BOYS' CONFERENCE.

The first session of the Boys' Work Conference was held in Owen Sound on April 1st, 1921, in Knox Presbyterian church, when about six hundred boys and their leaders and pastors gathered together in the large Sunday School of the Knox church. The Conference opened in the devotional exercises and was led by Rev. S. M. Elliot of North Owen Sound Union Church, which was a great inspiration to all present.

The Conference Hymn was then sung. It was "Just as I am Thine Own to be", and made a great impression on the boys. After the devotional exercises, Mr. W. R. Cook took the platform, after which four boys were chosen as directors of the Conference.

First William Garhutt of Owen Sound, Grandpreator; second Arthur McPherson of Orangeville as Deputy preator; third, Charles Krug of Chesley as Grand Srepter; fourth, Clifford Bunt of Owen Sound as Grand Comptor.

The boys were then divided into tuxis squares, 18 squares in all, and about 25 in each square. Every Square was named such as "Never Tints, Falcons, Tigers and so on, space does not allow me to mention them all. Each square elected its preator, Deputy Preator, Sreptor, Comptor. This classed the business part of the program.

Dr. Robertson, D. D., General Secretary of the Board of Sunday School and Young People's Alliance, spoke very fluently on the four fold life in the home. The first part of his address dwelt mostly on the intellectual side of life. This was followed by physical life, then the religious and social life. Dr. Robertson certainly gave us a splendid address. The session then closed with prayer and the boys retired to their different homes, which we dare say were homes never to be forgotten by the visitors of the Conference.

Saturday morning, April 2. This session opened at 9 a. m. Charles Krug, Grand Sreptor of Chesley called the roll of the different squares, all responding. This was followed by the devotional exercises, led by the Rev. Burgess of Walkerton, who gave a brief address on the piece of worship in the boys' life.

Mr. W. Cook then spoke on the subject of Charting the boys. Dr. Robertson and the Rev. Manson Doyle gave brief addresses on tuxis squares.

This session was then divided into different groups representing their denominations.

Methodist 211
Presbyterian 192
Anglican 49
Union Church North O. S. 41
Evangelicals 36
Baptist 30
Disciples 8

The service was then closed and the boys all lined up in front of Knox Church in fours and marched down Main street and across two blocks, then up to the Y. M. C. A., thence over to Knox Church.

Here they tried to burst the camera twice, but somehow failed. The photo is certainly a good one. We then adjourned to satisfy our hungry hodies. At 2 p. m. the boys assembled together in the Sunday School room for orders. After a short service we went to the Y. M. C. A. grounds for the athletic program. Spending over two-hours in races and stunts and so on. After the sports closed the boys were treated with a big banquet in Knox Church basement, which will never be forgotten, especially the kindness of the Owen Sound ladies. They certainly deserve credit for the splendid way they prepared the feast for the boys. After the banquet, Rev. Manson Doyle and Dr. Robertson gave splendid addresses on Life's Work. The services then closed.

Sunday morning, April 2. The Boys went to different churches.

Then at 4.15 Sunday afternoon they gathered together in the large auditorium of Knox Church. Here Mr. Cook gave a splendid address on Life's Service. The boys then were requested, with heads bowed, as to what their determination for the future was. Many formed good resolutions. This solemn service was then closed. Dr. Robertson pronounced the benediction. The last and farewell service began at 8.15 in the Knox Church, while the Choir was singing "Onward Christian Soldiers".

The pastors and leaders marched over from the Sunday School rooms to the main auditorium, the boys then following one by one until there were five hundred boys that marched thru. This service began with the Grand Preator giving a splendid address and the Grand Sreptor read the minutes which were adopted unanimously. The Comptor then gave us a few words on Tuxis Organization. Our Deputy Preator then read the resolutions, thanking the speakers and the ladies for their kindness at the banquet and fit their homes. This gathering then closed by the boys joining hands two deep around the main auditorium. The Hymn, "Blest Be The Tie That Binds" was then sung, after which Dr. Fraser pronounced the benediction.

The boys are looking forward to the future when they again have the opportunity of attending another Boys' Conference.

WALKERTON.

Messrs. Bob Rowland and John Erdman are arranging to build a dancing pavilion at the Fair Grounds 40 x 60 ft., and have engaged Rayner's orchestra of Southampton to furnish music two nights each week for the entire summer and have also secured their services for the Old Home Week in July.

A storey and a half frame house north east of the G.T.R. station, belonging to Mrs. T. E. Attwood, was badly gutted by fire at the noon hour last Wednesday. Mr. Jos. Kunneman, a tenant who had just moved in a day or so previously, was burning up some old grass when the blaze caught the dry frame structure. Mr. Kunneman, who is a brother of Mrs. Ignatz Sehefter has just moved here from Michigan and was negotiating to buy the place.

