Solomon prayed to be delivered from caterpillars. The ancient priests of Isis believed that caterpillars, with earwigs and other winged terrors, were the direct emissaries of the evil one. Modern gardeners, unfamiliar with either the tenets of Osiris or the composition of the Satanic Heptarchy, must be much of the same opinion-caterpllars are unrighteous and things wholly unholy. It is remarkable that in the visitation of the plagues on Old Egypt Pharaoh's magicians could imitate the feats of Aaron's rod until it came to the miraculous invention of vermin; then they confessed their impotence; as Heine reminds us, they admitted it was the finger of God.
