

Herring Fishery Booming.

We have received instructions from Messrs. J. Grundy & Co., Ltd., of Bridport, England, whom we represent, to reduce prices of HERRING NETS to present-day cost, which is considerably below last year's prices. We have a large stock of all sizes.

ALSO A STOCK OF

TWEEDS, SERGES and LININGS, OVERCOATINGS and GENERAL DRY GOODS,

AT THE VERY LATEST PRICE.

We expect a large shipment of MILL ENDS English Pound Tweeds about last of Sept., also other Pound Goods which will be interesting to the trade.

WHOLESALE ONLY.

GREAVES & SONS, Queen Street.

sep24.61

White Riders of the Night.

The Hooded Terror of the South.

Thousands of people in the United States are agitated by the actions of bands of white-robed night-riders.

It is this weird, mysterious society to which is attributed the outbreak of "tar and feathering" which is known as the "Ku-Klux-Klan."

Beniah Johnson, of Tennessee, and the Rev. Philip S. Irwin, of Florida, are the latest victims.

A band of men robed in white kid-gloves, and wearing masks, appeared before Mr. Johnson, and Mr. Irwin, and they were off in a similar way, and his was the same.

The eyes of this secret society, these individuals committed some crime against the organization's code, guiding principle of which is the supremacy of the white over the black, the upholding of a strict code of conduct laid down by themselves.

Strangest Secret Society.

Historical in all its actions, this organization has struck terror into the heart of every black-eyed-deer.

It is especially "hated" by the negroes for supremacy between black and white is waged the "K.K.K." is at hand, working quietly and unobtrusively, unseen and unheard, seldom does the society fall in its own of revenge.

Most brutal in their directness are the methods of the "Ku-Klux-Klan." The society was suppressed by law during the American Civil War, but was revived in 1865 and was later again suppressed by the same law.

It is for the "permanent and perpetual predominance of the white race in America," and all its efforts are directed to maintain white supremacy.

There is one other main object. The organization stands for the protection of the white man's honour and the sanctity of his home.

As a rule the Klan works by night, yet has the society been known to appear in broad daylight, and in the determination, it has gone on and until the object was achieved, the end has been death for the perpetrator.

In the defence of women against the menace, the society's members are amazingly quick and apparently knowing. One case dealt with by the Klan eagles' afforded an admirable illustration. A Negro boot-boy in an hotel had insulted a white woman, believing that his conduct would come to light. But retribution swift and sure.

Solemn, Determined Men.

Dead of night the boy was dragged from his bed by masked men. He was taken to the slopes of Stone Mountain and given five minutes in which to swear for ever any further communication with white women. When he heard the alternative—to be burnt alive—the terror-stricken Negro fell on his knees and swore the oath. Then, as mysteriously as they had come, the captors vanished.

Every Negro dreads the name of the "K.K.K." The merest whisper of it is enough to set him quaking. He knows that the watchword of the band is thoroughness.

Quite recently in a little southern town a single horseman appeared clad in the awe-inspiring dress of the Klan. From behind the mask came a sepulchral voice, which stated that within a few minutes "a band of solemn, determined men" would pass, and that nobody should follow them.

Then from the distance came a sound as of thunder, which grew louder and louder until there flashed before the astonished gaze of the assembled multitude, two hundred night-riders of the Klan, each man clad in the society's robes, masked, and heavily armed.

They passed under the arc lamps which flamed in the air. Immediately the lights went out, to be switched on again when the riders had disappeared. This was a great recognition of their power and authority.

Next day every Negro of ill repute had fled from the precincts of the city!

The only secret society of its type duly and officially recognized by the Government of America, the Klan was formed originally in 1865 and was later again suppressed by the same law.

It is for the "permanent and perpetual predominance of the white race in America," and all its efforts are directed to maintain white supremacy.

There is one other main object. The organization stands for the protection of the white man's honour and the sanctity of his home.

As a rule the Klan works by night, yet has the society been known to appear in broad daylight, and in the determination, it has gone on and until the object was achieved, the end has been death for the perpetrator.

In the defence of women against the menace, the society's members are amazingly quick and apparently knowing. One case dealt with by the Klan eagles' afforded an admirable illustration. A Negro boot-boy in an hotel had insulted a white woman, believing that his conduct would come to light. But retribution swift and sure.

