

SUMMARY OF IRISH NEWS.

Antrim.

On Nov. 9th, the remains of the late Sergeant James McGilgan, R.I.C., were removed from the Grosvenor Road barracks, Belfast, for interment in the family burying-ground, county Derry.

Armagh.

A woman named Ann Cassels, about 60 years of age was knocked down and run over in West street, Portadown, on Nov. 8th, by a horse and cart. It appears that the horse bolted at the railway station, where the driver, a man named Robert Wilson, was transacting some business for his employer, Mr. Watson, of Belfast. The animal dashed up John street, and into West street, where the accident occurred. The injured woman died two hours after being run over.

Cavan.

The redoubtable "Colonel" Sanderson has retired from the colonelcy of the Cavan Militia. It was never a very arduous post. In the old days of 1880, "Major" Sanderson was popular enough; but the men, who are mostly Nationalists, were so amused at his threats to lead them against Home Rule that he has only ventured to put in an appearance at the parade ground two or three times since. His promotion has gone on, nevertheless, and he has religiously "drawn pay." A Militia officer who is also a member of Parliament may receive his pay and be excused from training. The pay, also, is at a higher rate per diem than in the line of the regular army, as the Militia officer is allowed "commutation of quarters," and other extras, which, as he, presumably, lives in his own house, is so much extra pay.

Clare.

At a meeting of the Protestant Bishops of Ireland, on November 15th, Rev. Canon Wynne was elected Bishop of Killaloe, in room of the Rev. Dr. Chester, deceased. There were two candidates for the vacant bishopric, the other being Dr. Reid, Archdeacon of Armagh. Canon Wynne belongs to the Sligo family of that name.

Cork.

With regret we record the death of the Rev. James Lehane, C.C., of the Cathedral, Cork. Though not in robust health for some time past, so great was his devotion to duty, and his unselfishness of his own labors, that he never complained of the trying affection which was slowly but surely undermining his system, until it pleased the good Master, whom he had served so well, to summon him to his reward almost in the actual discharge of duty. He died of an attack of acute bronchitis, on Nov. 17th, in the 48th year of his age, and the 23d of his sacred Ministry. Father Lehane had been transferred from Kinsale to the curacy at the North Cathedral about eighteen months ago.

Donnegal.

Most Rev. Dr. O'Donnell, Bishop of Raphoe, has intimated to the agent of his property at St. John's Point, that the tenants have been granted 25 per cent. reduction on the present year's rents. Dr. O'Donnell has on former occasions granted from 20 to 30 per cent. abatement, according as the prospects of the occupiers advanced or receded. The reductions are a voluntary concession.

Down.

The early death of Miss Catherine Cunningham, second daughter of Wm. Cunningham, Esq., merchant, Killbeg, Kilkee, was the cause of universal regret in Kilkee and district. The funeral cortege, which left her father's residence, at half-past two o'clock on Sunday, November 12th, for Massaford Catholic Church, where the interment took place, showed by its numbers and representative character the widespread sympathy felt for the sorrow-stricken family, and the high esteem in which the deceased young lady was held. The line of cars and other vehicles which followed the hearse extended over half a mile, and was followed by a large procession of pedestrians.

Waterford.

We regret to announce the death of Mr. Bartholomew McDonald, father of Mr. D. McDonald, Deputy Vice-Chairman, Waterford Board of Guardians, which took place at his residence, Bailey's New street, on Nov. 14th. Mr. McDonald, who occupied for many years a very responsible position in the employment of the Waterford Steamship Company, was a deservedly popular man.

Westmeath.

About one o'clock p.m., on November 13th, a railway employe named James McLoughlin, aged about 45 years, met his death at the railway station in Mullingar. While engaged at his duties as a shunter he was knocked down by a run-away train, the wheels of which passed over his legs, and severed them completely from the body.

Wexford.

All the out-going councillors for the Wexford Corporation are seeking re-election, and as up to the last day for receiving nominations no new candidate had come forward, it is expected the present councillors will retain their seats. Their names are:—for St. Mary's Ward, the Mayor and Mr. James St. George; St. Selskar Ward, Messrs. Laurence Lacy and M. Somers; St. Iberins Ward, Messrs. John Tygbe and Richard Walsh.

St. Alphonsus Catholic Association.

A most successful entertainment was given by the members of the above Association at their hall, on McCaul street, on Tuesday evening, the 28th ult. An immense crowd thronged the hall, the fact that this was the inaugural meeting of the Association attracting many.

The Rev. Father Barrett performed the duties of chairman, and briefly explained the aims and objects of the Association, and its workings from its inception.

Unfortunately Mr. L. V. McBrady, the President, through illness was unable to be present; consequently there was no inaugural address, as was expected.

The violin obligato by Mr. James Glinna and the harp solo by Mr. B. Glinna merited the applause which they received; as also did the vocal solos by Miss James, Messrs. G. T. Penderith, Ed. Walsh, T. W. Chattoe and M. Costello. Miss Mollie O'Donoghue made an efficient accompanist.

A storm of applause greeted the newly elected vice-president, Mr. John G. O'Donoghue, as he mounted the platform to outline the programme which the Executive have prepared for the ensuing year in the way of entertainment which the Association proposes giving to the members and their friends. After thanking the large audience for the manner in which they responded to the invitations by turning out in such great numbers to attend the inaugural meeting of the Association, and thereby leaving the impression on the members that their work as a Society was appreciated. The speaker proceeded to explain the nature of the various entertainments for the coming season, which consist of a series of readings, debates, etc., and also lectures on several subjects by such distinguished speakers as Dr. Daniel Clark, Rev. Father Ryan, William Houston, M.A., Rev. Father Reddin, Mr. Bengough and Mr. Thomas Mulvey, all of whom will doubtless be accorded a rousing reception. Mr. O'Donoghue, in the course of his remarks, stated that the Club had undoubtedly made great strides since its formation some five years ago, but regretted to say that the Association was greatly in need of an urgent necessity—a gymnasium—and in order to provide for this necessity the Association intends to enlarge the Club-house at a cost of about $600. In order that this project may be carried to a successful end entertainments will be given, the proceeds of which will be placed to the credit of the gymnasium fund, and in this way the Club hopes in the near future to have erected a gymnasium which will greatly add to the present comforts of its house. He trusted that each entertainment for this object would be graced with an audience equally as large and equally as spirited as the one here to-night. Mr. Mr. O'Donoghue's speech was heard with rapt attention, and was frequently loudly applauded.

The national anthem brought to a close a successful entertainment.

EPPE'S COCOA

BREAKFAST—SUPPER.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well selected Cocoa, Mr. Eppe has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape man, a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Good Service Gazette. Made simply with boiling water or milk. Sold only in packets of 7 Grocers, labelled thus: JAMES EPPE & Co., Homoeopathic Chemists, London, England.
