

CHAMBER MOTIONS

Number Disposed of This Morning

Several Referred by Consent to Mr. Justice Dugas—Taken Up Later in the Week.

Mr. Justice Craig sat in chambers a short time this forenoon prior to his departure at 3 o'clock for Skagway, hearing such motions and other matters that came before him. Only such motions as were imperative and of a brief nature were entertained, a number of affairs being referred by consent to Mr. Justice Dugas.

Ferguson vs. Kincaid stands for two weeks unless sooner brought up by consent before Mr. Justice Dugas. Shaw vs. Willison and Geason vs. Willison instead of a motion coming up for argument on July 7 an interpleader will issue to be tried on that day.

Mr. Hagie, K.C., asked that the plea filed in the case of King vs. Clark be disposed of. Carboneau vs. Letourneau et al stands until the 24th, the injunction continuing in the meanwhile. The injunction referred to was one sued out by the defendants restraining the plaintiff from selling machinery, etc. held by Carboneau under a mortgage in the extent of $20,000. It is claimed but $13,700 is owing instead.

A counsel fee of $75 was allowed J. D. McGillivray in the case of Mohr & Wilkens vs. the Anglo-Klondike Co. and McGillivray. At the trial of the action plaintiff secured judgment against the defendant company but not as against McGillivray.

Callaghan vs. Callaghan, an action between two brothers, came up on a motion for a reference to inquire into the property owned by them. Order granted, Charles Macdonald appointed referee.

An order of reference was made in McDonald vs. Armstrong, the receiver's discharge to stand over until the reference was disposed of. In Lynch vs. Costanzo, re 17 below on Bonanza, an issue was directed between the contending parties as to the funds in court.

Frank Kirkpatrick, the Hunker miner who disappeared between two suns last week, is defendant in five suits filed by as many different creditors. In one, Milton vs. Kirkpatrick an order for substitutional service was made returnable in 60 days. The notice shall be posted in the clerk's office, sheriff's office, postoffice and on the claim. Same order applies in the other four cases.

Horn vs. Davis was a motion for an injunction to restrain defendant from depositing tailings, silt and debris on the creek claim owned by plaintiff, that of defendant being a hillside. Stands until Wednesday when it will be taken up before Mr. Justice Dugas.

Mrs. H. Marymont, J. E. Lilly, R. B. Horn, Harry Montague, Henry Schrieber, J. W. Clark, O. O. Boggs, Miss Oberdoerfer, George Renny, E. Miller, Mrs. Miller, L. Hamilton, G. B. Crascol, Gus Westberg, Gus Korgsren, Sam Brown, E. G. Salstrom, H. H. Edgar, Chas. Metcalf, Fred Wassell, Thos. Yeltch, A. Campbell, C. D. Toombs, H. C. Colby, George H. Hess and W. H. Worden.

The Casca which is establishing for herself a record as a world beater in the matter of making quick trips left again at 10 o'clock for Whitehorse. Her passengers were: Whitehorse—Mrs. Pellant, Mrs. W. D. Bruce, Fred Miller, J. McLaren, Miss N. Vannostren, J. Dubach, M. C. Ellinger, E. Nawm, A. E. McAllister, G. La France, J. McAlpin, Notman Macaulay, T. Cummings, A. Canther, I. Reeves, H. Lamberton, Mrs. Eckert, Coffee creek—A. K. McLain, M. McDermott, Hootchiku—M. Matheson, J. L. McQuade, J. Johnson, H. Doc. Thirtymile—E. Tiffin, J. D. Bell, W. L. Gebar.

The Sybil sailed yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock with the following passengers berthed: J. W. Clark, Wm. Philpot, C. B. Hamburg, Mrs. C. W. Macpherson, S. T. Gulick, Mrs. E. Kronner, Martha Kronner, Willie Kronner, H. B. Parkin, J. A. Mallette, J. B. Riel and E. LeFebre. Mr. Macpherson accompanied his wife and child as far as Whitehorse.

The Lavelle Young pulled out Saturday evening for St. Michael for a cargo for local houses. She carried R. Kirby and J. H. Shade for St. Michael; Major Maxfield for Eagle and H. McDonald for Koyukuk.