Solemn, Determined Men.

Dead of night the boy was dragged from his bed by masked men. He was taken to the slopes of Stone Mountain and given five minutes in which to swear for ever any further communication with white women. When he heard the alternative—to be burnt alive—the terror-stricken Negro fell on his knees and swore the oath. Then, as mysteriously as they had come, the captors vanished.

Every Negro dreads the name of the "K.K.K." The merest whisper of it is enough to set him quaking. He knows that the watchword of the band is thoroughness.

Quite recently in a little southern town a single horseman appeared clad in the awe-inspiring dress of the Klan. From behind the mask came a sepulchral voice, which stated that within a few minutes "a band of solemn, determined men" would pass, and that nobody should follow them.

Then from the distance came a sound as of thunder, which grew louder and louder until there flashed before the astonished gaze of the assembled multitude, two hundred night-riders of the Klan, each man clad in the society's robes, masked, and heavily armed.

They passed under the arc lamps which flamed in the air. Immediately the lights went out, to be switched on again when the riders had disappeared. This was a great recognition of their power and authority.

Next day every Negro of ill repute had fled from the precincts of the city!

The only secret society of its type duly and officially recognized by the Government of America, the Klan was formed originally in 1865 and was later again suppressed by the same law.

It is for the "permanent and perpetual predominance of the white race in America," and all its efforts are directed to maintain white supremacy.

There is one other main object. The organization stands for the protection of the white man's honour and the sanctity of his home.

As a rule the Klan works by night, yet has the society been known to appear in broad daylight, and in the determination, it has gone on and until the object was achieved, the end has been death for the perpetrator.

In the defence of women against the menace, the society's members are amazingly quick and apparently knowing. One case dealt with by the Klan eagles' afforded an admirable illustration. A Negro boot-boy in an hotel had insulted a white woman, believing that his conduct would come to light. But retribution swift and sure.

Solemn, Determined Men.

directed" upon the Negroes in their night ride.

It is only fair to the society to say, in the words of Colonel Simmons, that it repudiates these slanders. What Colonel Simmons calls foes of the South and enemies of the Southern people were responsible for these accusations, and he goes on to declare that "instead of being murderers and outcasts, the members were men of the highest type, and were working to safeguard life and property."

The ending hand of many lynchings has been attributed to the Klan, yet the society repudiates anything that is against law and order. But where the law is considered slow or inefficient, the Klan does not fear to step in.

An instance was provided recently when a Negro along with others, killed a policeman in a raid on a gambling saloon in Arkansas. Along with the other Negroes concerned in the crime the man was lodged in the local jail. Then, suddenly, some three hundred men appeared as if from nowhere. Very politely they asked the jailer for the keys, and equally politely the latter, possibly himself a member of the Klan, first requested the band to "allow the law to take its own course."

Then he handed over the keys.

The Imperial Wizard.

Without a moment's hesitation the leaders of the band proceeded to the cells, unlocked the doors, and, deliberately ignoring the other Negroes, selected the man who had been in the main identified with the crime. They took him out and hanged him to a telegraph pole.

Yet the Klan does not direct its efforts solely against the blacks. In safeguarding women every person whom they consider to be an offender in this direction, be he black or white, is an enemy of the society.

The Klan is never wrong. By some almost superhuman inspiration it goes about its work with a deadly certainty that terrifies all evil-doers. Where unwarranted outrages have been committed, it has in almost every instance been clearly established that the society's members have been in no way implicated. Such crimes have been carried out by gangs of desperadoes under the name of "Klanishness," as it is called.

This sort of thing, declares Mr. Shaw Desmond in the August "Wide World Magazine," has led to the recent solemn pronouncement issued by the "Imperial Wizard."

Branded With Acid.

"Beware! Beware! All ye people of the earth. There is one and only one Ku-Klux-Klan; therefore shun as a poisonous serpent any other organization of a similar name. We warn you, beware!"

The latest phase of the "K.K.K." movement is the branding of offenders. A few weeks ago a body of masked men appeared in the home of Alexander Johnson, a Negro bell-boy at an hotel in Dallas, Texas, who had offended against the code of the "K.K.K."

