THE ONE PRICE BARGAIN SHOE HOUSE
D. W. DOWNEY
FLINT'S NEW BLOCK, BROCKVILLE.

To the Electors of South Leeds

Gentlemen,—

At the solicitation of many of my Conservative friends I have decided to offer myself as a candidate for this Riding at the approaching elections for the House of Commons. I am and always have been a Liberal Conservative and am in entire accord and sympathy with the present government on every question except one, and that is the question of fuller and closer trade relations with foreign countries. I think the policy of the Government on that point is detrimental to the interests of the farmers. My main object, if elected, will be to assist as far as possible in improving the present unfortunate condition of affairs under which they are now resting. It is an undisputed fact that farm property has depreciated in value within the past few years. The present state of affairs cannot continue; if it does we stand in the greatest danger of losing a large element of our farming people through emigration. Personally, my business depends upon the farmers, and what injures them reacts on me, and so on through all the classes of the community. In coming out as an independent Conservative I am simply following the example of many other good Conservatives throughout the Dominion, and exercising the undoubted right which every good citizen ought to have.

Trusting, gentlemen, that you will exert your good influence in my favor and cast your votes for me on the 5th March, I am

Respectfully yours,

J. R. TURNER.

Pneumonia seems to be running mad in this county this winter; old and young being among its victims. Last week Mr. Walter Johnston, of Oak Leaf, lost his youngest son, Stanley, after a few days' illness. Mr. Johnston and wife have the sympathy of their neighbors in their bereavement.

H. Lang, of Newboro has been dealing quite extensively in potatoes this winter having shipped a large consignment over the R. & P. to the New York market. Herb admits that potatoes are worth $1.20 in the States, but can't understand why it is that he cannot pay more than 50c per bushel for them in Canada. Reiss answers why?

We are in receipt of the 1st and 2nd numbers of The Homeseeker's Handbook, published by Geo. E. Nelson, Arnprior, devoted exclusively to giving information on municipal matters. The one article on "The assessors' work" is well worth the subscription price for a year to any assessor or municipal clerk. The articles are written in a plain, lucid manner and being the opinions by a man thoroughly versed in municipal matters can be relied upon as being correct interpretations of the law.

We wish it distinctly understood that the election address and local matters of the two Conservative candidates in South Leeds in no way commits the Reporter or the editor in supporting either of the candidates. They are inserted the same as any other paid advertisement at so much per line. We are not in political sympathy with either of the candidates, preferring to vote every time for a straight party candidate and if we cast a vote it will be for the man who promises to vote if elected, in favour of closer trade relations with our American neighbors, as we firmly believe it is the only way of improving the financial condition of the country.

The Winnipeg Daily Tribune of the 16th inst. contains a reprint of our article on the death of "Mother Barnes" which appeared in the Reporter of two weeks ago. The publishing proprietor of the Tribune went to the trouble and expense of getting a reproduction of the electro used by us. They copy our article in its entirety for which they give us due credit.

The Kingston Whig of last week also copied our article, using the cut which we loaned them for the purpose. Next week the Whig will have a portrait of "Our Dunsie" the popular ex-Mayor of Brockville and the people's candidate for M.P. for the Brockville Riding.

To vote for Turner must make a change for the better.

Iroquois is deeply saddened by the death of its mayor, William Brown, long a useful public man.

The prize of $100, offered by "The Homes," a Brockville periodical, in the recent typographical contest, was won by Mr. J. F. Owen, of Kingston.

The K. & P. car woollen at Kingston received an order last week that will keep them busy for six months. One hundred new cars will have to be taken on.

It is stated upon good authority that Operator Lashley, who made the fatal mistake which caused the fatal collisions at Ballantyne, will return and attend his trial.

Two business men fugitives from Canada, one from Belleville, the other from a village near Kingston, are at Cape Vincent and are desirous of settling with their creditors.

There is more newspaper talk about the projected Kingston and Smith's Falls railway. Contractors, there, it is said, hardly gone over the proposed route with a view of tendering for the work.

An eminent surgeon says that with four cents and a few scratches he can either a man's there so that his mother would not know him. That nothing. Our daily newspapers do that much with only one cent.

