HALIFAX, N. S., Nov. 6 .- Hon. W. S. Fielding is going to England, but whether he is going there to reside permanently, or only for a rest, his friends do not state.

A particular friend of the ex-finance minister has expressed the opinion that Mr. Fielding is likely to enter the imperial parliament, offering for one of the London ridings. This, he said, depends upon how Mr. Fidding feels when he has been on the other side of the Atlantic for a while, and has sized up the situation. The ex-finance minister, he further said, had about abandoned all hope of securing a seat at Ottawa, and recognizes that for some time at least he will be the target of wrath of a great section of the Liberal party on account of his persistency in going to the country on the question of reciprocity.

Eighteen Judgments Handed Down on First Day of Sitting —Decision Involving Civic Liability

VANCOUVER, B. C., Nov. 7 .- The court of appeal opened its sittings here this morning by handing down eighteen judgments. The list was remarkable in that while it contained only eight judgments on which the court was unanim ous only two appeals were allowed.

The most important judgment returned was that of Charles Woodward against the city of Vancouver. Mr. Woodward was awarded $10000 damages in the supreme court for the flooding of the basement of his department through an alleged defective drain.

Chief Justice Macdonald dissents from the judgment of Justices Irving and Galliher in this matter. Mr. Justice Galliher in his judgment says: "There is no statutory liability cast upon corporations to keep drains in repair, as is the case in regard to streets, and their liability, if any, is under the common law. I would allow the appeal and dismiss the plaintiff's action with costs

In the appeal in Cummings vs. Vancouver, the city was not so successful. William Cummings was injured in the first place by falling through a hole left in the cement pavement on Hastings street, and was given heavy damages. The city appealed against the verdict, but the appeal was dismissed, Mr. Justice Martin dissenting. In the appeal of the B. C. Electric Company against the judgment of the lower court awarding heavy damages to the parents of a boy named Mueller killed by a fallen wire, the court was evenly divided, so that the verdict of the lower court stands.

The court was also evenly divided on the appeal of the licensing board of Prince Rupert against the mandamus of the supreme court compelling them to renew Mr. Prudhomme's hotel licence. Mr. Prudhomme is, therefore, entitled to retain his licence.

Other cases remain as they were with the exception of Daudebon vs. Roumegos, which arose out of a dispute between the partners in the French bakery in this city. The matter came un first before Judge Grant. It concerns the taking of accounts between the partners rather than anything else.

The court, which is composed of Chief Justice Macdonald and Justices Irving and Galliher, was occupied all this afternoon in hearing arguments in the Victoria appeal of Rex vs. Day, a certain naval stores at Esquimalt. The rgument is still proceeding.

Statement Covering 575 Mills in United States Issued by National Association

TACOMA. Nov. 7 .- In summarizing the report of the National Lumber Manufacturers' association for the month of September, covering 575 mills, Leonard Bronson, national manager with headquarters here, today issued the following statement:

"Oregon, Washington and Idaho all show a heavy excess of production for September, Washington the smallest and Idaho the largest, but in the latter case the mills do not run in the winter and may be supposed to accumulate stock during the summer for the winter trade. The percentage of cut over shipnents for Washington was 734, and for Oregon 12. California also had a heavy surplus over output.

"For the whole country, however, there is a better balance between supply and demand. In Arkansas and Louisiana the output was less than shipments.' Storm in Straits

W. T. Isted Says Many British Steamship Concerns Plan Extensions to North Pacific via Panama

That six large steamship lines operating from Liverpool, Hamburg and Meditteranean ports are contemplating the inauguration of steamship lines to teh North Pacific coast following the opening of the Panama canal, is the statement made by W. T. Isted, the well known marine insurance adjuster of Seattle, who has returned to the Sound city from a trip to New York. Mr. Isted said:

,"I find that many of the transatlantic had their special representatives look-ing over the Pacific coast with a view to securing terminals. At the present time I know of six large steamship lines operating from Liverpool, London, Hamburg and the Meditteranean ports that are already figuring on entering this trade. In addition to bringing through cargo they will also cater for the immigrant travel and there is no doubt in my mind that there will be a big inflow of peasant labor into this northwestern country."

