LONDON, May 11.

The Governor, Newfoundland:

General French reports no change in the general situation. The enemy made five unsuccessful attacks east of Ypres on May 9th, losing very heavily.

The French Government report the gas north of Arras maintained and increased, with 3,000 prisoners, 10 guns and 50 machine guns taken. This afternoon further progress was reported. The village of Carency was invested by the French on three sides. Counter-attacks here and north of Neuville were repulsed with heavy loss.

The Russian Government report that the enemy succeeded in crossing the upper part of the Wisloka River in the region of Kroono, after desperate fighting.

A Zeppelin dropped bombs on Southend yesterday morning. One woman was killed. Some damage was done to property.

HARCOURT.

ST. PIERRE HULLEIN.

PARIS, via St. Pierre, May 11. In Belgium near St. George's, the enemy by a night attack tried to recapture the ground taken by us two days ago, but was repulsed. North of Arras our progress continues. Monday late in the afternoon we first captured the cemetery, then the east portion of Carency village, also the road from Carency to Souchez. Carency, where we have made 230 new prisoners, of whom three were officers, and have taken several machine guns, is invested by our troops on three fronts, and has but a precarious communication with the German lines. The reinforcements brought up by the Germans in automobiles from Lens and Douai failed everywhere in taking advantage of four strong counter-attacks, which were broken by our fire on Monday afternoon, sustaining very heavy losses, in front of Loos at Notre Dame de Lorein, at Souchez and at Neuville St. Vaast. On the latter point we have gained ground and making one hundred prisoners. The officers captured last night amounted to fifty.

During Monday and Tuesday night the enemy met with another failure. The counter-attacks north of Neuville, prepared by violent bombardment, were completely repulsed, and we have maintained totality of the ground gained, inflicting serious loss to the attackers. On the rest of the front, at Loos Arras, no counter-attack. After the bombardment of Dunkirk yesterday morning (30 shells, no victims, no damages) the Germans threw 11 shells on Bergues, killing 12 and wounding 11. Our batteries immediately opened fire, stopping the enemy's shooting, which he did not re-open during the day. On the rest of the front, nothing to report.

One of our aviators bombed a dirigible shed at Maubeuge, which took fire. An enemy's aviator threw, without any result, bombs on the railway station at Doullens. Another was pursued by a French aero between the Argonne and the Meuse and had to land in the German lines, where it was afterwards seen burning. The Germans succeeded in bringing down an English aviator. The British troops brought down two German aviators.

AUSTRIA ACCEPTS ITALY'S DEMANDS.

ROME, May 11.

Austria is reported to have accepted at the eleventh hour all the demands made by Italy, thus averting war between the two countries, at least for the present. It is known that an important message arrived from Vienna last night which was immediately taken to the Foreign Minister Sonnino by the Secretary of Prince Von Buelow, the German Ambassador, who has served as an intermediary in the Austro-Italian negotiations. Immediately after the call of the German Ambassador, a report was circulated that Austria had accepted all Italy's demands. This was semi-officially confirmed from German diplomatic circles. It has been stated that Austria has made concessions of a most important character.

FRENCH MAKE FURTHER GAINS.

PARIS, May 11.

In the face of several German counter-attacks, the French made a further gain to the north of Arras, where the Allies are striking against the Germans, over a 26 mile front, according to an official statement issued by the French War Office to-day. Another German air-raid has been launched against Dunkirk, killing 12 persons in one of the outer ring of forts defending Dunkirk at Bergues. Not only have the French pressed forward north of Arras, but they took a number of German prisoners, and were successful in checking German counter-assaults.

SIR EDWARD GREY QUESTIONED.

LONDON, May 11.

Sir Edward Grey was asked in the Commons to-day, by Alfred W. Yeo, Liberal, if there is any understanding between Britain and Japan regarding the spheres of influence for their respective development to work in China in respect to minerals and railways. The Foreign Secretary replied in the negative.

GERMAN AEROPLANE DROPS FIVE BOMBS.

PARIS, May 11.

