

DEFENDER WON SECOND RACE

Massachusetts Took Second Place in Struggle for Seawanhauk Cup

Manchester, Mass., July 25.—The defender Massachusetts won the second race of the series for the Seawanhauk Corinthian challenge cup, defeating the Canadian St. Lawrence, by 3 minutes, 23 seconds, over a course two miles to windward and return, repeated three times, twelve miles in all. So decisive was the defender's victory that some of the Canadian party have made arrangements to go home after today's race. The race yesterday was sailed in a light southwest breeze and not only did the defender prove herself to be the better boat, but the Yankees gave the Canadians a lesson in sail handling and seamanship. In each beat to windward the St. Lawrence understood the mark, but the Massachusetts did not make any mistake. In the three windward legs the Massachusetts beat the St. Lawrence a total of seven minutes, one second. In the three runs down the wind the defender made a net gain of one minute, 27 seconds. The only leg that the St. Lawrence sailed the faster was the last leg of the race, when she carried a balloon flag against the Massachusetts' working. To add to the discomfiture of the visitors the challenger met with her third accident of the series when the bolt rope on the huff of the jib pulled out just after rounding the leeward mark the first time, and at least two minutes was lost in repairing damages.

Each grate bar has three sides—long wear

When only one side of a grate bar is concentrated on that one side. The life of the grate bar is thus naturally just one-third as long as when the wear is distributed on three sides. That explains why Sunshine grates have three lives. Each of the four grate bars has three sides. Each time the ashes are "rocked down" (no shaking with Sunshine) the side next to the fire can be changed. Thus the life of the grate is greatly prolonged.

When desired, the heavy bull dog teeth on the grate will seize hold of clinkers, grind them up, and drop the particles into the ash-pan. Buy the Sunshine—the durable, convenient, economical furnace, guaranteed by largest furnace makers in British Empire.