The minister of militia addressed the boys briefly, expressing pleasure at being able to meet the boys, and complimenting them on their smart appearance. He stated that the corps was a great credit to the city. "Cadet corps," said the colonel, "were the training schools for the Canadian militia."

The minister remarked on the Ross rifles, mark 11, with which the boys were equipped, and, assured Captain Davis that the corps would be supplied with long Ross rifles of the mark III type, which would enable them to become expert marksmen. In closing the colonel thanked the officers and boys for turning out.

TO REVOLUTION

Former Chinese Minister at Washington Joins Movement for Reform-Personally in Favor of Monarchy

SHANGHAI, Nov. 7.-Dr. Wu Ting Fang, who has been chosen director of foreign affairs in the reform government established by the revolutionists in the province of Klang Su, gave a statement to the Associated Press today in which he announced his adhercase arising out of the alleged theft of ence to the movement designed to establish a republican form of government in China,

Dr. Wu Ting Fang has twice occupied the office of Chinese minister to be feasible. Personally he favored a the United States, in which he became | constitutional monarchy; but he was well known. He was first sent to in sympathy with the general revolu-Vashington in 1897, remaining there tionary movement and the majority until 1902, when he was recalled. He behind that movement had set their returned to the same post in 1907 and was again recalled in 1909. For a time he appeared to have been relegated permanently to private life, but in August, 1910, he was councillor to the Chinese foreign office. His advanced ideas have not always harmonized with the Imperial policy and it has been no secret that recently he was not wholly in sympathy with the throne. He is the most imposing figure that has appeared in the revolution stage during the last year. That he has espoused the rebel cause was received with incredulity. When the rebels proclaimed a provisional gov ernment at Shanghai he was made head of the foreign bureau, but the appointment was not taken seriously and as late as yesterday he declined to acknowledge any participation in the revolutionary administration. His attitude as formally announced today s expected to have a far-reaching influence. At his residence, within the American settlement of Shanghai Dr. Wu outlined the plans and hopes of the reformers in China. Wu Sang Fuy, formerly imperial resident at L'Hassa, Tibet, who had been appointed assistant director of foreign affairs in the new government, was present when the statement was made.

Dr. Wu said that while he was loath to accept office, and hesitated because of his more close relation with the Manchu government, he was now practically forced to aid the cause of China. He announced that Cheng Te Chuan, the governor at Soo Chow and formerly governor at Mukden, was the next to come over to the rebels. Cheng Te Chuan, he said, was a strong man and would be able to control the rebels and guarantee order and safety of foreigners. Ninety per cent. of the population, e said, would be supporting the present status.

Dr. Wu continued: "Personally shipping although several tugs lost their favored a limited monarchy, retaining tows of scows and poles and small craft the emperor as a figurehead with a had to seek shelter in coves along the strong Chinese cabinet and constitution, but the prevailing opinion appears to favor a republic.

"In each province a governor will be selected, each city and town giving its allegiance to the new government. The whole people of China, north and south, are united against Manchu supremacy and the government at Pekin, which is corrupt and prone to oppressive "I admit there are tremendous difficulties before us, but we must wait. We guarantee an adherence to foreign treaties, whether they were made unfairly or fairly. We will pay our obligations to foreign nations and open all the ports of China to foreign trade. Thus will be guaranteed an enormous advantage to all foreigners as well as to China.'

SHINGLE MILL BURNED High Gale Fans Plames From Blazing Structure on Montreal Street Early

Yesterday Morning

Fire, the origin of which is a mysery, yesterday morning shortly after 4 o'clock destroyed the one storey, frame, tin-roofed shingle mill, 618 Montreal street, owned by Mrs. Sophia Wanner and occupied by the Bulman Lumber Company, Ltd., and did considerable damage to the two storey frame dwelling adjoining the mill occupied by Capt. and Mrs. Warren.
