Weekly Colonist

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 9TH, 1888.

From THE DAILY COLONIST, Nov. 7.

LOCAL AND PROVINCIAL.

Incoming Passengers.

The steamship Queen of the Pacific, which left San Francisco yesterday morning, has the following passengers on board for Victoria:—W. Pethenick and wife; Mrs. Marbourst; J. W. Cahn, Miss M. Whitney, G. Woodford, Mrs. T. Appleton and G. Carleton.

American Public Debt.

The reduction in the public debt of the United States during October amounted to $4,885,613, and for the first four months of the fiscal year, $28,264,620. Net cash in the treasury on Nov. 1st was $74,491,969, against $96,444,845 on the 1st of October.

Fullerton-Cox.

On Thursday evening, at St. James' Church, Mr. W. F. Fullerton, contractor, of Spring Ridge, was united in marriage to Miss Cox, daughter of Mr. John Cox, of Humboldt street. The ceremony was performed by Ven. Archdeacon Scriven. The newly-wedded pair are receiving the congratulations of their friends.

Police Appointments.

Supt. Sheppard recommended Constable No. 1 Walker for the sergeantship, and yesterday the police committee confirmed the appointment. Sergt. Walker has always been a diligent and capable officer and his promotion was deserved. Allen, an Englishman, has been appointed by the police committee as constable and will be sworn in to-day. He was highly recommended.

Death of Reginald Chute Nuttall.

A letter was received in this city on Thursday evening, announcing the death at Santa Maria, Cal., of Reginald C. Nuttall, only son of Reginald W. Nuttall, formerly of Victoria. The deceased young man was 20 years of age, and was well-known here, having resided for several years with his parents on Pandora street. He was stricken with heart disease on the morning of Oct. 21st, and died quite suddenly.

Presentation.

Mr. W. H. Griffin, late deputy postmaster general, who retired in July last after fifteen years' service, was presented with an address and a purse of £2,000, a few days ago by members of the civil service at Ottawa and post-office officials generally throughout the country. Subscriptions to the testimonial, accompanied by letters expressive of the esteem in which Mr. Griffin was held by all who knew him, were sent from every post-office of the Dominion, including Victoria.

Brutality.

A brutal deck-hand last evening, while the sheep were being landed from the Louise, first dragged one to the head of the gang-plank, and nearly killed it by beating it on the head. He then stood with a rope in his hand, and slashed at the animals as they passed on the run, severely hurting them. It is also stated he abused the docile creatures on the way over. He was discharged from the service later in the evening. He is known as "Barney," and is a subject who needs the attention of the society for the prevention of cruelty to animals.

Another Weather Prophet.

On Thursday morning, at Westminster, a bright halo was observed in the zenith, curved in the opposite direction to the sun. Capt. Peele described the phenomenon as an evidence of an Arctic wave passing over us, but which will not be felt until it reaches the interior. He says the northwest territories will experience a cold snap that will astonish the inhabitants in a few days. For the coast the captain predicts a period of fine weather with frosty nights.

A Divorce Granted.

Albert E. Haynes yesterday afternoon applied to Mr. Justice Gray for a decree of divorce from his wife, Mary Ernest, now an inmate of a house of ill-repute in Vancouver. No opposition was made by the respondent, and Chief Stewart, of Vancouver, gave evidence as to the woman's whereabouts. A rule nisi was granted, dissolving the marriage. The young couple have married a little over two years, and the wayward wife at the time of the ceremony was but fourteen years of age.

From Port Angeles.

Rev. A. H. Howell, pastor of the Congregational Church at Port Angeles, W. T., is at present in the city soliciting donations from the residents of Victoria who are interested in the prosperity of Port Angeles, towards the erection there of a Congregational church. The proposed church will cost in the neighbourhood of $1,500, of which $800 is contributed by the mission fund, the balance of $1,000 remaining to be raised by voluntary subscriptions. The reverend gentleman states that the population of Port Angeles, within a radius of one mile, is now about 600, and the town is still going ahead. A machine shop is the latest addition to the industries of the place, and a sash, door and blind factory is to be established in a short time.

Funeral of the Late Miss Courtney.