A German aeroplane passed over St. Denis, a suburb of Paris, shortly after seven this morning, and dropped five bombs. One bomb fell through a roof apartment, occupied by Madame Bolleker, housed through a bed where her nine-year-old son, Andre, was sleeping, and then struck the floor, where it exploded. Fragments of the bomb slightly wounded the boy. Another missile exploding wounded men who were sleeping in a shed. Two other bombs damaged an apartment house.

SAILING CANCELLED.

LONDON, May 11.

The sailing of the Cunard Line steamer Mauretania, sister ship of the Lusitania, advertised for May 23, has been cancelled. Since the beginning of the war, the Mauretania has been employed by the Admiralty as an auxiliary cruiser. She was recently released to resume the passenger service.

GERMANY'S NEW ORDERS.

WASHINGTON, May 11.

Germany, through Ambassador Gerard, to-day notified that submarine commanders have been specifically instructed not to harm neutral vessels, not engaged in hostile acts, and that Germany would pay for damages to such ships in the war zone. Neutral ships, carrying contraband, will be dealt with, the announcement says, according to the rules of naval warfare. If neutral ships are accidentally damaged in the war zone, Germany will express its regret and pay damages without prize court proceedings. The German Government justifies its submarine warfare on the grounds that England is threatening to starve the civil population of Germany by prohibiting neutral commerce in food stuffs and other necessities. Previous communications from Germany disclaimed responsibility for any harm that might befall neutral vessels venturing to the war zones.

BELGIANS CROSS THE YSER.

HAVRE, May 11.

The following report, dated May 10th, was issued to-day from the Belgian Office: Several fractions of our troops succeeded in crossing the right bank of the Yser, north of Dixmude. The enemy continued an intermittent cannonade near Ramskapelle, and our front stretching before Dixmude, also on the outskirts of Noidichem and Pyregeal. Our batteries have each time suppressed the German artillery.

U. S. CABINET HOLD SESSION.

WASHINGTON, May 11.

The Cabinet was in session nearly three hours this afternoon, the longest meeting held for several months. None of the members would deny that the Lusitania incident had been discussed, but all refused to comment. Secretary Bryan declared, "We must not discuss what occurs at Cabinet meetings."

BRITISH WAR OFFICE COMMUNICATION.

LONDON, May 11.

The British War Office made public the following communication yesterday: This afternoon the Germans made another attack east of Ypres, in the neighbourhood of the Menin Road. Although they subjected our trenches to heavy bombardment, and made their infantry advance under the cover of poison gas, they were repulsed. During the attack shrapnel inflicted very heavy casualties on the enemy when they were in mass formation. Literally moving them down. To-day there have been artillery actions on the greater part of the fronts.

RECRUITING CONTINUING.

NEWCASTLE, May 11.

The boom in recruiting having made fusing over upon municipal staffs, a number of women to-day took the places of street car conductors, who have enlisted. At Ypres, women have been put to work as scavengers. This, however, is an experiment.

VISCOUNT BRYCE SPEAKS.

LONDON, May 11.

"International law has been within the last ten months more completely disregarded, cast down, and trampled under foot, than I think it ever was within the last four or five centuries," said Viscount Bryce, formerly British Ambassador at Washington, when presiding over a lecture on international law, here to-day. "Apart from cruelties to the innocent population of Belgium, which has been subjected to worse treatment than that which befell combatants," he continued, "ships not engaged in warlike operations have suddenly been sunk, and their crews drowned. The technical and legal descriptions of pirates was that they were enemies of the human race. They are everybody's enemies alike. They are the wild beasts of the sea, and a danger, not to one particular nation, but to all mankind. Neutrals will be just as much ultimately involved as are the nations at war." Viscount Bryce added that the German idea that they were terrifying the nations was another of the numerous mistakes Germans had made.

GERMAN FIRMS IN ENGLAND ATTACKED.

MANCHESTER, May 11.

A number of buildings in Manchester and Salford, occupied by German firms, were attacked by crowds to-day. Considerable damage was done. At other places workmen refused to

BIRTHDAY CELEBRATIONS CANCELLED.

LONDON, May 11.

By the King's command, all celebrations of his birthday at home and abroad, with the exception of flying of flags, will be dispensed with this year, owing to the war. The foregoing announcement was made public to-night by the British Official Press Bureau. King George was born on June 3rd, 1860.

IN THE DARDANELLES.

