Words of the Wise.

PURITY should keep the door of all our thoughts.

As we are not allowed to be idle in this world and to do nothing, so we are not allowed to be wilful and to do what we please.

A goop conscience is the palace of Christ; the temple of the Holy Ghost; the paradise of delight, the standing Sabbath of the saints.

It was Fuller who said. 'He that spends all his life in sport is like one who weare nothing but fringes and eats nothing but sauces."

THE interview is getting to be a synonym for the rack, or the thumscrew, or whatever indicates nice cruelty or severe infliction. -Standard.

LONGFELLOW tells us that "Love keeps the cold out better than a cloak." In that case there are some married people whose teeth are chattering.

HE that has a good God, a good heart, and a good wife to converse with, and yet complains he wants conversation, would not have been easy and content in paradise.

Prople say sadly that they are weary of living, but the truth is not in them. In their heart-of hearts they are constantly quoting Shakspoore: "O, excellent: I love long life better than figs!"

THE Christ whom we preach must be the full Curist of the Gospel—not the ideal, but the historic Christ; not a Christ of one's own invention and handiwork, but the Christ whom the believing Church of all ages con fesses and adores as her own. - Van Oosterzee.

Be reserved, but not sour, grave, but not formal; bold, but not rash; humble, but not servile; petient, but not insensible; constant, but not obstituate; cheerful, but not light, rather be sweet-tempered than familiar; familiar raths because intimate; and intimate with very few, and upon good grounds.

No man's spirits were ever hurt by doing his duty. On the contrary, one good action, one temptation resisted and overcome, one one temptation resisted and overcome, one sacrifice of desire of interest, purely for conscience sake, will prove a cordial for weak and low spirits beyond what either indulgence or diversion can do for them.

"I HAVE had six children, and I bless God or its spee grace that they are all with Christ or in Christ, and my mind is now at rest concerning them. My desire was that they should have served Christ on earth, but if God will choose to have them rather served Him in heaven. I have nothing to murmur at the switch a done." at ; His will be done.

THERE is not life which in the past has testified to the power and beauty of the Gospel, but what lives to day and shall continue in our future, unfolding life. There has been no shrinking from duty or sluggishness but what has left its impress on us; and on the other hand, no gift, no act of self-denial, which does not still wirk in us as a beneficient power -R. S. Storre

REMEMBER the good old rabbi who was awakened by one of his twelve sons saying "Behold my eleven brothers lie sleeping, and I am the only one who wakens to praise and pray." "Son," said the wise father, "you had better be asleep, too, than wake is censure your brothers." No fault can be abled as the feeling which is quick to seek him speak of other recupie a wrongs. speak of other people's wrongs.