The remains of the late Ethel B. Courtney were consigned to their last resting-place in Ross Bay cemetery yesterday afternoon. The cortege proceeded from the residence of Mr. A. Calder to Christ church cathedral, where the services for the dead were read by Rev. Mr. Beanlands. From the cathedral the procession proceeded to the cemetery, where the last sad rites were performed. The funeral was attended by the pupils of Miss Cameron's and Miss Barron's divisions, each pupil bringing a bouquet, cross, or wreath of flowers, which were placed upon the casket containing the remains of their departed schoolmate, until the casket was covered with the wealth of floral offerings. The following gentlemen acted as pall-bearers:—J. S. Yates, H. Wootten, Chas. Hayward, Jr., A. Moust, Geo. Jay, and E. Wootten.

Chilliwhack Dynamiters.

Certain farmers and land owners at Chilliwhack are excited over an attempt to injure their lands. Vedder creek overflows its banks during the rainy season and inundates a considerable strip on either side. This is a matter of inconvenience to those whose lands are thus flooded, and it could be partially avoided if a portion of the water of Vedder creek was allowed to run off through another creek, the Luck-a-kuck. Owners of land along the banks of the latter stream objected to the water of Vedder creek being thus turned from its natural course, as it might flood their lands. For some years past a jam of logs and trees formed in the Luck-a-kuck, preventing an overflow. A few days ago, however, some parties used a quantity of dynamite and so well did they handle the explosive that the log jam has disappeared, and the waters of Vedder creek now run through the Luck-a-kuck, which has thus been converted from a slough into a swift-running stream, which is wearing away its banks and causing some destruction to property. The farmers are indignant, and offer a reward of $200 for the apprehension of the dynamiters.

The officers of the C.P.N. Co. look well in their new uniforms.

Presbyterian Entertainment.

The LADIES of the St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church will hold the second of their series of popular and entertaining concerts in Philharmonic Hall on Monday evening next, Nov. 12th, when an English character will be illustrated in song and story. A crowded house will be given in return.

The Mail and Plaster Blue.

Mr. Geo. Henderson, of Nicola, reports satisfactory progress at the Stir and Plaster Blue mine, during the time which is being taken up in removing the machinery to the new mill, which is rapidly increasing in richness. The new stamp mill is working nicely, and in connection with two concentrators they are reducing 50 tons of rock and 10 tons of concentrates per week, all of which is shipped to San Francisco. The mine is one of the best paying in the province, considering the capital invested.—Chilliwhack.

MIRACULOUS ESCAPE.

A Hack Driver Thrown from His Box, and Dragged Through Several Streets.

Last evening at about 6.30, the front axle of a hack owned by George Winter and driven by a young man named Duncan J. McDonald, broke near the Rosabella hotel on Churchway. The horses started on a run, and the driver and a companion who was riding with him, were thrown from the seat. The latter escaped with scarcely a bruise, and started at once in pursuit of the runaways. McDonald was not so fortunate. The reins were twisted about his hands and he could not extricate himself, being dragged by the frantic horses down the entire length of Humboldt street and by Government street to the Windsor Hotel, where the runaways were brought to a standstill. The victim of the accident was taken from under the vehicle, and carried into the hotel, where he has boarded since his arrival in the city about three years ago. Dr. Hamilton Griffin fortunately was in the house at the time and did all that could be done to relieve the unfortunate man. His head and body were found to be in the hold of a terrible state, and almost from his body his right leg was fractured above the ankle, his right arm was badly crushed and a deep hole was found in his right knee, the size of a silver dollar. His chest also was badly lacerated and it is feared he has suffered severe internal injuries as well. His injuries were promptly attended to, and it is thought they will not prove fatal, though it was almost a miracle that he escaped with life.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

The Louise brought down thirty cattle and 250 head of sheep for Van Valkenburg Bros., and a large general freight.

Hong Yap, a Celestial, was arrested yesterday on a charge of stealing $20.

The steward of Royal Hospital thanks Mr. A. B. Erskine for a parcel of boots and shoes.

The squatters who were awarded their lots by Chancellor Boyd only received their deeds yesterday.

A special meeting of the Council will be held this evening for the purpose of confirming the minutes of Wednesday's meeting.

Yesterday morning the steamer Tampico ran in leaving the harbor, ran aground opposite Esling's ways, where she remained until 9 o'clock, when she floated off uninjured.

Remember the matinee this afternoon at the theatre by the Rochester Musical Comedy Company. Each child will be presented with a ticket for the drawing of a beautiful wax doll.

