has not been transferred to my name. Will they transfer it if I send it to the office, or will it be necessary to go back to the importer? Will you also give the address of the Registry Office through your valuable columns?

J. E. R.

Ans.—For full particulars, address The Accountant, National Live-stock Records, Ottawa, Ont.

MARE ABORTS.

Mare four years old lost her colt last fall.

1. Could this be caused by very heavy pulling?
2. Would two or three doses of saltpetre have caused it?
3. She was not bred this year. Was this wise?
4. When could she be safely bred again?
5. Would she likely have lost her colt had she been bred this summer?

W. G.

Ans.—1. Over-exertion, due to being hitched to too great a load, may have caused the abortion. This heavy pulling may have caused the mare to slip and strain herself, which is a common cause of this trouble. No in-foal mare should be expected to do very heavy work.

2. If given in doses of not more than 1 to 1 ounce, saltpetre should not cause abortion. It is a powerful diuretic and cathartic, and if given in too large doses might be conducive to this trouble.

3, 4 and 5. If the mare is in good condition, and no bad effects of her previous abortion are in evidence, we see no reason why she should not have been bred again this season. It is impossible to tell when a mare will lose her foal. She may lose her next foal, and she may never abort again. The only thing to do is to breed her, and give her good care. Avoid purgatives and other medicines as much as possible while she is carrying the colt, and do not overwork or overdraw her.

Veterinary.

INVERSION OF UTERUS.

Mare foaled without trouble. In the evening, she became pained and expelled or inverted the uterus, which swelled, and in an hour she was dead.

1. Could she have been saved?
2. Should she have been allowed on grass all the time the first day after foaling?
3. Give grain ration that will be proper for foal?
4. Would oil cake be good, and how much? Also state how much for a horse that is thin?
5. Colt has navel rupture as large as a hen's egg.

W. T. S.

Ans.—1. If the uterus had been washed and carefully returned, the lips of the vulva stitched together, and a truss applied to prevent reinversion, it is probable she would have lived. It usually requires a veterinarian to operate successfully.

2. In fine weather, this is considered good practice. Many mares foal on grass and remain there day and night.

3. Keep a little chopped oats where he can eat at will.

4. Yes; a tablespoonful twice daily. For a horse, a teacupful twice daily.

5. This will probably disappear before winter. If not, apply a truss to keep rupture up for a month. If that fails, get a veterinarian to operate.

Department F for full particulars. VINING MANUFACTURING COMPANY NIAGARA FALLS, ONT.

The bright six-year-old daughter of a physician happened into his reception-room one day, and a waiting woman patient engaged her in conversation.

"I suppose you go to church and Sunday school?" she asked.

"Oh, yes, ma'am," she replied.

"And what denomination do your parents belong to?"

"Why," said the little one, "mamma's a Presbyterian and papa's a brain specialist."

Had a Weak Aching Back and a Nasty Sick Headache

Mrs. W. R. Hodge, Fielding, Sask. writes:—"A few lines highly recommending Doan's Kidney Pills. For this last year I have been troubled very much with nasty sick headaches, and a weak aching back which caused me much misery, for I could not work, and had no ambition for anything. My kidneys were very badly out of order and kept me from sleeping at nights.

"I tried many kinds of pills and medicines but it seemed almost in vain. I began to give up in despair of ever being well and strong again when a kind neighbor advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills, which I did, and am thankful for the relief I obtained from them for now I am never troubled with a sore back or sick headaches. I will always say Doan's Kidney Pills for mine and can highly recommend them to any sufferer."

Price 50c per box, or 3 boxes for $1.25 at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited Toronto, Ont.