The Mary Graff arrived at 6 o'clock this morning with a cargo of 172 tons, principally machinery. The Graff will carry no passengers this season. She leaves tomorrow.

The Prospector left at 3 o'clock this afternoon for Stewart river points with a large passenger list and one of the heaviest cargoes that has been taken up this season. Among the freight were three boilers and several thousand feet of flume hose for Duncan creek, the first to be employed on that creek. George Gordon shipped a quantity of lumber and general merchandise to Moose Cache where he will open a store at once. That is the nearest point to Duncan creek, but 12 miles distant, and Mr. Gordon is of the opinion that a promising camp will spring up there.

The Tyrrell has been tied up below the saw mills and will go out of commission for the time being. Workmen are engaged in dismantling both the Gold Star and the Flora. As soon as completed the hulls will be employed in the coal carrying trade from Five Fingers. The hull of the Ora is already so engaged and the Nora will doubtless follow suit sooner or later.

In the cargo of the Tyrrell were six ore cars for McLennan & McFeely, cheechaco affairs in every particular such as are used in quartz mines. The La France will be in tomorrow with the hull of the Thistle in tow. Both are heavily laden.

The Clifford Siltan arrived at one o'clock with 26 passengers, overtaking the Columbian just as she reached her dock. The Columbian left Whitehorse 26 hours ahead of the Siltan.

The Columbian pulled into port at 1 o'clock with a heavy cargo of freight and 47 passengers.

Date Not Fixed. Legal Adviser Newlands is and has been for a week or more kept very busy preparing legislation for the next meeting of the Yukon council. This will embrace a bill on liquor licenses and one on licenses on various businesses applied for by the city council; a judiciary ordinance and one to amend the assessment ordinance allowing the assessment to be made at any time instead of in the fall of the year when merchants' stocks are to some extent depleted. There are a number of other bills.

The day for the next council meeting has not yet been fixed. The coronation holiday may interfere in some degree and unless there should be something urgent the meeting may now not take place until Wednesday week, which is the date for the regular meeting of the council.

A Happy Printer. Among the passengers arriving on the Dawson yesterday was Mrs. G. M. Arbuckle, wife of the well-known printer who returned over the ice early in April from a short visit to the outside, both of them going out in February.

INTERRED YESTERDAY

Funeral Under Auspices of the Eagles

Frank Le Blanc, Drowned Last Spring, Laid to Rest in the Catholic Cemetery.

The funeral of Frank LeBlanc, the young man who fell off the Klondike bridge and was drowned last spring shortly after the breakup of the river and whose body was subsequently recovered 19 miles above Eagle and brought back to the city, occurred yesterday under the auspices of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, of which order the deceased was a member. The body was taken to the A. B. hall at 11 o'clock where the lodge met and read the beautiful and impressive ritual for the dead, the exercises being under the direction of Worthy President F. W. Clayton and Chaplain Si Marks. At the conclusion of the services there the funeral cortege preceded by Freimuth's band repaired to St. Mary's church where prayers were said and several special musical numbers were rendered. Max Landreville sang a solo and Messrs. Hobbs, Eggert, Rannie and Evans played "Nearer My God to Thee," arranged as a quartette for three trombones and bass. From the church the remains were taken to the Catholic cemetery on the hill for final interment. There were about 150 Eagles in attendance together with a number of friends not members of the order.

Deceased was unmarried and about 35 years of age. He had been in the Yukon less than a year, coming here from Butte, Montana, where he was employed in one of the big mines for several years as a quartz miner. He was a French-Canadian by birth, a native of the province of Quebec, and had no relatives in this part of the Dominion.

Horkan to the Rescue. L. W. Horkan, the Standard librarian, restauranter, philosopher, philanthropist and humanitarian, has come bravely to the rescue of the many hundreds of men who were induced to come to Dawson on false promises of plenty of work at big wages and who are now forced to economize on their meagre means.

Unlike George Francis Train, Horkan does not go out on the commons and feed sparrows, but at his Standard library restaurant on Second avenue he is feeding men, giving them good, substantial "squares" at 50 cents each—not soup and toothpick, but heavy meat meals such as working men require and enjoy and such as cost $1 or more elsewhere. Horkan employs only white union labor and the very best to be had. Try one of his 50 cent meals and if you are not satisfied he will refund the price.

