

OWES HER LIFE TO "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

Cured Both Stomach Trouble and Headaches

PALMERSTON, ONT., June 20th, 1913.
"I really believe that I owe my life to 'Fruit-a-tives'. Ever since childhood, I have been under the care of physicians and have been paying doctor's bills. I was so sick and worn out that people on the street often asked me if I thought I could get along without help. The same old Stomach Trouble and distressing Headaches were driving me wild. Sometime ago, I got a box of 'Fruit-a-tives' and the first box did me good. My husband was delighted and advised a continuation of their use.

Today, I am feeling fine, and a physician meeting me on the street, noticed my improved appearance and asked the reason. I replied, 'I am taking Fruit-a-tives'. He said, 'Well, if Fruit-a-tives are making you look so well, go ahead and take them. They are doing more for you than I can'.

Mrs. H. S. WILLIAMS.

'Fruit-a-tives' are sold by all dealers at 50c. a box. 6 for $2.50, trial size 25c. or sent postpaid on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

Looking For Privates.

Visit Salisbury camp any Sunday and watch the battery of limousines drawn up close to the battalion lines, says J. A. Maclean in a recent article in The Toronto Sunday World. Sunday is visitors' day, and thousands of relatives and friends motor out to the camp from the south and north, east and west. Practically all that troops do on Sunday is to attend church service in the morning and receive visitors. Many, of course, go to London and elsewhere on leave for the week end.

"Is Private Johnston in this battalion?" asked a silk hatted plutocrat in a limousine which has stopped at one of the camp roads near the quarters of the Toronto or Montreal Highlanders, the Queen's Own or some other battalion. The soldier addressed sprang alongside the rows of tents and yells the name out: "Private Johnston." The soldier wanted appeared most likely in mud and grease stained khaki and walks out to meet his uncle who is connected with the War Office, or the Admiralty, head of a half a dozen banks or something like that.

"When you get relatives in the ranks you get a pretty good idea of whom these Canadians are," said an officer. "They are the best."

Another officer remarked: "You know we must have discipline and we are gradually getting it. But it is hard going some times especially if a man is almost unmanageable. Most of these fellows had no previous knowledge of soldiering. It's rather tough when you have got to call down the son of a your boss for coming in late on parade."

A Happy New Year.

A steamship official of Irish birth, who resides in Montreal during the summer navigation season and spends the remainder of the year in Halifax, the winter port of his line, was explaining the compensations of his mode of life to his Montreal friends while preparing to leave them a few weeks ago. "I do like to spend New Year's Day in Halifax," he said. "In fact, I wouldn't miss it for any amount of money. Every time you enter a bar, the bartender always insists on buying the first drink. It's a local custom there, and a good one. If you start out early enough, by noon you feel so good that you start buying drinks yourself."

Heard of War September 17.

C. D. Melville, of Edmonton, who is on the fisheries staff of the Department of Marine and Fisheries, did not know anything about the European war until September 17. He had been busy up in the James Bay region all summer and on September 17 arrived at Moose Factory where he learned of what was going on in the outside world.

He is now en route to the Old Country to serve as an officer in one of the regiments there.

Distributing Empty Sacks.

Acting in concert with the British Board of Trade, the London authorities have begun the delivery of empty sacks in which Canada's gift of flour reached Britain. Before being sent out they are marked "N.R.F." and "B.R.F.," indicating that they were sold for the benefit of the National and Belgian Relief Funds, which are priced at five shillings, each being placed for various uses. For instance, the Birmingham Art Emporium has bought a quantity of them and is having them designed with the Union Jack and French, Belgian, Russian and Serbian flags, and embroidered in appropriate colors. A laurel wreath will encircle the words, "Canada's Gift, 1914," so that when completed the sacks will form an effective cushion-cover or mat.

Back From War Zone.

J. J. Carriac, M.P., Port Arthur, has just returned to Canada from a visit to the war zone in Belgium and northern France. He made a 300-mile automobile tour from Dunkirk and was within a mile or two of the trenches and batteries of the allies at different places. The British troops he described as being in splendid spirit. He also saw the Indian troops, who were very proud to fight beside the British soldiers in a European war.

At Salisbury Plain, Mr. Carriac said, the Canadian troops were for the most part healthy and happy, but impatient at the long delay in their return to the front.

The sum of $1554.58 was expended for the support of the outside poor during the year.

We have endeavored to keep as careful supervision as possible over this expenditure, and placed as many as possible in the Alms House. This institution is filled to its capacity at present.

We would urge that great care should be used in selecting Overseers of Poor, and that only men of good business ability be appointed. There is also great need that they should be better instructed in the provisions of the Poor Law. Mistakes occur quite frequently which are hard to rectify.

We append a detailed statement of this expenditure as well of that for maintenance of the County Hospital and Home.

All of which is respectfully submitted.