Mr. Hooper, a Smith's Falls barber, was seized with a desire to succeed. He could not, and was driven into hysterics. He had to be carried to bed and a doctor summoned. The doctor says it is the strangest case he ever witnessed.

Some thief entered the drive house of Mr. Simon Knowlton, near Chantry, on Saturday night last, and stole a set of single harness and a buffalo robe. It will be seen by advt. in another column that Mr. Knowlton offers $10 reward for the recovery of his property and conviction of the thief.

The Sons of Temperance, Phillipsville have been holding Penny Readings during the winter, the last one held on Saturday evening last netted the managers $9.60. The proceeds are to be devoted towards purchasing an organ for the Lodge. They intend having a grand exhibition in about three weeks, of which notice will be given in the Reporter.

Pupils are reminded that in future there will be but one entrance examination in the year, which will be held in July. Pupils therefore who are desirous of entering the High Schools to pursue a more advanced course, and those especially to whom time is an important consideration, should see to it that they are well prepared for the mid-summer examination, as failure then would prevent them from entering for a whole year.

Under the municipal amendments of last session of Ontario legislature salaries of clergymen and parsonages are liable hereafter to assessment for taxation. A business tax may be imposed by municipalities. Church and college lands are to be taxed, but for local improvements only. Municipality can assess the toll roads and toll houses within its confines, also all its quarries and other properties as real estate. These and other changes make a study of the law necessary.

The last issue of the Ontario Gazette contains a notice of application for a charter for the Gananoque Milling and Manufacturing Co. The company is to be located in the village of Newboro, and will have a capital stock of $50,000. The applicants for the charter are: John N. Knowlton, of Newboro; George I. Mallory and Robert G. Harvey, of Brockville; James H. Knowlton, of Portlockville, and James T. Gallagher, of Newboro, and they will be the first directors of the company.

On Friday Mr. and Mrs. Quinn, of Bedford, had occasion to go to Westport, to transact business, leaving their premises in charge of a young man. By some mistake Mr. Quinn left on the table a bottle containing strychnine, which he kept in the house for poisoning foxes. Their little boy, three years old, noticing the bottle on the table, and thinking it contained sugar, took out some of the deadly drug and spread it on a piece of bread which he ate. In about an hour the child was a corpse.

Billy Lemmon, well known about Gananoque, lost an arm last Saturday by a painful accident. It appears that he has been working at Kingston lately, but gave up, or lost, his job through his usual unsteady habits. Last Saturday he hired with Mr. Coon of Elgin, and started with him for home on a load of merchandise, among which were three barrels of coal oil. When near Kingston Mills the load upset, throwing Billy to the ground, where one of his arms rested on a stone, and a barrel of oil fell on top of him, crushing his arm against the stone in such a way as to force the bone out through the flesh, and near the muscles. He was taken back to Kingston and placed in the hospital, where the doctors found it necessary to take the arm off near the shoulder. We are not informed as to which arm he lost.

Messrs. C. C. Richards & Co.

Dear Sirs,—I took a severe cold in February last which settled in my back and kidneys, causing excruciating pain. After being without sleep four nights through intense suffering, I tried your MINARD'S LINIMENT. After the first application I was so much relieved that I fell into a deep sleep and complete recovery shortly followed.

Benjamin Bolt was given permission to do his Statute Labor on the road leading to his mills.

A by-law was passed changing Part of the Rear Part of Lot 11 in the 6th con from School Section No. 1 to Section No. 16.

On motion the Auditors report was received and adopted.

The petition of Holmes Clow and 19 others was laid over until next meeting of the council.

RICHARD H. CORNELL,

W. C. T. U. NOTES.

The W. C. T. U. will meet at Mrs. Fisher's on the afternoon of Wednesday, Feb. 25th.

The King of Siam has issued a decree prohibiting the liquor traffic in his dominions.

Sixty per cent. of the students attending the Toronto Medical College are pledged total abstainers.

In New York last year 12,432 wives procured divorces from their husbands on the ground of drunkenness.

A foreign exchange states that the next official bulletin of the Congo Free State will contain a decree prohibiting the importation or sale of distilled alcoholic liquors in that region where the use of these liquors has not been established.