Mrs. Albert McNab of Chepstow was the victim of a serious accident on Monday of last week. She had driven her young son to Business College at Hanover and had got nearly home again when her horse became frightened by an auto near Mr. Jos. Spitzig's gate. The animal ran away throwing her out of the rig. In falling one of the bones of her neck was broken. Her condition was deemed so serious by the doctors that she was taken to Guelph Hospital on Thursday for an operation. She is now reported to be doing nicely.

The local Soldiers' Memorial Committee awarded the contract on Friday for a monument to the McIntosh Granite Co. of Toronto at $4,000. The monument which is to be placed at the north-east corner of the Armoury grounds will consist of a base of all gray granite surmounted by the figure of a Canadian soldier standing at ease with rifle. It will be seventeen feet high over all with three step bases and the contract price includes the cost of the concrete underbase, the erection of the monument and everything.

If the cattle embargo in Britain is nullified, Hon. Manning Doherty, Minister of Agriculture in the Drury Government, will be entitled to some measure of credit in assisting Lord Beaverbrook in his efforts to have this uncalled-for reproach on Canadian herds removed. If the removal is effected it will come as a welcome relief to live stock breeders of this country at a period when they are threatened with severe injury by being shut out of the United States market. It would also keep our trade with the Old Land and enable us to buy more there and leave us less dependent on our neighbors to the south.

WHY SOME TOWNS ARE DEAD.

The town that never has anything to do in a public way is on the road to the cemetery, says an exchange. The citizen who will do nothing for his town is helping to dig the grave. The man that curses the town furnishes the coffin. The man who says he has no time from his business to give to municipal matters is making the shroud. The man who will not advertise is driving the hearse. The man who is pulling back from any public enterprise throws bouquets on the grave. The man who is so stingy as to be forever howling hard times preaches the funeral services, sings the doxology, and thus the town lies buried from all sorrow and care, and the mayor should never leave town without a crepe band on his hat.—Forest Free Press.

RESCUES COMPANION FROM DEATH.

By the collapse of a bridge over the Sydenham River, only a few feet above Inglis Falls, a high, rugged waterfall about two and a half miles south of Owen Sound, shortly after noon on Monday last, a team of horses with a wagon loaded with flour, on which were Frank Morris and Elgin Follis, were thrown into the rushing waters. Morris, stunned by the fall, was only saved from a horrible death on the rugged rocks by the heroism and quick action of his companion, who, at great risk, rushed to his assistance and literally pulled him back from the brink.

The water was swirling through a narrow channel, at a very high speed and the footing was of the most insecure nature, the rocks being worn smooth. The two were finally assisted to the shore with the aid of ropes and were little the worse for their experience. The horses and wagon were saved with difficulty, but the wagon box containing 3,100 pounds of flour went over the falls and was a total loss.

DID SHE GET THE PAPER?

One day last week Mrs. Warren went over to her neighbor Mrs. Smith to borrow her newspaper. She found nobody home except Mrs. Bell, Mrs. Smith's mother, an old lady, very deaf. She said: "I came over to borrow your newspaper, if you have it read."

"Who is dead?" inquired the old lady Mrs. Warren raised her voice, "Have you read your newspaper?"

"Land sakes! Reggie Baker, when did he die?"

Mrs. Warren spoke louder, "He is not dead."

"Shot dead! Mercy sakes! Who shot him?"

Mrs. Warren spoke louder yet.

LIGHTNING'S PECULIAR ANTICS.

During the thunderstorm on Tuesday evening of last week the chimney on Jos. Blakely's residence in town was struck by lightning. The fluid did not do much damage but its antics were peculiar. Three stovepipe lengths were split open and coal oil lamps downstairs and upstairs were extinguished. Downstairs the bolt ripped up some linoleum under the stove, went through the floor and through a joist like bullet holes, one evidently entering the ground thru the foundation and the other breaking its way through the wall of the house near the foundation. There were five occupants in the house, all sitting near where the current passed but only two of them were in any way stunned, and that only for a short time. Mr. Blakely was away from home at the time.—Flesherton Advance.

BELL PHONE GRANTED TEMPORARY INCREASES.

The Board of Railway Commissioners has issued judgement which grants, as a temporary relief, permission to charge 10 per cent more than its present rates to long distance telephone users, and to put into effect the scale of long-distance and service connection charges asked for.

The long distance charges are divided into four different kinds: First, messages from one station to another; second, person to person calls; third, appointment calls; fourth, messenger calls.

For station to station calls, the new tolls run from a radius of 12 miles to 40c for each additional mile of distance. For calls within a radius of 12 miles to 48c for each additional mile of distance. For calls within a radius of 12 miles to 56c for each additional mile of distance. For calls within a radius of 12 miles to 64c for each additional mile of distance.

It is expected that the increase will take effect from the 1st of April.
