NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—Speculative interest shifted to the minor stocks today, and representative shares, neglected in the trading, revealed a yielding tendency lmminence of publication of the monthly cotton and grain figures, and expectation of definite action soon on the tariff bill imposed restrictions on business. London showed indecision after its holiday, and prices of the internatonal group revealed a mixture of gains and losses. When it became clear that the standard issues would not respond to the advance in the specialties, traders began to sell more freely. Union Pacific broke through 150. and Steel, Reading, New York Central and Atchison also yielded about a point. Paratchison also yielded about a point. Far-ticular influences were responsible for the increased interest in and broader market for various specialties, especially the rail-road equipment stocks. These shares responded to bullish talk of increased busi-ness due to the demand for steel passen-ger cars. Bonds were irregular.

THE GLASS BLOWERS.

The glass blowers on the Midway re one of the attractions which vistors to the Western Fair cannot afford o miss, for besides being a most intersting feature, it is instructive as well. Mr. Johns and his staff of experts provide most excellent entertainment with their demonstration of blowing glass. To the onlooker it is a neverfailing source of pleasure and wonder to watch the operator at work, spinning the molten glass into a variety of fantastic and artistic shapes. Every visitor to the tent is presented with a souvenir, sometimes an article is made while they are watching the progress of the show. These presents are worth from 10c to $2, so that every visitor is well repaid for attending. The Johns Glass Blowers are one of the best-known and most-popular shows that come regularly to the Fair. Each year they attract larger and larger crowds, and each year those H. MORE HERALDS NEEDED

Strong Plea for Extension of Missionary Work Amongst Chinese.

Rev. H. Beverley Burwell, missionary andidate for China, was the speaker last evening in Empress Avenue Methodist when he dealt in a most interesting manner with some of the problems of that country, and the best means of solving them. The speaker made a strong sure and see Madame Helena and her plea for more heralds of the gospel of Christ in China.

"China is awakening today," said Mr.
Burwell. "Chiefly, I believe, through missionary agency. There is no force that will lift degraded, fallen humanity nation like nothing else.

"I believe that If China is to be exalted among the nations, it must be because of her rightcousness, and believing this, I wish to add what little I can do for the Unifiting of the Chinese nation.

"Men and women," said Mr. Burwell, "it is a wonderful thing to be called of God. And I feel confidently that the message which I am taking is as sufficient for the Chinese as for the Anglo-Saxon, and that no matter how degraded and low the Chinese may be, that Gospel is able to save."

FANCY WORK AT THE WESTERN FAIR OF HIGHEST CLASS

Some Exquisite Samples of Embroidery and Lace-Making To Be Seen.

Several London Ladies Are Amongst the Prize-Winners in Various Classes.

The fancy work exhibit at the Western Fair this year is one of the bestfilled sections in the Main Building, some most exquisite specimens of embroidery, lace-making and other handwork being shown. Entries were made in every class, and in many instances the cases containing the work are filled to overflowing. Competition in many articles exhibited was most keen, it being very difficult, the judges stated, London's prominent businessmen en- to make the awards, on account of the

He was not called upon to pay the money, however, as he found anther way of settling the dispute, which was between him and Mr. E. W. Scatcherd.

Mr. Scatcherd appeared for the defence in a charge of maliciously damaging property preferred by one Rusian against another Saturday. The charge arose over alleged damage to a watch caused when the defendant jumped on it to test its worth. The court decided Saturday to dismiss the charge on payment of $1.85 court fees and $1.50 witness' and interpreter's fees, providing the watch was taken to a jeweler for examination. At that time Mr. Scatcherd obejeted to the $1.50 for witnesses and interpreter, as $1 of the money was to be paid to the complainant and his wife for appearinags witnesses, and 50 cents to the complainant's wife for acting as interoreter. The watch was brought to the police station this morning after exmination.

Mr. Scatcheerd again objected strenuously to the payment of 50 cents for the wife's interpreting, and it was then that iece of knitted lace is the work of an able," said Mr. Scatcherd, and then he suggested the old quotation about "ask and you shall receive."