Miss Hughes Arrives. Miss Mae Hughes, for a long time head operator at the central office of the Dawson Telephone Company, returned yesterday on the steamer Dawson after spending the winter at her old home in California. Instead of returning to her old position in the telephone office, Dame Rumor saith that Miss Hughes will very shortly become the wife of one of Dawson's most popular young business men.

Heavy Forest Fires. Immense forest fires are raging in the country back of Fort Reliance and further over towards the Twelve-mile creek valley. Another fire is sending up dense volumes of smoke somewhere between Dawson and the head of Eldorado, and still another is burning across the river only a mile back from West Dawson.

VERY SUDDEN SWEARING OFF

Caused Carl Linengen to Go Bughouse.

Chas. Johnson Bound Over on Charge of Horse Stealing—Plain Drunks.

Carl Linenger, laborer, was before the police court this morning on a charge of insanity. On the morning of the 15th a policeman was called in and found the prisoner had stuffed his necktie down his throat, a little corner of it hanging out of his mouth. When it was taken out he became violent and was taken to the barracks. Since that time he has been under the care of Dr. Thompson, the police surgeon, who testified that the man had suffered from alcoholism but there was nothing wrong with him mentally. Prisoner said that at the time he was taken to the barracks hospital he had not touched a drop of drink for four or five days but before that he had been on a spree. With a caution on the evil of drinking and the danger of cutting it out too suddenly the prisoner was discharged.

Charles Johnson, charged with stealing a horse, the property of Alex. Macdonald, was brought up for judgment, Mr. Hagel appearing for him. Inspector Starnes said that looking over the evidence in the case it looked to him as if crooked work had been done. The horse had been stolen, there was no doubt of that, and prisoner was seen with the man who seemed to have disappeared bargaining for the animal. Then there were two bills of sale and the fact that the value of the horse was more than it was sold for, and there was no doubt sufficient evidence to commit the prisoner for trial. Mr. Hagel asked that bail be accepted and the inspector fixed it at $1000 and one bondsman in $500.

The case of James McIntosh against Louis Pond, a claim of $323.80 for wages was, upon the application of Mr. Congdon, who appeared for the plaintiff, adjourned until Monday morning. E. C. Crowle was cursing and swearing in the Melbourne Annex on Saturday night when a policeman happened in and he at once engaged his services. He said he had been thrown out of the Standard theatre and he desired the officer to go with him to get his hat. They went there and got the hat and then Mr. Crowle wanted to fight again. The prisoner said in court this morning that he did not remember anything about it. To make him remember in future a fine of $5 and costs was imposed.

James Kenny, miner, brought up on a charge of drunk and disorderly pleaded guilty to the first count of the indictment but was sure he had not been fighting; he never did fight. The policeman who arrested him said he was guilty of committing a public nuisance on First avenue. Prisoner said: "I don't remember that. I only had a few drinks but I can't stand it any more." Live dollars and costs. John Hollenbeck, miner, shot a moose for the camp but made the mistake of bringing 300 pounds of it to town and selling it to the Victoria market, on the ground that the camp could not use the whole animal while it was fresh. They had not been killing meat to market at all. Inspector Starnes said there did not seem to be an intention of breaking the law but a violation had been committed all the same. He would reserve sentence.

RATES ARE RESTORED

Upper River Comp Bury the Hatch

Ironclad Agreement Entered and a Bond of $1,000 Deposited.

The steamboat war is at an end with the departure of the Columbian this afternoon and this evening probably went to Whitehorse at a rate which amounts to nothing at all. Class tickets have been set at Skagway for $20 and as the fare alone is that figure it is not to riding to Whitehorse.

Yesterday afternoon the representatives of the different lines agreed to bury the hatch and the ironclad agreement was entered into by a gilt-edge bond of $1000 each and making the compact for good. The lines represented are the Adair for the Casca, the Siltan, the Merchants' and the Selkirk, Dawson horse and Yukoner, the boats of the White Pass line will be the old tariff and $65 to Skagway. A boat of the White Pass line with those of the opposite sell tickets for $50 and Whitehorse, thus making a total of $10 on first-class and second-class against the fare as soon as the agreement was made it was drawn up in the signed and the bonds executed and it has been revised and only arranged and the low rate of the sailing of the Columbian will be but a memory.