This week's Columbian, published at Westminster, comes to hand in an enlarged form, and bears every evidence in its well-filled columns of prosperity. The Columbian congratulates its mainland contemporary on its improved appearance.

Mr. J. Savannah has just finished two large and handsome portraits in India ink of Parmenia C. Shakespeare and Mrs. Shakespeare, which, with a number of other equally fine specimens of the fine art artist's skill, will be placed on exhibition at Hasting's studio, Fort street, in a few days.

On Thursday night, while the lineman was putting fresh carbons in the electric light at the corner of Government and Yates streets, one of the heavy ropes broke, precipitating the man and lamps half way down the pole. Fortunately the lineman had sufficient presence of mind to clinch in the bottom of the cage, and beyond a bad shaking up, escaped uninjured.

A genuine old-fashioned rough and tumble fight, in which three Indians, two Chinamen, and a brace of white men took a hand, disturbed the monotony of the Chinese quarter last evening. One of the white men getting the worst of the battle commenced to call loudly for "help," and police, and the fight ended in a race to get out of the neighbourhood before the police should arrive. One of the crowd lagged behind, however, and was gathered in.

CITY POLICE COURT.

(Before Judge Richards).

Kitty Cooper, an Indian woman, paid over the usual $5 for the privilege of being drunk.

Henry Bills was also charged with creating a disturbance on the street by being drunk. Henry said he wasn't pretty drunk, but he paid the $5 just the same.

Mr. Hett, representing the prosecution in the libel suit against THE COLONIST, said that it was proposed to adjourn the further hearing of the case until Monday next. Mr. Davie and Mr. Mills were engaged in another case in the Supreme Court. The case was enlarged until Monday morning at the usual hour.

The new clerk of the court, Mr. Dowler, being present, his honor congratulated him on his appointment, and stated that in future he would expect information to be laid in every case. He did not think it legal to convict on admission of guilt by the prisoner.

Cured by B. B. B. when all else Failed.

Mr. Samuel Allan, of Lisle, Ont., states that he tried all the doctors in his locality while suffering for years with Liver and Kidney trouble; nothing benefitted him until his sole Burdock Blood Bitters, four bottles of which cured him.

MORE LIGHT.

Improvements in the Electric Light System of the City.

The ever increasing demand for incandescent electric lights for interior illumination has for some time past been keenly felt in this city, and the Victoria Electric Illuminating Co., in order to supply the requirements of the public, recently made arrangements with the Edison Electrical Manufacturing Co., of Brooklyn, Que., for the purchase of new apparatus to more than double the power, and greatly increase the quality of the light. The new machinery arrived several days ago, and is now being placed in position at the electric light station on Langley street, by Mr. Fl. Carson the electrician of the company, and Mr. W. Hutchinson, the electrician of the manufacturers. The additional plant comprises two new No. 10 Edison dynamos with a capacity of 450 lights each, which are being placed in position beside the old ones, with two new boilers, from the Albion Iron Works, with a capacity of 70 H. P. each. The one has already been set up, and the other is nearly almost complete, and will shortly be placed in position by the Albion Iron Works' men. The new high speed horizontal engine, 150 H.P., is from the well-known manufacturing firm of Armington & Sims, Providence, R. I., and has been speeded to 300 revolutions per minute, and is complete, with automatic regulators and all modern improvements, making this the best engine manufactured for the used to which it will be put.

No Link-belting belting is used on all the machinery.

Four new pole-changing switches are to be attached to each machine, enabling the engineer in charge to start up and cut off the power as the load increases. The mine pressure indicators will show the pressure at as many different points on the circuit. Six comparative indicators dispersed for their viewing on the two standard indicators of the latest improved design. One test indicator is also being placed in the station, that can be switched on in place of either of the "Standards," at any time, to determine their accuracy, as the new apparatus is of the best and latest design, complete within every modern improvement that scientific research and experimenting can suggest.

The new plant will increase the power of the station by 150 horse power, and the capacity from 600 to 1400 lights of varying candle power. The additional machinery will be in position and, it is expected, will be running in full blast in eight or ten days.

The interior of the station is being painted and refitted, the switching of the regulators, switches, etc., to be of polished brass.

The company have spared no expense in the improvement of their plant, and their patrons the public cannot fail to be satisfied with the result.

