

PUBLISHER'S ANNOUNCEMENT.

To our Readers,—

There has been a steadily growing demand for back numbers of this series of Canadian Historical Readings. Though large editions of the early numbers were issued, the steady call for them has led to their being rapidly taken up, so that those who wish for the full series should not delay too long in applying for them.

The best plan is to subscribe at once for the whole series, and this will insure their prompt delivery to your address as each number is issued.

The series will be completed in twelve numbers, containing about 350 pages of reading matter of the greatest interest to students of Canadian history and geography. The most stirring incidents in our history have been selected, many of them from original papers and documents not accessible to the general reader. The result will be a unique and interesting collection which will prove of the greatest value to the student and reader of history.