Without speaking a single word they took him into a fast car and drove furiously without headlights to a lonely place.

By the time the destination was reached the boy was almost frantic with fear. Despite his appeals he was tied to a tree and, having been stripped of the waist, was given twenty-five heavy lashes by a powerful man. Then a bottle of acid was produced and the letters "K.K.K." were branded indelibly upon his forehead.—"Tit-Bits."

Rural Route No. 1, Mascouche, Que. The Minard's Liniment People.

Sirs,—I feel that I should be doing a wrong if I neglected to write you. I have had four tumors growing on my head for years. I had them cut off by a surgeon about fifteen years ago but they grew again till about three months ago I had one as large and shaped like a lady's thumb, on the very place where my hair should be parted, and it was getting so embarrassing in public that it was a constant worry to me. About three months ago I got a bottle of your Minard's Liniment for another purpose and saw on the label good for tumors. Well I tried it and kept at it for exactly two months, with the result that it has entirely removed all trace of the tumor, and were it not that they had been cut fifteen years ago, no mark would be seen. I have not been asked for this testimonial and you can use it as you see fit.

(Signed) FRED C. ROBINSON.

P.S.—I am a farmer and intend using Minard's Liniment on a mare for a strained tendon, and am hoping for some results. FRED, C. R.

"REG'LAR FELLERS"

(Copyright, 1921 by George Matthew Adams—Trade Mark Registered U. S. Patent Office)

By Gene Byrnes

How do you spell TIGER?

BAK

T-I-E-G-E-R

AKA

T-H-A-T'S W-R-O-N-G! HERE'S HOW THE DICTIONARY SPELLS IT T-I-G-E-R!

BUT YOU ASKED ME HOW I SPELLLED IT!

TOOTON'S

The Kodak Store, Water Street. PHONE 131.

By using proper Albums in which to keep them. We have a fine stock suitable for both prints and negatives, those for the latter being fitted with leaf-pockets into which the negatives may be easily slipped.

Don't stick your prints and negatives away in envelopes and then forget all about them, keep them neatly where you can easily get at them.

Call at the Kodak Store and see their print and negative Albums for yourself.

The Disaster to the "Arctic."

The Collins liner "Arctic" left Liverpool for New York, on September 21, 1921, with about 370 souls on board. On September 27, the liner was blundering through the fog, hanging over the Grand Banks, about fifty miles southeast of Cape Race, when suddenly there loomed through the mist the shadowy outline of another vessel. The two boats had scarcely desisted one another when there was a terrific crash. When they reached away, the stranger—the French steamer "Yves" —gave signs of foundering, and at once turned to make for the harbour of St. John's, Newfoundland. At first it was thought that the "Arctic" had escaped serious damage, except to her upper works, but in a few minutes the awful intelligence came up from the depths of the ship that water was coming in rapidly, and that the fires would soon be extinguished. The captain turned his prow towards Cape Race—the nearest point of land—with the intention of running ashore at full speed, but he was prevented by the heavy gale that was raging, and after four hours' labouring with wind and sea, the furnaces were extinguished by the rising waters, and the "Arctic" shortly afterwards made her fatal plunge, within a few miles of the shore; only 15 of 235 passengers and 11 of a crew of 156, being saved. Most of the boats were smashed in the attempts to launch them, and a large, hastily improvised raft, which the seamen had fashioned when they learned that the vessel was doomed, and on which 75 persons sought refuge, was broken up by the waves, leaving a solitary survivor. The French vessel was more fortunate, since she succeeded in reaching St. John's, though in a sinking condition.

Gramophone Lure.

CANNIBALS FILMED WHILE LISTENING TO LAUDER.

The strange use to which a gramophone was put furnished some amusing moments in the taking of the film "Australia's Wild North-West," which Mr. Robert Courtneidge is presenting at the Philharmonic Hall, W. London, England.

It happened in the Graham Moore Islands of North-West Australia, where members of the expedition went out primarily to investigate gold and copper prospects, with a view to film the savage inhabitants.

"We first attracted them out of their hiding places by putting rice on the rocks," said Mr. M. P. Adams, who has come over to describe the film, "but when they saw the camera they fled."

