Parish Notes

The Services in Holy Week will be daily at 10 a.m. and 8 p.m. On Thursday, called Maundy Thursday, from the institution of the Holy Communion on that day, there will be as usual two celebrations, viz., at 8 a.m. and after Matins.

On Good Friday the Children's Service will be at 10 o'clock, and the regular services at 11 and 8.

The First Evensong of the Easter Festival will be on Saturday, Easter Even, after the decorations are finished, at 5 p.m.

On Easter Day the celebrations of Holy Communion will be at 7, 8, and at mid day.

The Children's Easter Service will be at 3.30, when the offerings for the Indian Homes will be presented. The two Bible Classes will be present to help make the Children's Festival Service hearty and bright.

The Easter Offerings last year amounted to $220. The Churchwardens look for a largely increased offering this year. Things look that way, they say. If people have spent more on themselves they feel that they should spend more on their Church. Special mercies call for special acknowledgment through God's Treasury. Individual mercies will be reflected in Church offerings—at least by grateful hearts. And Easter Day is the Great Day in all the year for the acknowledgment of the best and greatest blessings.

The weekday services on Wednesdays and Fridays in Lent have been well attended. We are greatly indebted to the kindness of the clergy who have preached to us each week, Mr. Kuhring, Mr. James, Mr. Skey, Canon Cody, Professor Clark and Mr. Seager. Their sermons have been greatly appreciated, Mr. Seager's course on the Fatherhood of God being especially helpful.

No one could help noticing last Sunday how greatly improved the organ was; for during the week a new water motor of the most improved design was installed, and the organ itself tuned and put in thorough order. The enterprise of the Churchwardens, aided by the offertories on Sunday afternoons, has effected this. As a permanent result Divine Service will be greatly improved.

Anyone with a fairly good memory will remember that in our April issue of 1881 we noticed the gift of the first water motor by Miss Mary Plumb, afterwards Mrs. Charles James Rose. It was a good motor in its day, and has served a good end, and we do not forget the donor. But its day for work is over, and we cast it aside with the reflection: How poor is the best machine compared with a human being in whom is the breath of life!

Does anyone know a better school than St. Alban's for turning out manly boys? And they are none the worse for being under the eye of the Bishop, for all boys take to the Bishop!

WOMAN'S AUXILIARY

The St. George's Branch of the W. A. held its annual meeting on Monday, the 27th March. There was a large meeting of the women of the Church in this Parish, among whom we noticed the following old members, whom we are always glad to welcome: Mrs. Lockhart, Mrs. Percival and Mrs. Nash.

There were also present the Rev. C. Egerton Ryerson, Mrs. Davidson, and Mrs. Banks, all of whom, after the business of the meeting was concluded, gave most interesting addresses. After the President had taken the chair, and the Rector had opened the meeting with prayer, Mrs. Baines
