tectures be arranged for the coming college year.

J. A. Brenenstuhl, of Lobo, read a paper on "The Relation of the Y, P. S. C. E. to the Church," in which he placed the society in the same relation as that held by the Sunday school. He considered it to be one of the strongest influences in effecting Christian union. He defined it as "an organized form of activity of a part of the Church of Christ." The report of committee on young people's work shows an increase of 35 per cent. in the number of societies during the year.

The report of the Sunday school committee showed a continual interest in Sunday school work.

After the discussion of these reports After the discussion of these reports came the session of the O. C. W. B. M. devetional exercises were conducted by Mrs. D. Oliphant, London. The report of the corresponding secretary was read by Miss B. Sinclair. The treasurer's report was presented by Mis, S. M. Brown, of Wiarton. This report shows the total receipts for the year to be $1,503.56. Miss Ricch is supported in Japan and a mission ary at Minnedosa.

At the evening session Mr. W. G. Jackson, who has great ten years in India, gave an interesting address on "The Needs of the Heathen World."

ANOTHER RECORD SMASHED.

The road race to St. Johns and return, under the auspices of the "Londons," which took place last night, was a great success in every way. Mr. Clay D. Manville was the winner of both place and time prize, doing the distance in the remarkably fast time of 32:43 2-5, which lowers his own record made last year nearly three minutes. The race was very close from start to finish, the first four or five finishing in a bunch. During the season there will bunnerous road races given by the Londons, and the great energy displayed by every member of the club augurs well for its future standing. The club, although in its second month, is by far the largest and most influential organization of its kind in Western Ontario.

more radical of our younger ministers have affirmed, if correctly reported, that no pastor has a right to open his lips on such a subject without his church's permissuch a subject without his ohurch's permis-sion. And to crown all, a local organiza-tion, having no right to speak for the denomination as such, has passed a resolu-tion of censure on brethren for the high erime and misdemeaner of having a friendly conference with members of a sister denomination. Brethren, what are we coming to? Is this the liberty we have in the Gospel? I venture to say there is not a denomination short of Roman Cathol-icism that would dare to think of thus we coming to? Is this the ilberty we have in the Gospel? I venture to say there is not a denomination short of Roman Catholicism that would dare to think of thus padlocking the lips of its ministers.

In striking contrast to all this, has been the course pursued by our Presbyterian brethren. Though supposed to have less ecclesiastical elbow-room than we have, no one has questioned their right to discuss the subject, and not a word of disapproval has come from any quarter. The Canada Presbyterian has reierred to the matter kindly and courteously, and not one of its correspondents has raised an objection to the movement. How is this? Are we like the Jews of old, who boasted that they were never in bondage to any man, when after all the Roman yoke was on their necks? We have boasted of our breadth, our freedom from sectarian bitterness and narrowness, cur eatholicity, our desire to see the divided church made oue; and lo! when the time comes to show our faith in these things by our works, we invite our blessel Lord's rebuke: "Ye know not what manner of spirit ye are of."

If brethren who have been hasty to commit themselves in opposition to this movement had taken the pains to inform themselves of its real nature they would have found more to commend and perhaps nothing whatever to censure. So far as anything tangible has been cited by way of objection, thas been the result of misapprehension. I speak from book when I say that several bugbears have been raised which do not exist. There is no idea cherished of compelling us to adopt the Presbyterian Contestion of Faith. All that has passed, so far as doctrine is concerned, is based on the Declaration of Faith in our own Year Book. No interference with the autonomy and independence of the local churches is intended. Our very name is proposed to be left us.

tended. Our very name is proposed to be left us.

The Presbyterian Church of Canada is sound on the principle of conversion as a necessary qualification for church membership; and if there are sessions that do not faithfully carry it out, these may be easily matched by Congregational churches that are lax enough in all conscience. Nor have I seen any "Scotch formality" that was worse than some English and Canadian formality I have met with. Our brethren in the old country long ago gave up some of the inquisitorial methods, to which certain brethren here in Canada still seem to cling with a most astonishing pertinacity.

I say it with the utmost deliberation. It say it with the utmost deliberation. that I do not know of one vital principle that is put in jeopardy by the proposed union. Our Presbyterian brethren have met us more than half way, and have shown a cordiality that reminds one of the 133rd Psalm. Union, if it can be effected, will greatly enhance the power for good of both denominations. It will end a number of unseemly rivalries, and stop the waste, of much missionary money. It will pave the way for further consolidation of the "one army of the living God." O brethren, my heart glows and burns within me, as I think of what may possibly grow out of the happy consummation of this union. It may yet be the most glorious incident in our history, as the British Weekly says that "to the Congregationalists of Canada credit is to be given for making the first overture toward a sirter denomination" in the direction of union. Sure I am that the Master will set it down among the things done in his name, not to "the least of these my brethren," but to some of I say it with the utmost deliberation.

THE UNION QUESTION

An Engrossing Topic at the Congregational Union Meeting.

Shall the Presbyterians and Congregational Union Meeting.

Rev. W. F. Clarke, of Guelph, formerly of this city, had the following letter in a recent issue of the Canadian Independent. It is important, seeing the question is a live one at the meeting of the Congregational Union which convenes in this city to-day; I have read with much interest all that has appeared in the newspapers and in the Canadian Independent on the above subject during the past few months, and designed to say that I am in hearty sympathy with the movement, and hope to see it go into effect. So far from finding fault with the movement, and hope to see it go into effect So far from finding fault with the she that the injurie into the feasibility of union. The most surprising thing, to my mind, about the whole business, is that their right to do this has been challenged. There have been some new and startling developments in Congregationalism, so talled, in connection with the smatter. We have been broached without the sametion of the Congregational with the increase always family prayers, morning developments in Congregationalism, so talled, in connection with this matter.
