

NOVEMBER

PARTIAL CONTENTS OF "THE CANADIAN MAGAZINE"

The Wild Fowl of Ontario, by C. W. Nash. Second Paper, dealing with Deepwater Ducks. Mr. Nash is an authority on animal life, and official recorder and adviser to the Ontario Government in this department. His articles are illustrated by his own drawings.

MR. C. W. NASH.

animals by a Canadian writer—and a writer with an international reputation.

A Round-up, by John Innes. The story of the most picturesque of ranching operations, with a dozen striking illustrations by this artist-writer. A charming article which will interest every reader.

On a Deer-Trail, by W. R. Wadsworth. A story of a hunting expedition into the northern regions of Ontario. A timely story which will be of interest to those who have had experience in out-door life.

Chinese Carriers, by Harry C. Smart. This article shows how the Chinese perform the work that is done in civilized countries by railways, electric street cars and horses, with nine illustrations.

The Christmas Number will excel all other Christmas Numbers ever published in Canada. ❁ ❁ ❁ Ready December 1st.

Government Ownership of Railways, by R. L. Richardson, M.P. Third in a series of four articles. This is an important question, and Mr. Richardson's third and fourth articles will be the most important of the series.

Eight General Elections, by Arthur H. U. Colquhoun. An article which every voter will want to read in view of the pending general elections. It describes, with many anecdotes and reminiscences, all the general elections since Confederation. This article will break new ground.

Mooswa of the Boundaries, by W. A. Fraser. Third instalment. A splendid story for old and young. An animal story about Canadian

ARTHUR H. U.
COLQUHOUN.

The Canadian Magazine, - - Toronto, Ont.