knew his figures. However, at that night's Council neeting a proposition was put in by Mr. Moir, of Harwich, to put down two wells for $350. This was rushed through in spite of the dissent of Aldermen Scane and McCoig, who want-ed the Council to put the matter off for a couple of weeks and advertise for tenders in the usual way, but it carried and Moir did the job. I think there is a by-law requiring the Council to advertise and let by accepted tender, any job costing over

Chatham, Ont., July 12, 1901.

Gentlemen.—At your request you will note that I have cut the pay sheet nearly in two. The reason I have confer for the pay sheet being up st week was the fact that the work was absolutely absolutely necessary. The work that I have been doing is simply undoing the work that has been done hereto-fore and making the catch basins that were placed of some benefit to the road bed. The intention of placing the surface of the gutters at a proper grade to the catch basin will eventually speak for itself, as catch basins without properly graded gut-ters are entirely useless to either the streets or the gutter and as you are aware that filling new earth and drawing it at a distance that we have I think there is a by-law requiring the Council to advertise and let by accepted tender, any job costing over $25.

I think it was very unfair to the Chatham well diggers that an outsider should get a job over their heads, without even giving our tax-payers a chance to compete. These wells are intended for drinking purposes and should have been driven wells. They are put down with regular iron artesian casing and there is every chance for surface water to get back to the bottom and inside the casing, as there must be a space between the piping and the earth. This style of well would have been all right for cattle or anywhere else but the foundation of a permanent completion of proper streets in Chatham. The work this week has been principally composed of renewing and correcting old work. We have finished grading School street; cut the curb on Richmond and have finished 14 approaches on Richmond and nine on Harvey. Have filled to a proper grade Raieigh street from C. P.J. R. to Harvey street, also filled holes on Raleigh between Cross and Wellington between Forsythe and Thiring at the distance that we have to, is expensive and if noti done mow will certainly at a distance that we have to, is expensive and if noti done mow will certainly at a distance that we have to, is expensive and if noti done mow will certainly at a distance that we have to, is expensive and if noti done mow will certainly at a distance that we have to, is expensive and if noti done mow will certainly at a distance that we have to, is expensive and if noti done mow will certainly at a distance that we have to, is expensive and if noti done mow will certainly at a distance that we have to, is expensive and if noti done mow will certainly at a distance that we have to, is expensive and if noti done mow will certainly at some future period have to be done, and in placing in the tot the foundation of a permanent completion of proper streets in Chatham. The work this week has been my object to make it the foundation of a permanent completion of p hollows on Wellington between For-sythe and Third street, and have haul-ed earth to filled ditch on Park street. This street, I might state, will be a proper state of completion in the course of about one week. ted suicide this afternoon by jumping from the third-story window of a boarding house in South Division street. McMillan struck the pavement head foremost and was instantity killed. His body was removed to the morgue, where it will be held until claimed by his relatives. McMillan arrived in Buffalo from Cleveland on Thursday and took a room at 44 South Division street. He was accompanied by another young man about his own age. His companion said that he and McMillan retired last night about 10 o'clock. He was awakened early this morning by a loud scream. McMillan was stending before the open window, looking down into the street. Suddenly McMillan jumped upon the window sill and leaped forward into the street.

Hornellsville, N. Y., July 12 .- Col. Forester, 70 years old, a former Brit-ish army officer, committed suicide here to-day. Forester, who has lived in the sanitarium at Steuben for the last year, walked into the police station here to-day, and drawing a revolver from his pocket, placed the muzzle in his mouth and fired. He died almost instantly. Col. Forester commanded troops in the British army during the Chinese rebellion of 1866. He was a personal friend of Li Hung Chang and of "Chinese" Gordon.

KENT AND ESSEX ORANGEMEN CELEBRATE AT LEAMINGTON

Largely Attended Demonstration for the Glorious Twelfth-Big Procession and Patriotic Speeches.

The Orangemen of Kent and Essex march did not take part in the held their annual Twelfth of July celebration at Leamington yesterday. A large crowd from Chatham attended, leaving Chatham on the special, which arrived in Chatham from Wallaceburg and Dresden at 9 o'clock. A more favorable place than Leamington for the celebration could not

At half-past one o'closk a procession was formed and, after marching through nearly every street in Leamington, rounded up at the Fair grounds, where they were dismissed. Marshall Thompson, of Windsor, the County Master of the lodge, William Weir, of Windsor, Master of Ceremonies, and James Logan, of Mersea, Assistant Master of Ceremonies, headed the procession, mounted on horses. Directly behind them came the Young Britons of North and South Kent, and after them the different lodges headed by their fife and drum bands. The lodges that took part in the parade were those from Essex, Detroit, Wabash, Dresden Dawn Centre, Leamington, Chatham, Tupperville, Walpole, Ridgetown Blenheim, Northwood, Staples, Imererson, Comber, Eighth Concession Mersea, Stragfield, Renwick, Wheatley, Tilbury, Cottam, North Ridge, Shuel's Lodge, Essex town, Windsor, Detroit, Pelee Island, Walkerville, Fargo, Thamesville, Bothwell, Mora-viantown, Dover, Glenwood, Chatham and Camden.

The ladies' lodge from Chatham was present, but owing to the very long left Leamington at seven o'clock. The parade were from Leamington, Chat-ham, Tupperville, Essex, Detroit, Wa-bash and Dresden. A large number of the lodges were also accompanied by fife and drum bands.

The procession, which was formed at ington for the celebration could not have been chosen. The principal streets were decorated with arches, flags and evergreens in honor of the visiting brethren. The hotel accommodation was everything that could be expected on such an occasion and everything passed off smoothly and in good style.

There was a good turnout from the Maple City. The 24th Regimental Band, in City Band uniform, was in attendance and furnished excellent music. It was quite evident that they were the favorite hand in the procession.

At half-past one o'closk a procession was formed and, after marching the speech. It was some of the procession of about 1,000 Orangemen and extended over a mile in length. The line of march was from McGaw north to Taibot street, was to Marlboro street, east to Eric street, and thence to the Agricultural grounds. Here the lodges gathered round a platform which had been erected for the occasion, and distenced attentively to the speeches.