PARTED IN A GALE.

The Ship Passed on Her way Making Sail.

The tug Alexander, on Friday evening, passed down to sea with the ship Tam O'Shanter, for Nanaimo to San Francisco with coal. It was blowing a fine breeze, a gale while going down the straits, with a very heavy sea running, rendering progress slow. Neah Bay was passed at 10 o'clock, and at midnight the tug and tow were off Cape Flattery, where the sea ran mountains high, and the gale was blowing a perfect hurricane. At 2:30 a heavy squall sprang up, the atmosphere becoming as black as ink. Flattery light was obscured, and there was nothing but inky black all around in front. The only light that could be distinguished was from the "phosphorescent" flashes as the seas broke over the bow, while in the hawser was a line of fire reaching from the tug to the vessel. The ship behaved well in the squall, but owing to the strength of the wind, could not make steerage, and lay at an angle in the trough of the sea, and with her tow drifted with the ebb tide towards Cape Flattery. The hawser was cast adrift in half an hour, and the wind shifting in the N. W. and the weather moderating somewhat, the tug steered eastward and headed for sea. At 8:30 while Capt. Brendrot was on the bridge, the Alexander shipped a heavy sea forward, which barled the bow completely in the water. This incident drew his attention to the fact that the tug was making quite a time and he came to the conclusion that the hawser had parted or the line chafed until 9 o'clock, when she floated off uninjured.

From THE DAILY COLONIST, Nov. 4.

LOCAL AND PROVINCIAL.

Change of Time.

The sailing of the Str. Princess Louise for Westminster on Tuesday mornings has been changed from 9 to 8 a.m., commencing on Tuesday morning next.

Coal Shipments.

During the month of October 26 coal-laden vessels cleared from Nanaimo, their united cargoes amounting to 34,605 tons. Of these vessels 16 were steamers, 6 barks, 3 ships and 1 schooner. 14 loaded at the Vancouver chutes, 8 at the Wellington shutes, and 4 at East Wellington.

True Charity.

The Good Templars of Somass recently gave a very enjoyable social in the Somass schoolhouse, the proceeds to be devoted towards the relief of the Sumner family, the father of whom is at present suffering from cancer. The total receipts amounted to $113.25, for which the family are very grateful.

Drowning Accident.

On Wednesday the 7-year old son of a farmer named Haggman, of Lulu Island, (formerly a milkman of Westminster), was drowned in a most mysterious manner. Mr. Haggman and some laborers were working on the bank of the river and an axe being required the little child was sent to get it. The boy not returning in a reasonable time somewhat surprised the father who made immediate search for him, but without avail as no sign or trace could be found. The collision is the boy fell into the water and sank without uttering a cry.

A Peculiar Occurrence.

On Thursday evening, while the steamer Rainbow was at the wharf at Westminster, a stranger walked on board and passed himself on the hurricane deck, leaning against the cabin. Suddenly his feet flew from under him and a second later he shot between the rails and dropped into the water. A life-preserver was thrown to the man, who made no attempt to take hold of it, but contentedly remained floating on the surface. Seeing that the man would be drowned Capt. Cavin hauled him on deck with a boat-hook. After giving himself a shake, this strange personage quietly walked ashore without saying "thank you" or "good-bye."

Queen's Passengers.

The following passengers left for San Francisco by the Mexico yesterday afternoon:—Miss R. Meyer, T. Simpson, wife and daughter, C. E. Redfern, Dr. West, Mrs Croft and child, M. Hendersen, John Baylis, wife and three children, C. Worth, John R. Thompson and seventeen steerage passengers.

Wedding.

Dr. Walker, surgeon of the East Wellington colliery, was married in Nanaimo yesterday morning to Miss Minnie Brown, lately from London, England, and daughter of Joseph Brown, Esq., architect, New Westminster. The wedding took place at the residence of B. H. Smith, deputy collector of customs, Mr. and Mrs. Walker arrived down by the noon train yesterday.

Nanaimo Customs Collections.

Following are the official returns of the Nanaimo custom house, for the month ending October 31st, 1888:—

Import duty	$4,540 29
Sick Mariners	389 94
Petroleum inspection	37 00
Total	$4867 23
Department of Agriculture	6 00
Insp. of Animals
	$4873 23

Wagon Portage.

