THE LITTLE WOMAN

There's a dear little woman that I know well.
The pages of history her name don't tell.
But 'tis written, I'm sure, in the book above.
For this dear little woman's the essence of love.
She not very great, as the word now goes.
Just her plain little self in her rustic clothes.
With her grey hair, smoothed so trim and neat.
This dear little woman, so true and sweet.

In times of sorrow she's always near, not with commonplace words of cheer, But her kind brown eyes run o'er with tears.
As she softly whispers, "Never mind, my dear."

Where sickness goes, she too, is there,
With her tender word, and her kind care.
And burdens by her are minimized.
She's a saint that has never been can-onized.

Oh, were I heart-broken o'er loved or lost,
Or driven by waves of care and tossed, I'd rather have this little woman, kind,
With her sweet little whispers, "never mind."

Than all your great and grand D. D.'s Or bishops, or cardinals, if you please.
For love hath a balm for troubles and cures.
And sympathy's, sometimes better than prayers.

And I think when the day of reckoning comes,
And the great of the earth reach their final homes,
Just above them, o'er a glorious line,
You will see this dear little woman of mine.

A. C. HENRY.

dinary use and, as a consequence, pushed among the farmers around Pain Court and their protests will take a definite form shortly.

LOOKING FOR A PRINCIPAL

Chairman Wilson of the school board states that immediate steps will be taken by the board to make arrangements for the fall term. Owing to the action of the department, Mr.
Smith's retention couldn't be considered. The board were obliged to act at once, and the matter would be considered fully at the meeting Wednesday night. There are quite a number of applications for the model school assistantship, and the vacancy caused by the leave of absence granted Miss Thomson. Amongst the applicants was for the model school assistantship, and it was possible that he would get it.

BEAUTIFUL SUMMER RESORTS.

M. C. Dickson, district passenger agent of the G. T. R., has just issued four handsome new folders descriptive of the summer resorts of Ontario, access to which may be gained by the G. T. R. lines. Each of the folders is profusely illustrated in half-tone colored engravings, gives this, with the reading matter information as to the beauties of the Highlands of Ontario. One of the pamphlets deals with the Kawarth Lakes and the Georgian Bay, and the fourth with the Muskoka lakes.

ests of the Caledonian Games to be held here on August the 13th. The or six dancers from there have been secured. Yesterday the registrar was busy, with Chairman Fleming, of the putting up the lights. String are being put up with reflectors will be placed in front of the grandstand and lights grounds so as to make the pleasant for promenaders.

FIFTY YEARS TRAINING YOUNG MEN AND WOMEN.

The present year marks the fiftieth anniversary of the Detroit Business University. Half a century's experience in educating and training young men and women for a practical business career, as has this institution, is a proud record. Its graduates are leading merchants, manufacturers, bank cashiers, lawyers, men in places of honor and public trust—young and middle-aged women filling most responsible and honorable positions, independent and self-respecting. More desirable positions have been secured for its graduates than by all other business colleges in Michigan. No institution and city in the country offers such facilities for the student as the Detroit Business University and Detroit. If you are interested in securing for yourself or others a thoroughly practical business education, it will pay you to acquaint yourself with the superior advantages offered by the institution that has led all of its kind for a half century.

AFTER DELINQUENTS.

Tax Collector Rennie Will Start Out About the Middle of August.

Speaking about the Johnston case and its bearing upon the difficulty experienced in the collection of taxes, City Tax Collector Rennie says that the most uninviting feature of his occupation is the collection of back taxes.
"Every year," said Mr. Rennie, "I am obliged to issue hundreds of warrants against delinquent taxpayers, and it is a curious fact that a large number of the tardy ones will not pay until the bailiff appears on their premises. This year, however, I am going to get after those who still owe their 1899 taxes, about the middle of August, and I will make things hot for all those who show a disposition to be backward in the payment of obligations to the city."

Mr. Rennie does not expect to receive the assessment rolls for 1900 until another month has passed, when the collection of this year's taxes will be immediately begun.

Onions Good for Sleeplessness.

One of the best and simplest cures for insomnia is said to be the onion.
The onion should be mashed to a pulp in order to free all the juice.
This substance for ten minutes after retiring. It is said to quiet the most nervous person and relax the most overwrought nerves.

Onions contain a form of oilum.
This gives them a soporific quality.
The smell after a little while ceases to be offensive. People who are exceedingly sensitive to odor will feel no unpleasant effects. It will not induce headaches or nausea as might be supposed. A gentle lethargy steals over the person who uses enough to try the means of soothing slumber. The senses become dull, the nerves weakened and restful sleep follows.

