

Prohibiting Sealing in Behring Sea Passes its Second Reading.

Endeavoring to Arrive at a Friendly Conclusion With the United States.

In the House of Commons the Hon. W. H. Smith read the bill for the Bering Sea. He said the Government was endeavoring to arrive at a friendly conclusion with the United States.

The bill was the result of a desire on the part of the Government to make an amicable arrangement with the United States regarding the Bering Sea seal fishery.

The bill was passed by a large majority in the House of Commons. It provides for the prohibition of sealing in the Bering Sea.

The bill is now in the hands of the Government. It is expected that it will be passed by the House of Commons in the near future.

WELL-NAMED.

The leading article in the Vancouver World of Saturday is very appropriately headed "Senseless and Unjustified."

The subject matter is senseless detraction of Victoria and unjustifiable misrepresentation of her commercial position.

It is to be asked, what could be expected of a journal that showed its animus towards Victoria by attempting to rub it off the face of the globe?

The World makes the claim which the press of Victoria has been lately preferring for justice to this city in the appropriations for the maintenance of the public works.

The World's article contains a table of three months' trade of the province, and draws from its ridiculously insufficient data the conclusion that "To Nanaimo must be awarded the first position as an export port."

trade of the cities of the province would take a part of the year when there was within its reach the means of showing how they stood relatively during a series of years.

Victoria courts inquiry into this as well as into other subjects relating to her trade and commerce. Here are the figures of the exports of the ports of the province for five years.

Table with 4 columns: Year, Nanaimo, N. Westm., Vancouver, Victoria. Rows for 1886, 1887, 1888, 1889, 1890.

The above figures do not show that to Nanaimo must be awarded the first position as an export port. No do they prove that Victoria has the remotest chance of ever exceeding Victoria in its exports.

The truth is, and the World well knows it, Victoria takes the lead in commerce on this side of the Dominion. It was thought that when the railroad was completed the trade of Victoria would fall off.

One of the best proofs of the progress of Victoria is the establishment of a daily line of steamers between it and New Westminster.

porary, if it required a little, would learn that the Government of Great Britain takes cognizance of crimes committed on the high seas.

Crimes that are committed at sea on a British ship are inquired into and punished under British laws. There is no man's land for a man who sails in a British ship.

It is not possible that there may be opposition in the party to Sir Charles Tupper's leadership, but when those Conservatives who do not admire him are face to face with a crisis, they will be convinced that they will have to sink their personal predilections for the general good.

denly have become very poor when for the purpose of saving the fur seal from extinction it cannot afford to feed a few savages for a few months.

This is a good sense and fair-play, provided such an extreme measure as total cessation from sealing is really required. And here comes the singular part of the business.

It is true that Professor Elliott says that it is not possible that the seals are in danger of extermination. He is not a seal expert.

on behalf of such business, except the law of Nature that rules the proud hypocrite. "God is love," and His law is do as you would be done by, and, if a master, be listened to at all, it can only be on this law laid down in God's word.
