We had our best local doctors with her, and it seemed like all hope was gene, for they told us if the disease settled on her lungs she could not be cured. This frightful disease seated or seized upon her lungs severely. I began to think that our little girl could not live very long; our physician's medicines doing no goos. In the meantime I received a copy of your medical publication called "False and Truo," which you sent me. After seeing the accounts of so many cures effected by your treatments I at once resorted to them, and by the time she had used one bottle she was well. The ulcers that were making their appearance on her body are entirely gone, her lungs almost healed, or, at least, she has quit coughing. She has begun on the second bottle, and I believe by the time she uses all of it she will be well. She had a very bad cough. I am yours with respect, SAMUEL S. BARKER.

"LIFE A BURDEN."

Dr. Radway—Dear Sir: For a long time past I have been suffering in a most distressing manner from a long train of symptoms which have baffled the skill of all the medical men down here, and which. I fear, if not arrested in their progress, would terminate in the total prostration of my strength. Loss of appetite and desire of stimulating and artificial means of sustenance at irregular times, want of healthy sleep and consequent depression on arising in the morning, rendered life quito a burden to me, until a friend induced me to try your medicine. So I got a bottle of Radway's Sarsaparillian and a box of Radway's Pills, and took them according to directions. I seen found relief. I get three boxes and three bottles more, and I am better in health than ever before. I remain your humble servant.
