Insurance

Has Many Angles

The ordinary insurance buyer does not dream of the many things that an insurance agent has to think of when writing a policy. It takes real knowledge of insurance and close attention to a policyholder's needs to do the job right. Your case is different from the next fellow's. Insurance writing isn't a cut-and-dried proposition. Policies should be fitted to conditions and personal needs.

We go about the task with a proper realization of its importance. Talk with us.

MORGAN NOT ALWAYS HARD

Great Financier Proved He Had Kindly Heart as Well as a Keen Business Mind.

There is no better test of a man's bigness than his way of handling subordinates who make mistakes.
J. Pierpont Morgan, the elder, had a clerk who, living beyond his means, sought to make up the balance through speculation; and, having failed, helped himself to the firm's money.
The culprit was called into Mr. Morgan's private office.
He expected arrest. Instead he was told to go home and tell his wife all about it. "And, tomorrow morning," said Mr. Morgan, "see me again."
The clerk obeyed, and Mr. Morgan, to the young fellow's amazement, handed him in bills the full amount of his peculation—$5,400—with "Put that back where you took the other from. It is a loan from me, and I expect you to return it as soon as you can. None of the other clerks know anything about it. Let me see if you can't be a man."
After many months the youngster, restored to Mr. Morgan the last dollar of the debt.
After counting the pile of bills on his desk, to which he had added those just given him, Mr. Morgan observed:
"Well, my boy, it was a bit harder paying it than losing it. I'll warrant now take it home and give it to your wife. It's a safe bet that she saved most of it."—Boston Post.

RECALLED FOND MEMORIES

A director, who has a reputation for being rather harsh and overbearing in his methods, was giving his leading man a tongue lashing that fairly turned the atmosphere blue.
Through it all, however, the victim leaned gracefully against the wall and smiled happily.

"What the deuce are you grinning about?" barked the director. "Do you like to be cursed?"
"Why, yes, I rather enjoy it," chuckled the actor. "It recalls the good old days, you know, when I played Uncle Tom and was beaten to death every night by Simon Is-gree."—Film Fun.

Modest

First Manager—I'm fed up with these movie stars. Young Cecil Legrand is just the limit.

Second Manager—What's the matter now?
First Manager—He wants me to put on a play he's written in which he's featured as a heavyweight champion in the first part and a winning jockey in the second.—Film Fun.

Strange—Passing—Stranger!

The city visitor was consulting the oldest inhabitant. "How many people in this town now?" he asked.

"Twenty-five, sir."

"How many did you have last year?"

"Twenty-five, sir."

"That's strange. Aren't there any babies ever born in this town?"

"Yes, sir. But most every time a baby is born, somebody leaves town."

TWELVE BUG POWER.

Fapa Spider—Hey son, run out and catch a few more fireflies, the light is getting low.

Advice.
Here, young man, is a simple plan,
Go to it;
If it is un-American,
Don't do it!

Sympathy.

"See that man going into the office building?" the chauffeur inquired as he casually prepared to move his car from the curb. "I feel sorry for him sometimes—he has to work so darned hard."
"You mean in order to make his living?" the footman, in response, asked lily.

"No," the chauffeur replied as he gently let in the clutch, "to make mine."

Tragic.

He (during quarrel)—Then why did you marry me?

"She—Just to get even with that hateful Maud Brown and to make her cry her eyes out because I took you away from her."

He—Good heavens, woman, what have you done? Why, I married you just because she threw me over.

Good Advice.

"This up-club-spaghetti is awful —just a slippery staff!" complained a customer in the rapid-fire restaurant.

"Aw, don't try to eat it with your knife!" briskly said Heloise, the waitress. "Ketch it by the tail and reel it in."—Country Gentleman.

Of Course Not!

Staff Officer (benevolently to little girl)—And what is your name, my dear?

Modern "Little Dear"—D'you know you shouldn't speak to a lady without being introduced.

The Universe and Us.

First Star—They think they know how big we are.

Second Star—Well, that's nothing; we think we know how small they are.

A PERTINENT QUESTION.

Monk—Say, old chap, what are you behind the bars for?

In Botany.

"Of what are you afraid, my child?"

Inquired the kindly teacher.

"Oh, sir, the flowers! They are wild!"

Replied the timid creature.

All Sermons.

"I notice they're on very peaceful terms with their next-door neighbors."

"Yes; the two families don't speak to each other."—New York Sun.

His Views.

"Can the ouija board read the future?"

"Well, I don't know. Sometimes I think the future is a blank page."

His Mistake.

Tom—I tried to open my heart to her, but she stopped me coldly.

Ned—No wonder; she's an anti-vi-sionist.—Boston Transcript.

Wash Day and Backache

WASH day is the least welcome day of the week in most homes, though sweeping day is not much better. Both days are most trying on the back.

The strain of washing, ironing and sweeping frequently deranges the kidneys. The system is poisoned and backaches, rheumatism, pains in the limbs result.

Kidney action must be aroused—the liver awakened to action and the bowels regulated by such treatment as Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.
This favorite prescription of the well-known Receipt Book author will not fail you in the hour of need.

One pill a dose, 35c a box at all dealers