The medical properties of onions are well known. One eaten raw every night just before retiring for a month in the spring, fresh complexion.
An onion plaster will relieve hoarseness and inflammation. Raw onions mashed and applied as a poultice to the throat will relieve sore throat.
The same poultice on the chest is effective in cases of bronchitis and where there is soreness in the lungs. At past onions enthusiasts claim that all these things are true.

Salutes.

Originally, a town or a warship fired off its guns on the approach of a friendly stranger, to show that they had such faith in the visitor's peaceful intentions that they didn't think it necessary to keep their guns loaded.

Why Not Home Made Ice?

If the courts fail, science may be dependent upon to knock out the ice trust. says a chemist in the Kansas City Star.
"I venture the prediction that the average well-to-do family will be making its own ice inside the next two years.
For a long time past a number of cleverest inventors in the country have been trying to devise a simple, compact ice machine, with a capacity of from 50 to 60 pounds a day, that can be operated by any domestic servant, and they have made sufficient progress to bring success clearly in view. It is an interesting fact that nearly all the remarkable improvements which have been made in large commercial machines during the last two or three years have suggested themselves in this tireless search for a practical household apparatus."

"When I say that success is in sight, I mean that all the most serious problems have been solved, and the difficulties that remain to be overcome are purely mechanical. As a matter of fact, four or five small machines are already in the market, but none of them quite obtain its power from an incandescent lamp socket, just like the ordinary electric fan. The cook will fill up the receptacle with water, make the connection and go about her business."

There is nothing Utopian about this little forecast. Private ice plants are already practical for very small commercial concerns—restaurants, confectioneries, etc.—and the household machine is one of the advances along the line of domestic economy to which we may look forward with absolute confidence.
By the way, one of the problems is being away at the problem is a New Orleans man and I was told lately that he had turned out a very successful working model. I have said nothing about liquid air, because that strange product has proven so tricky and intractable that it is risky to venture any predictions as to what may or may not be done with it. Another substance which has been exploited as the "refrigerant of the future" is a so called "freezing powder."

DR. PIERCE'S GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY

"I have been thinking of writing to you for some time," writes Mrs. W. D.
Benson, of Maxton, Robeson Co., N. C., "to let you know what a wonderful thing
Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has done for my little boy. He was taken with indigestion when he was a year and a half old, and he was under the doctor's treatment for five long years.
We spent all we made for doctor's bills, and it did no good. He could not eat anything but a little milk and cracker, and sometimes even this would make him sick, and he got very weak; could not sit up all day, and I gave up all hope of his ever getting any better. Looking over one of your books I noticed Dr.
Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery recommended for indigestion. We bought some and gave to our boy. Two bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cured him. He is well as can be, and can eat anything that he wants and it does not hurt him. He has not been sick a day since, and it has been three years since he took your medicine. I pray that God will always bless you and your medicine."

FOR DISEASES OF THE STOMACH, BLOOD, NERVES AND LUNGS

At Last She Smiled and Spoke.
"Anything wrong?" asked the hotel clerk of the New York drummer who had just got home from the West.
"I was thinking," was the reply. "I rode from Toledo to Buffalo with the prettiest girl I ever saw."
"But that didn't hurt you. Who was she?"
"Can't tell."
"You didn't introduce yourself and get her card in return?"
"No."
"No particular trouble, eh?" solicitously insisted the clerk.
"Well, it was this way," replied the traveler, as he traced up for the explanation. "She sat opposite me, you know, and I tried for an hour to catch her eye. She simply ignored me and gazed out of the window. Then I rose and handed her a magazine, but she declined with thanks. Ten minutes later I brought the latest novel out, but she said she didn't care to read. Then I bought some fruit, but she would accept none. She also ignored me when I tried to draw her out on music."

"But you persisted?"
"Oh, yes. That is, I was about to make another attempt to enter into conversation when the train came to a halt at a town, and the girl beckoned me over. I was there in an instant and with the sweetest smile you ever saw she asked me if I could do her a slight favor."

"With all my heart," I hastened to say.
"Well, she said, smiling more sweetly, 'suppose you leave the train here and take the next one that follows, for you have made me dead tired, and I feel like taking a nap.'
"Good gracious," whispered the clerk.
"Yes, sir," said the drummer, as he reached for a cigar, "and I want to go up to my room and sit and think and try and figure it out. Perhaps it's time I left the road and settled down at home."
