Some Peach Recipes

PEACH SALAD
Stone peaches, fill with cream cheese mixed with cream and shredded almonds. Serve with whipped cream.

PEACHES IN CANTALOUPE
Fill halves of cold cantaloupes with sliced peaches. Sprinkle them with sugar and candied ginger, chopped fine, and serve with whipped cream.

PICKLED PEACHES
Pare large peaches but do not cut them, stick 3 cloves in each. Weigh 7 lbs. of fruit to 3½ lbs. of sugar. Put sugar in porcelain kettle with 1 quart of vinegar, 2 sticks of cinnamon and 1 tablespoonful of whole cloves. Boil 10 minutes. Add fruit a few pieces at a time, and cook till clear, but not soft. Lift into cans, boil down syrup and strain over them.

BOILED PEACH PUDDING
Line a pudding basin with suet crust, fill with sliced peaches, and sprinkle each layer with brown sugar. Cover with crust, tie up in floured cloth, and boil from 2 to 3 hours.

PEACH SHORTCAKE
Prepare a dough as for biscuits, using a little butter in the shortening and an egg mixed with the milk which is used in moistening. A mixing spoon of sugar may be added. Bake in a quick oven (an iron pan is the best). Have the peaches pared and crushed with a generous measure of sugar, and allow to stand until meal time, when the shortcake should be split and filled with crushed peaches. Serve with rich cream.

PALE, WEAK GIRLS

Grow Into Weak Despondent Women—How to Overcome the Trouble

Healthy girlhood is the only path to healthy womanhood. The passing from girlhood to womanhood lays a new tax upon the blood. It is the overtaxing of the blood that makes growing girls suffer from headaches and backaches, from paleness and weakness and weariness, from languor, despondency and constant ill health. Unhealthy girlhood is bound to lead to unhealthy womanhood and a life of misery. Nothing but the blood building qualities of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills can save a girl when she undertakes the trials and tasks of womanhood. That is the time when nature makes new demands upon the blood supply. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills actually make new, rich blood to meet these demands. In this simple, scientific way Dr. Williams' Pink Pills give growing girls new health, and make their dawning womanhood bright and attractive. Miss A. Sternberg, Haileybury Road, New Liskeard, Ont., says: "I have much reason to be grateful to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills as they restored me to health, it, indeed, they did not save my life. In 1914 I began to feel run down, and the doctor who was called in said that mine was a bad case of anaemia. I lost flesh, always felt tired, and I got so nervous that I could scarcely hold a cup to take a drink. My heart would flutter alarmingly. The doctor did not seem to be able to help me at all and my family and friends all thought that I was in a decline and could not recover. I was in bed for some weeks when an aunt came to see me and urged that I try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. My father got a supply, and by the time I had taken three boxes there was a noticeable improvement, and from that on I steadily progressed toward recovery. I continued using the pills for some time longer, and they restored me to my old time health and strength. I shall never cease to praise this medicine, and to urge all weak run down girls to give it a fair trial, as I have proved in my own case their great merit."

You can get these pills through any medicine dealer or by mail, post paid, at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Fatal Accident in Bosanquet

Mr. Ezekiah Stoner of Parkhill was accidentally killed on Thursday last on the second line Bosanquet, close to the home where he spent the best part of his days. Mr. Stoner, who lives retired, was visiting his sons in Bosanquet at the time of his death. About 7.30 on the morning in question he was driving from the home of his eldest son, Roy, to the old homestead on the same line when he passed a load of hogs. His horse becoming frightened, bolted, became unmanageable and turned into a lane where Mr. Stoner was thrown violently out of the rig against a tree. When picked up an examination showed that Mr. Stoner's body was badly crushed on one side. He passed away shortly afterwards. He leaves to mourn his sudden end a widow and six sons, Roy, Earl, Arthur, Orville, of Bosanquet, and Cecil and Lawrence of Parkhill. Mr. Stoner was in his 57th year. The funeral was held from the old homestead, second line Bosanquet, on Monday, Aug. 28th at 1.30. Service was held in the Arkona Baptist church, the Rev. Charlesworth of Parkhill officiating. Interment made in Arkona cemetery. The pall-bearers were his six sons and a nephew, Norman Stoner.

Glen Rawlings' barn, Lake road, Bosanquet, was struck by lightning on Tuesday last week. Mr. Rawlings and his wife, Mrs. Rawlings, were in the barn at the time. Fire started in the hay, but by hard work the blaze was overcome before any serious damage was done.

With a smile on his face, Lieut. Edwin Baker, the Queen's student who lost the sight of both his eyes fighting at the front, told a large gathering in the village of Odessa, near Kingston, where he was welcomed, that he did not consider the loss of his eyes an affliction. "It is merely a handicap," he added; and the young hero was loudly cheered.

A small yield of small-sized potatoes is looked for this year by officials of the Department of Agriculture. While the crop escaped rot and other diseases induced by last year's wet season, the dry spell of the last two months has dwarfed the potatoes. The yield is expected not to exceed that of last year's, which in turn was only one-half the size of that in 1914.

A young man in Orangeville went to see his girl on night last week. After the old folks had retired, the young man edged his chair up close to the girl and gently put his arm around her. After chatting for some time he unfortunately fell asleep. This so annoyed the girl that she gently released herself and put the chair on the chair just vacated. The sleepy youth was hugging the chair when the old man came downstairs the morning.

The ten-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Conn, of Sarnia, is in the Sarnia hospital suffering from typhoid fever. With his parents he had been taking a vacation at Port Frank, and one day while bathing in the lake cut his foot on a broken bottle. He was laid up for awhile with the cut, and later it developed that he had contracted typhoid fever. The source of the disease is not known. It is supposed that he got it from drinking water.

Wyoming Enterprise;—A hitch has taken place in the process of installing the Hydro Electric in the municipality during the past week. The men engaged in the placing of metres in the wired building found conditions in some of them which prevented them from completing the work, and as both the London and Sarnia men who installed the wiring had left the village, the men were obliged to leave the work undone. In the meantime the connection of the power to the buildings will be deterred until the defects shall have been remedied. We are at a loss to know why the Government inspector had not noticed the omissions when he made the inspections after the wiring had been done. The head inspector was here last week and looked over the work.

Toronto
Toronto, August 29.—Receipts at the Union stockyards to-day were 620 cattle, 162 calves, 1,354 hogs and 846 sheep.
Cattle moved very slowly again this morning at the Union stockyards, dealers appearing somewhat reluctant to close transactions. The result was that the market dragged along, till a little later than usual and early sales were few and far between.
The market was generally steady, with prices ruling unchanged for most animals. Spring lambs were a little firmer, the best grade selling up to 11½c. Hogs were plentiful, but held their price well. Choice grade steers moved freely and were firm. Bulls were draggy and other classes slow though steady.

How England Started The War

(From the Hartford Courant.)
As the German Emperor so convincingly says, England, after making all her plans, selected the day for the war to begin, and she selected it when she knew that Germany was prepared for war in absolutely every respect and that she herself had only a handful of soldiers and ammunition enough to last about a week, with no provisions for increasing the supply. The circumstances provide all the evidence the emperor needs for his argument although his armies were invading Belgium even while the British ambassador at Berlin was begging Germany to refrain.

James Cahill, the Aldborough Township farmer, who developed lockjaw recently as the result of having his thumb broken in an accident on his farm, died Thursday night at St. Joseph's Hospital, London. Mr. Cahill's thumb was broken while leading a fractious calf. He was leading it by a rope which became twisted about the member, and broke it when his hand got jammed against a fence post.