PARIS, May 11.

An official note concerning operations in the Dardanelles was issued to-night: On the morning of May 3, the Franco-British forces operating south of the Gallipoli Peninsula, delivered a general attack, supported by the guns of the Allied fleet, against Turkish positions, which already had been penetrated the day before. Our troops, with conspicuous spirit and courage, carried at the point of the bayonet, several lines of trenches on the heights in the neighbourhood of Krithia. On May 9th they consolidated, and fortified themselves on the ground conquered the previous day. The Turks have made no attempt to deliver any counter-attack.

"TOO PROUD TO FIGHT."

LONDON, May 11.

The words "Too proud to fight," cover in huge letters most of the placards, displayed in the streets of London, to-day, and in the advertising columns of the evening papers. The text of President Wilson's speech in Philadelphia last night, reached London late for general comment as yet. The Evening Standard, however, editorially remarks: "President Wilson's speech is a magnificent masterpiece. We can understand what he meant by this rather impolitic remark. Unfortunately, Germany does not understand this kind of righteousness. If America could only, as the President says, convince Germany of her injustice, she would, how disfigured and useful would be her position as a neutral."

AUSTRALIAN SUBMARINE SUNK.

LONDON, May 11.

The Admiralty to-night issued the following statement: A Turkish official communication, coming by way of Berlin and Amsterdam, says that the Australian submarine AE-2 has been sunk by Turkish warships while trying to enter the sea of Marmara, and that the crew of twenty-nine men were taken prisoners. No confirmation of this report, so far, has been received by the Admiralty.

The Big Deal.

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir:—Whether it is that the war is overshadowing the Big Deal that is now under discussion at the House, or that the people of the country are becoming more and more on such important matters I know not, but it is certainly true if we have any pluck left to arise and demand that the public be enlightened on the Deal, and how far-reaching it will be before any definite decision is reached. We have Mr. Kent's word for it that more information is necessary, for he says the members of the House are going along blindfolded as it were. We have a duty to perform in safeguarding the interests of future generations and no man with an ounce of manhood in his make up should shirk his duty at the present moment. I would suggest to Mr. Kent that if he cannot get the information he is looking for from the Premier and the Government, regarding this Deal that he call a public meeting and give the people an opportunity to back him up in his noble efforts to safeguard the interests of the people and their children yet to be.

Call the meeting, Mr. Kent, and we will gather in our thousands and soon we will have the whole country aroused. What is needed is a movement, and Mr. Kent is the man to start it. It will be too late when the wool is hauled over our eyes.

Yours sincerely,

ONE OF THE PEOPLE

Capt. Stevenson Returns.

PARIS, May 11.

By the express train, which reached the city yesterday afternoon there arrived Capt. L. Stevenson, who navigated to Archangel the S. S. Lintrose, which was purchased by the Russian Government. The Lintrose left St. John's, Feb. 1st, and made an excellent run across the Atlantic, though she had to steam through considerable ice. Off the Irish Coast the Lintrose was met one evening by a British Patrol boat, which escorted her to Cuckshaven where she anchored until the following morning when she put into Queenstown. Bunker crew could not be obtained there and the Lintrose proceeded to Ardrossan, Scotland. After replenishing supplies there the ship left for Alexandrovsk, a Russian seaport on the Dnieper, arriving there seven days later. There the ice-breaker was formally handed over to the Russian authorities. The Lintrose was at once supplied with Russian articles and a Russian captain and ten soldiers put on board for the purpose of blasting ice. On March 15th the ship started to forge her way through the ice to Archangel and on March 20th reached the bay, which is about thirty miles away from the port of Archangel. It was impossible to get any farther, as the ice was formed to a thickness of twenty feet. Communication with the land was effected over the ice with sleds. With the exception of Capt. Stevenson, Chief Engineer Mitchell and the Marconi operator, the Newfoundland crew remained on the ship assisting the Russians until April 9th and then, conveyed by sled, rail and water back to St. John's in 33 days. The Russian authorities are well pleased with the Lintrose and her work and are getting another ship built. An interesting sight was witnessed on March 3rd and 4th when two patches of ice were struck. The seals were of similar habits as the Newfoundland seal. The patches contained about 7,000 each.