"Then we landed a small gramophone and put a record on—it was Sir Harry Lauder's 'Stop, you're taking Jock!'—and the savages soon came out again and we got the photographs we had behind the rocks. But their intellects seemed to be of so low an order that they did not attempt to dance to the tune."

"They were cannibals and very fierce. They ate human beings in the belief that they thus acquired the strength and virtues of the dead."

Brick's Tasteless can be purchased at Jas. Wiseman's, Top Carter's Hill. Price $1.20 bil. Postage 20c. extra.—sep24.61

SUSU SAILED.—The a.s. Susan, Capt. Roberts, sailed on the Pogo mail service at 10 a.m. to-day, taking a full freight and the following passengers:—Mrs. E. Kean, Mrs. J. Kean, Miss B. Pursey.

DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS

ALL KIDNEY DISEASES

MINARD'S LINIMENT USED BY PHYSICIANS.

MINARD'S LINIMENT USED BY PHYSICIANS.

MINARD'S LINIMENT USED BY PHYSICIANS.

MINARD'S LINIMENT USED BY PHYSICIANS.

MINARD'S LINIMENT USED BY PHYSICIANS.

MINARD'S LINIMENT USED BY PHYSICIANS.

MINARD'S LINIMENT USED BY PHYSICIANS.

MINARD'S LINIMENT USED BY PHYSICIANS.

MINARD'S LINIMENT USED BY PHYSICIANS.

MINARD'S LINIMENT USED BY PHYSICIANS.

MINARD'S LINIMENT USED BY PHYSICIANS.

MINARD'S LINIMENT USED BY PHYSICIANS.

MINARD'S LINIMENT USED BY PHYSICIANS.

MINARD'S LINIMENT USED BY PHYSICIANS.

MINARD'S LINIMENT USED BY PHYSICIANS.

MINARD'S LINIMENT USED BY PHYSICIANS.

MINARD'S LINIMENT USED BY PHYSICIANS.

MINARD'S LINIMENT USED BY PHYSICIANS.

First Railway in England

On Wednesday, September 27, 1825, the first railway was opened and ran between Stockton-upon-Tees and Darlington, both towns in Durham, the line being 25 miles in length. By 1825 the railways of Great Britain and Ireland had reached a length of 21,377 miles and this system has since been adopted in every country of the world.

James Watt, a great British civil engineer of Greenock, who lived from 1736 till 1819, was an inventor of steam engines for working in one place. But as a means of locomotion, the credit and honour of them belong to George Stephenson, a native of Newcastle-upon-Tyne, and his son Robert Stephenson, who together planned and produced the first travelling railway.

The father's crowning achievement was the railway line connecting Manchester and Liverpool. In obtaining Parliamentary permission for such railway traffic great opposition was at first encountered; but the Bill passed through Parliament in the year 1825, and the first line was opened, as stated above, on September 27, 1825.

How About India?

There has been a general desire to learn what conclusions Lord Reading's sympathetic mind would arrive at after a careful study of Indian affairs on the spot.

The Viceroy's first speech is decidedly hopeful and encouraging. In his view the Mohlah rising, serious as it was, should not be taken as symptomatic of the general state of India, but is to be regarded as the turbulent outbreak of a traditional storm-centre which called for firm handling.

Lord Reading's general conclusion appears to be that, on the whole, India is settling down. The peoples of India now have their political future in their own hands. With legislative the Imperial Conference the path is clear towards orderly evolution as a self-governing State.

Everyone will hope that the Prince of Wales's visit will be a healing touch. Lord Reading might emphasize the Prince's entire association from parties and politics. The welcome of the Prince and peoples of India will be given to the son of the King-Emperor and the heir to the throne, which stands firm on the bedrock of India's loyalty, so amply proved in the war.—Daily Mail.

Brick's Tasteless can be purchased at T. McMurdo & Co.'s, Water Street. Price $1.20 bil. Postage 20c. extra.—sep24.61

Gracefully Accepted.

(From the New York Times.)

What might have been a most unpleasant controversy, with possible consequences of a really serious character, has been escaped, rather narrowly, thanks to the prompt and quiet acceptance of the decision by the Nova Scotia Trustees of the North Atlantic Fishermen's Trophy that the Boston boat Mayflower was not eligible to sail as the American defender.