Kansas is a Prohibition state. She has but one penitentiary with 268 prisoners. Texas, on the other hand, has no prohibitory law, and while having 100,000 less people than Kansas, has two penitentiaries containing 2,000 inmates.

The last decade of 1800 can be confidently expected to put upon the Statute Book of every State the Scientific Temperance Instruction Laws, already secured by the W. C. T. U. in all the Territories and in every State but ten. This will provide for the twelve millions of children in our land, of foreign as well as of native parentage, schools in which they will learn a "Thus saith Reason, thus saith Nature, thus saith chemistry, physiology and hygiene," in favor of total abstinence from alcohol, tobacco and all other narcotics. Besides this, the movement began at the recent National Convention of the W. C. T. U. in Atlantic, Ga., for laws in all the States and Territories requiring that physical training be introduced into the public schools, may be expected to prevail throughout the nation within the next decade. Thus will be of immense significance to the temperance reform, because the whole trend of physical culture is towards wholesomeness of habits and purity of personal life. It is probable that the Sunday School workers, who have taken a long progressive step this year by the explicit setting apart of two Sundays for temperance lessons and two for temperance or missionary lessons, will, before 1900, agree to the explicit quarterly temperance lessons so long petitioned for by White Ribboners, and will associate women with men in selecting the International Sunday school lessons. The National Temperance Hospital, Chicago, now an assured success, will be commodiously housed, and its pure light, on the question of non-alcoholic medication will shine out with the clearness of a demonstration before 1900. The Woman's Temperance Publication House, Chicago, that now employs 150 hands and prints 1225 million pages per year, will have 5000 helpers and print five times as many pages annually within ten years. The World's W. C. T. U., now organized in more than thirty countries, will be as thoroughly disenthralled in every civilized land as the Sunday-school is now. Expositions and fairs in English-speaking lands, at least will decline to exhibit the products of the distillery and brewery, and Sunday closing within their borders will be universal. Schools of methods, in which the most systematic way of building the temperance reform are taught by specialists, will be a feature of all summer camps, where the Chautauqua or Sunday-school idea is mesmerized, and well appointed central schools will be founded in Chicago, in Asheville, N. C., where we already own twenty acres given for that purpose, and at other strategic points.

Laws for the protection of women and making the age of protection to eighteen years (as is now the case in Kansas and Colorado, through W. C. T. U. efforts), will be well-nigh universal in America, and White Cross teaching will be individually given in our public schools.

Intoxicating wine will be banished from all communion tables except those of Episcopalian and Catholic.

Loyal Temperance Legions of Children will be organized in every village town and city. (This year our Superintendent in this department received reports from every State and Territory, except Alaska and Alabama.)

The Press will change its tone towards the great movement and come in "on the home stretch" with the home people's reform. The out-door Gospel will win its widening way, cottage meetings will become well-nigh universal; the Monday Christ will be as well known as the Sunday. Christianity in action, the sermon on the Mount as an applied force will draw the wage worker back to the Church in large measure, and "the women who publish the tidings will be a great host." Philanthropy and politics will tend toward becoming one great throne. These last men and women called "the common people" will converge upon many points in general and the alcohol monopoly in particular; there will be a re-crystalizing of parties in which the veterans of prohibition will coalesce with the farmers and the labor organizations; National Prohibition will be the most vital among living issues; national constituents will divorce the Government from any relation with the rum power that shall yield revenue to the one or protection to the other, as the outcome (or as the income) of all this, the ballot, with an educational test, will sift out the best that remains of the present non-voting power in America, and under this new law the colored man shall have his counted and all women become integral factors in all departments of our Government.

May these things be in twenty years, if not in ten.

During his sermon on Sunday evening on "Death," Rev. Mr. Blair, of Smith's Falls, said he did not believe in crape as an emblem of mourning and he would have none of it about him if every relative he had were to die.

In the month of December last the Canadian Pacific Railway had twenty five thousand men on their pay rolls for a mail of five thousand miles. The Grand Trunk Railway had twenty thousand men with three thousand five hundred miles of road.

Edward Blake has reasons which he deems good and sufficient for his retirement, but he has not chosen to make them public at the present time. It may be set down as utterly untrue, however, says the Globe, that he regards the policy of unconditional trade as unpatriotic or disloyal.
