Northern California Experiences a Severe Storm-Three Days of It in Denver.

SNOWPLOWS IN DEMAND.

San Francisco, Nov. 22. - A severe storm prevails over Northern Califor-nia. The Southern Paoific Company has ordered out its snowplows. This is the first time in ten years that a November storm had made such an order. Snow is falling from Colfax to Reno, and at the summit it is seven feet in depth and still falling heavily. So far traffic has not been interrupted. THREE DAYS IN DENVER.

Denver, Nov. 21.-A heavy snowstorm, accompanied by a high wind, has been in progress on the western slope in Colorado for the past three days. The warm weather melted the snow very fast and slides have occurred, doing considerable damage. Railroad traffic is being interrupted and work in the mines in certain sections has stopped because of the inability to transport supplies. North of Glenwood Springs very cold weather is reported, which is gradually extending southward. SNOW AT MACKINAW. Mackinaw City, Mich., Nov. 21. Death of Jonn Crombie.

Mr. John Crombie died at the Old People's Home last night. He was in his 89th year. The late Mr. Crombie was born in Scotland, and after coming to Canada he engaged in the tailoring business for many years. For a long time he was an active worker in the First Presbyterian Church during Dr. Proudfoot's pastorate, and was also a teacher in the Sunday school of that church. About 30 years ago he became a colporteur for the Bible Society, and until 1892 was a faithful worker in their behalf, traveling along the concessions, and side roads of Western Ontario, selling and giving away Bibles. His reports of that time show that he walked an average of nearly 1,500 miles a year, during the time he was engaged by the society. Owing to feeble health he retired from active work some eight years ago. Since then he had boarded at the home. His death was due to old age. Mr. Crombie was a man of much vigor of body and mind, whose Christian life won the esteem and regard of many friends.

WAS IT FORGED?

Gerald Sifton's Lawyers Collecting Evidence.

Will Attempt to Prove Butter-Paper Will a Substitute.

Photographic Enlargements of Three Signatures Procured.

By Comparing Them Sifton's Solicitors Hope to Prove That Edgar Morden Drew It and Not Joseph Sifton.

New phases are being continually added to the complex Sifton case. Its gradual unfolding is being watched with increahing interest, especially among those of the legal fraternity. This interest is now centered in the butter-paper will that Edgar Morden alleges he drew and Joseph Sifton signed on the night before the latter's death. Is it a forgery? This is the momentous question that is now agitating the legal mind. Did Joseph Sifton really sign the will or did some-one else? If the former, then Gerald by the old man's death. When the case is being tried Sifton's solicitors will bring forward evidence in an atbe nelped materially The inference they would draw would be that if the forgery were committed, as they hope to prove it was, the evidence of Edgar Morden, who was one of the crown's most important witnesses, will be discredited to a certain extent. As has been said, Sifton's lawyers are sanguine as to the result of the investigations. It will be remem-bered that the will that was supposed to have been made by Joseph Sifton on the night before his death read, "I, Joseph Siften," etc., and ends with Joseph Sifton's signature. Edgar Morden acknowledges that he wrote the name the first time, and claims that the aged man signed it himself. Within a day or two before, the deceased procured a kicense to marry Mary Mol'arlane, and his signature of that time was obtained. The three signatures, those of the will and certificate, have been photographed and enlarged on the same scale. It is stated by those who have seen the photographs that the two will signatures are similar, while that of the certificate differs from it noticeably. These photographs will be produced when the case comes up, and startling developments are anticipated.

PROPHETIC

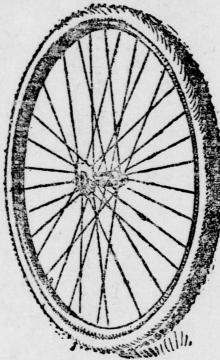

Clergyman From Holland Foretold the Present Struggle.

The Cape Times says: De Patriot has reprinted a remarkable sermon delivered by the Rev. Mr. Epoelstra at Pretoria, on June 13, 1897. The reverend gentleman came out as assistant to the Rev. Mr. Goddefroy, but soon tired of the "cunning, deceit and corruption" he saw around, and, speaking his mind too freely, was requested to return to Holland. In his farewell sermon (on the sins of the nation) he used these prophetic words: "I hear in the spirit the sound of marching of the hosts of great armies, who come up from all sides to this land. I hear the clash of swords and the rattle of musketry, also the roar of cannon. A hopeless strife follows, a life and death struggle. It is decided. The inheritance of the fathers falls into the hands of the enemy. For the God of the fathers hath been deserted by the children, and he executeth judgment against a faithless and apostate peo-