Under the conditions of the race, only real fishing boats could enter, and, in the opinion of the Nova Scotians, the Mayflower was built more for the purpose of winning the race than to catch fish. Her owners deny this, and say that she has been used by the fishing banks often enough and successfully enough to prove her eligibility, but the weight of evidence seems to be against her—to prove that she cannot carry cargoes large enough to make her a practical craft in a hard service.

At any rate, submission to the adverse verdict of the duly authorized officials has been without even a murmur of protest, so international amities are not threatened. The Mayflower's owners express surprise at her rejection, but they hint no unfairness, so it safely can be assumed that there was none. None on either side, that is: Speed is a valuable quality in a race to market, and just how much the carrying capacity of a boat should be sacrificed in attaining it is obviously a question on which opinions can differ quite honestly.

MINARD'S LINIMENT USED BY PHYSICIANS.

MINARD'S LINIMENT USED BY PHYSICIANS.

MINARD'S LINIMENT USED BY PHYSICIANS.

MINARD'S LINIMENT USED BY PHYSICIANS.

MINARD'S LINIMENT USED BY PHYSICIANS.

MINARD'S LINIMENT USED BY PHYSICIANS.

MINARD'S LINIMENT USED BY PHYSICIANS.

MINARD'S LINIMENT USED BY PHYSICIANS.

MINARD'S LINIMENT USED BY PHYSICIANS.

MINARD'S LINIMENT USED BY PHYSICIANS.

MINARD'S LINIMENT USED BY PHYSICIANS.

MINARD'S LINIMENT USED BY PHYSICIANS.

MINARD'S LINIMENT USED BY PHYSICIANS.

MINARD'S LINIMENT USED BY PHYSICIANS.

MINARD'S LINIMENT USED BY PHYSICIANS.

MINARD'S LINIMENT USED BY PHYSICIANS.

MINARD'S LINIMENT USED BY PHYSICIANS.

Shoe Message to Women

The resources and experience of this House of Good Shoes is at the service of the woman that desires a stylish, good-looking, durable pair of Fall Oxfords, and wishes to avoid paying a big price for them.

We now offer

Women's Patent Bal Oxfords

Goodyear Welted, for

$6.50

This Shoe was a regular Twelve Dollar Shoe and has all the stylish finish and appearance of the Very Best Grade Shoes. A good fitter, pointed toes and Cuban Heels. Drop in and look them over, it's a pleasure to show them.

WOMEN'S FALL OXFORDS at Greatly Reduced Prices

NINE DOLLAR SHOES now ..... $ 5.50
TWELVE DOLLAR SHOES now ..... $ 8.50
FOURTEEN DOLLAR SHOES now ..... $12.00
Other Prices ..... $3.20, $4.20, $4.30, $4.50, $5.00 and $6.50.
Guaranteed.

G. KNOWLING Ltd. Shoe Stores

sep20.11.24.61

SWEET, PURE MILK—always on hand when you want it!

If you have never used Libby's Evaporated Milk, you will be amazed to find how good, how convenient and economical it is. Many women who first tried it in some emergency now use it always—they find it gives such satisfactory results.

There's no waiting for the milkman—you can always keep several cans on the shelf and in summer there's no bothering with ice, and in winter the milk wagon can get stuck in a heavy drift of snow as often as it wants to!

And there's less waste—a can of Libby's Evaporated Milk will keep indefinitely before being opened—and after you have opened a can you can use just what you need; the rest, put in a cool place, will keep several days.

Libby's Milk comes from the finest dairying section of America and is processed in our own sanitary condensaries—it is not the "distributed" product of an unknown and nameless plant.

Order a tin from your grocer to-day.

Libby, McNeill & Libby

sep2.1.20.61

Protect Your Negatives and Prints

By using proper Albums in which to keep them. We have a fine stock suitable for both prints and negatives, those for the latter being fitted with leaf-pockets into which the negatives may be easily slipped.

Don't stick your prints and negatives away in envelopes and then forget all about them, keep them neatly where you can easily get at them.

Call at the Kodak Store and see their print and negative Albums for yourself.

TOOTON'S,

The Kodak Store, Water Street. PHONE 131.