HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Peel and core two and a half pounds of apples, chop one pound of onions very finely, and one pound of stewed raisins. Boil all together with two quarts of best vinegar for two hours. then add a quarter of a pound of powdered ginger, one pound of coarse sugar, two teaspoonfuls of cayenne pepper, quarter of a pound of salt, one pound and a half of mustard seed. Mix the ingredients well together, and the chutney is fit for use at once. Take the smallest onions that can be got. They must be quite ripe and dry. Be careful not to use a steel knife in peeling them, or their color will be spoiled. Take off the two outer skins with a silver knife. Put the onions as fast as they are ready into perfectly dry jars, and cover them with cold vinegar and two spoonfuls of all-spice and two spoonfuls of pep-per to each quart of vinegar. Tie them down closely. In a few week? they will be ready.

Prick three pounds of small tomatoes with a sliver fork and lay in a deep preserving pan, sprinkling salt over each layer, cover closely and allow them to stand for three days. Then strain the juice and add one quart of vinegar and a quarter of an ounce each of powdered sugar, mustard seed, cloves and white pepper and half a teaspoonful of ground mace. Boil all these ingredients together in an enamelled vessel, pour over the tomatoes, and when cold put in widemouthed jars. In about ten days the pickle will be ready for use.

Mush room Sauce

Place one tablespoonful of butter in a saucepan and when it is brown add one tablespoonful of flour. Add salt, pepper and one and one-half cups of stock. Cook five minutes, stirring constantly, then add one-half cup of fresh mushrooms, but in small pieces. Allow the mushrooms to cook until well heated, take them from the fire and stir in the yolk of one egg and a teaspoonful of butter. When the egg is set add a sprig of chopped parsley and serve.

The latest idea in the sofa-pillow craze is intended for a bride, and will be sure to occupy a prominent position on the hall seat of her new home. It is made of bits of ribbons, and silk left from the trousseau. The smallest pieces may be used and a very rich effect produced. It should be made on the old-fashioned patchwork pattern of our grandmother's.

Dispose of Your Garbage at Home. No more gathered garbage standing round, no more flies, no more waiting the janitor's pleasure. Charles R. Harris, of Williamsport, Pa., has invented a clever device for disposing of refuse at once and without odor. It takes the place of a link of pipe, and while it does not obstruct the passage of the smoke, yet there is sufficient heat passing up the pipe to carbonize the solid garbage placed therein. The hopper is readily opened to deposit the waste, and when closed the odors pass up the chimney with the smoke. Whatever remains after the carbonizing process is readily emptied into the firebox, the hopper tilting downward for that purpose.

Ventilating the Hair.

'A woman who will make a habit of brushing and combing the hair at night and vigorously rubbing the scalp, rubbing till the blood tingles, may be sure, if she inaugurates this habit before her hair has begun to fall, that her hair will keep its color and useful quality. Even falling hair will often be brought back to vigor by such treatment.

A good deal is said in favor of brushing the hair. Brushing cleans the hair itself, but it does not invigorate the scalp as does combing, and neither is half so good as vigorous rubbing. When one begins she will find it takes a lot of rubbing to make the head tingle, but in a few weeks the first rub will start the blood. That tells its own story, for where the circulation is sluggish there deterioration of vitality has begun. Where the blood runs freely, there life renews ttself. It is good to let the hair hang toosely at night, especially if one sleeps in a room in which outside air circulates freely. The roots need air. Twice a week braid the hair into little braids all over the head. Hair thus treated will keep a glossy look, yet not hang together, and it will turn back prettily in a pompadour with better effect than as if the curling irons are used. Besides, curling irons are ruinous to the health of the hair

Sauce Hollandaise. Mix one tablespoonful each of butter and flour in a saucepan; add grad-ually half a pint of soiling water. Stir, until it just reaches the boiling point; eggs. In another saucepan put a of onion, a bay leaf and a clove sarlie; add four tablespoonfuls of vinegar and stand over the fire until the vinegar is reduced one-half. Turn this into the sauce, stir for a mo-nent; strain through a fine sieve.

THINGS CHINESE. Many Chinese temples have windows made from mother-of-pearl, found in oyster shells. The material is transparent and looks like opal glass. The best quality of Chinese tea is very expensive and so little of it is grown that there is never any of it to export. The Chinaman knows good tea and keeps it all for his own consumption. The Chinese think they occupy the middle of the earth, and that all other nations are merely dwelling on the edges. Their most respectful term to designate a foreigner is "the ocean

Millions have been spent in civilized countries in futile efforts to preserve grapes. The Chinese have known the secret for many centuries, and millions more have been vainly used in the effort to drag from them the recipe.

In northern China hot-water peddlers go about with a whistling kettle -the whistle announcing that the water is at a boiling point. When they hear the whistle the people run with their teapots and buy enough hot water for their day's tea.

A celebrated Chinese dancing master, Hung Foo-Choo, announces in a Chinese paper that he is to hold a roligious service, to which he invites everybody, in honor of the 1000th anniversary of the death of his ancestor, who was the first of the family to take up the profession.

A curious industry in some of the provinces in China is the manufacture of mock money for offering to the dead. The pieces are only half the size of the real coins, but the dead are supposed not to know the difference. The dummy coins are made out of tin, hammered to the thinness of paper, and stamped out to the size required.