The Dominion government have cut a boat canal through what is known as Nanaimo, or Biggs' Portage, thus saving a long detour around Jack's or Shaw's Point. Mr. Thomas McGuffie, who has charge of the work, completed the canal on Thursday. It now affords passage for large sized boats and canoes, for nearly three-fourths of each tide, and is bound to be a great convenience to the settlers on Gabriola, Mudge and adjacent islands.

A Peculiar Mania.

Westminster can boast—or deplore—the presence of a man who is addicted to one of the strangest freaks ever heard of. This man has a mania for getting drunk on every possible occasion which is generally every night. When sufficiently primed he stazgers down to the wharf, and, not being able to trust himself to walk the plank, cries "Man over board!" and throws himself into the water. The crew are up in an instant and the eccentric man is hauled aboard, considerably sobered by the cold bath. This is far from being a rare occurrence, but, on the contrary, happens quite frequently. Some night the crew will happen to be all ashore, and then a coroner's jury will bring in a verdict to the effect that "the deceased came to his death while practising an eccentric habit superinduced by over-drinking and mental anxiety."

Youthful Criminals.

Four young lads, whose ages range from eight to twelve years, are at present in jail at Vancouver on a charge of housebreaking. The names of the youthful thieves are Willie McBroom, Johnny Curran, Willie and Albert Davis. The first-named seems to be the leader. The gang started out on their criminal career by running away from home, they being the same lads who came down to Victoria on the Yosemite, as mentioned in THE COLONIST a few weeks ago. Through the kindness of Captain Rudlin the boys were taken back to Vancouver and handed over to their parents. The quartette, however, seem to have been bent on wrong-doing, as, foiled in their attempt to run away, they decided to continue their career in Vancouver. They committed several petty robberies, and wound up by breaking into Lang's cigar store and stealing about $50 worth of cigarettes and tobacco. The boys are now in prison, but the authorities are puzzled how to deal with them, as they are too young to be sent to jail for a term, or to be sent to sea. This is another evidence of the necessity for a reformatory in the province.

Police Inspection.

The city police force were mustered for inspection by the police committee of the city council in the barracks, yesterday afternoon at 4:30. Ald. Wilson, chairman of the committee, addressed the force briefly, deploring the necessity which had arisen for making the recent changes in the force. He hoped that in the future the police would work together as one man in the enforcement of law and order in the city. He promised that good conduct and diligent, faithful service would not be unrewarded. The police committee would do all in their power to make the men comfortable and to ensure the efficiency of the force. On behalf of the committee, he also stated that they hoped soon to be in a position to increase the pay of the officers, although it would hardly be possible this year. He referred to several ways in which the laws of the land are known to be violated every day in the city, and directed the force to act without fear or favor in the discharge of their duty. The committee stood at their back and would support them in the discharge of their duty.

Chief Sheppard also addressed the men briefly, referred to several special classes of crime to which he wished the men to devote their attention and expressed a wish that nothing but harmony should exist among them. The men were then dismissed.

Will Arrive on Time.

In order that the Emma Abbott Co. may arrive in time to open at the usual hour, special arrangements have been made with the O. R. & N. Co. to run the steamer that day a couple of hours earlier, which will land the company in Victoria at 5:30 in the afternoon. This will enable the curtain to be rung up at 8:15 o'clock as the latest. All desirous of attending on Monday night need have no nervousness about late steamer and indifferent performance.

St. Andrew's and Caledonian Society.

At a meeting of the St. Andrew's and Caledonian society, held on Friday evening, the following officers were elected for the ensuing term:—His Worship Mayor Grant, president; Robert Mitchell, first vice-president; Robert McIntosh, second vice-president; John Ross, secretary; Donald McKay, treasurer; directors—R. P. Rithet, A. J. Smith, John Boyd, John Robertson, William Lorimer, W. A. Robertson and Geo. Webb. Mr. Thomas Gorrie was elected warden, and Mr. David Kennedy, piper.

CITY POLICE COURT.

(Before Judge Richards).

Monday is always a busy day in the police court. Yesterday was no exception to the general rule, the following cases were disposed of:—

Mary A. Fox Rupert squaw, blushingly admitted that she had been under the influence of the ardent. She donated the usual $5 towards the support of the city.

Thomas, a Cowichan Indian, was upon the information of Provincial Police Constable Miller charged with being unlawfully possessed of intoxicating beverages. Thomas owned up and was fined $25, which his friends subsequently paid.

Another Indian named Tom, a Nitnat, was also charged with having liquor in his possession. Dominion Constable Lewis saw Tom with a bottle in his hands, and, before he could arrest him, the Indian broke the bottle, a small piece of which was found to contain gin. He was fined $25, and not having the money was sentenced to one months' imprisonment, unless the fine was sooner paid.

Richard Claydon, who had been found by Sergeant Walker lying on the sidewalk in a state of paralyzed intoxication, was charged with creating a disturbance by being drunk. "I" was guilty, "your honor," said Richard, and he was fined the usual $5.

In default of the necessary, he was consigned to the cells for one week.

Wm. Johnson was charged with breaking-in two doors of a house on Herald street, owned by Mr. A. K. Stronnach, and occupied by several Indian women. The prisoner said he would rather plead guilty than go to the case, he acknowledged that he only destroyed one door, however.

The agent of the property deposed to receiving information of the doors being broken and stated that four doors of the same house were broken last week. People, he said, came to the house drunk and being refused admittance destroyed the property.

The magistrate thought that if the owners of the property let it to prostitutes they had themselves to blame if the property was destroyed. The prisoner was instructed to make good the damage, and was fined $1 without costs.

Wm. Grey, an elderly man living at Nanaimo, and pronounced of unsound mind, was further remanded, as it was supposed he could be sent home in a few days.

Richard Murray was charged with committing an aggravated assault upon Robert Mitchell. The case was proven and the prisoner sentenced to four months imprisonment at hard labor.

The C. P. N. Co., were charged by John Courtney and eight other Vancouver longshoremen with refusing to work their wages in full, for discharging the steamer Sardonyx at Port Moody. The men claimed that they found the work unusually hard and were promised 40 instead of 25 cents per hour in consequence. They were brought down on the steamer Sardonyx Victoria.

Mr. Stewart appeared for the prosecution and Mr. Walls for the company.

The magistrate thought that the men should have been bound by their agreement to work for 25 cents an hour. He did not think they should be supported in claiming extra wages.

Mr. Walls, while denying the jurisdiction of the magistrate in the case, had a very reasonable proposition to make. The Sardonyx not being there now, the company would pay these men off at the rate of 25 cents per hour, pay their board bill here and send them home, leaving them to sue for the balance if they though fit. This settlement, Mr. Walls wished it understood, was not to prejudice the case if it should be again brought up, the proposition being made more out of charity than in justice by the company.

This proposition was accepted and the men left the court.

Fell Down a Hatchway.

Yesterday morning while Mr. Mouat, pilot of the Standard, was walking along the main deck of the steamer Yosemite, he fell down an open coal hatch, which he had failed to see. The accident was witnessed by a couple of men who rescued Mr. Lopatecki in a fainting condition, but he soon recovered, the only injuries he received being an ugly bruise on the right leg and on the arm. The accident might have been much worse, and Mr. Lopatecki's friends will be pleased to know that his injuries will not prevent him attending to his usual duties.

Yesterday Morning's Fire.

About two o'clock yesterday morning the outbuildings owned by Mr. McKay of Lime Bay, were discovered to be in flames. The neighbors were quickly roused and hastened to the scene of the conflagration, but the fire had gained such headway that the utmost that could be done was to prevent it spreading. With the help of the Esquimalt water supplied by the new works, this was done, but the outbuildings were entirely destroyed. The danger of the situation was aggravated by the close proximity of two powder magazines as, if the fire had spread, the consequences to life and property would have been disastrous.

Burglary at Last.

Yesterday afternoon, Provincial Constable Miller and Dominion Officer Lewis noticed an Indian coming out of the little junk shop kept by "Joe" Phoenix on Chatham street, carrying two molasses cans. The cans looked suspicion, and, upon investigation, one was found to contain molasses and the other whiskey, plain and unmistakably an "intoxicant." The Indian said that he had procured his forbidden luxuries from Phoenix, paying him $3 for the little can of bad whiskey. The seller was arrested and will answer for his misdeeds in the police court this morning. He was up a short time ago for cruelty to animals. He partially acknowledges selling the liquor by saying that he will go to jail, but will not pay a fine.
