

sary to the validity of orders, seeing that many of its most illustrious divines—Peter Martyr Martin Bucer, cum multis aliis who had never received Episcopal Orders had held benefices and exercised ministerial functions within its pale. This is historically true, and is of itself conclusive against the absurd claim of Apostolical Succession and valid Orders of late years put forth by some of the extreme Ritualists. The fact is patent to all readers of history that in the early days of the Anglican church, and down to the time of Laud, no importance whatsoever was attached to Episcopal ordination; all ecclesiastical authority was held to flow from the Crown; and it was enough for the valid administration of the Anglican Sacraments that the person administering had authority from the civil power to administer.

His Grace the Archbishop of Toronto announced on Sunday, 12th inst., from the pulpit of St. Michael's Cathedral, a Pilgrimage for the end of the present month, the object of which will be to honor the Sacred Heart of Jesus, and to pray for the Catholic Church—more especially for the delivery of the Sovereign Pontiff from the hands of his enemies, the robber King of Piedmont and his soldiery. All true Catholics will make it a point of honor to take part in this act of devotion and public profession of faith. "Nam qui me erubuerit et meos sermones; hunc Filius hominis erubescet cum venerit in majestate sua."—St. Luc. 9, 26.

An anonymous correspondent who adopts the pseudonym of a Catholic Subscriber should know by this time that he never inserts anonymous communications; besides he is not a Catholic at all, for his speech doth discover him. "Nam et loquelia tua manifestum te facit" we say to him. He asks what reason he can assign for believing that there is a purgatory? There is but one reason for believing either in purgatory or believing in hell; in the Incarnation, or the Trinity that we, or any other Catholics know of—to wit, the teaching of the Catholic Church. Either that reason is sufficient for our quorist, or it is not. If it were, he would not ask what reason he can assign for believing that there is a purgatory. If it is not, he is not a Catholic; for a Catholic is one who believes all that the Church believes and teaches, and simply because she so believes and teaches. This is the highest, indeed the only sufficient reason that can be assigned for belief in any of the doctrines of the Christian religion, as supernaturally revealed.

His Excellency the Governor-General was in Montreal on Thursday of last week; and in the course of the afternoon, accompanied by Lady Dufferin, he paid a visit to the Convent of Mont Ste. Marie, under the charge of the Ladies of the Congregation. Though but little notice of the visit had been given, the Ladies had arranged a very brilliant reception. On their arrival at the entrance of the Convent His Excellency and suite were received by the Bishop of Montreal, Mgr. Tache, the Very Reverend Superior of the Seminary of St. Sulpice, and other ecclesiastics, and by the Lady Superior of St. Marie, by whom they were conducted over the establishment. They then entered the exhibition hall, where a seance of the young lady pupils had been prepared and who had the honor of performing several pieces of music before their distinguished visitors. An Address to His Excellency, and a handsome bouquet to Lady Dufferin were presented by the pupils, the receipt of which was acknowledged in suitable terms by His Excellency, who asked and obtained for his fair young entertainers the usual indulgence, which was of course, granted. The seance terminated with the performance of the National Anthem. On Monday morning the Governor-General left Montreal for Ottawa.

FRAUDS IN BUSINESS.—The land of the "open bible" is also par excellence the land of false weights and measures, and of adulterated goods. The time of the magistrates is well taken up investigating the never ending complaints brought before them of rascalities in the way of business; and so numerous have been the convictions in some branches of trade, in the milk selling business for instance, that as we learn from the Times "the London Dairyman's Association have held a meeting at which it was resolved to raise the retail price of milk."

But the dodges of the coal dealers are the smartest of any. They cheat the public with impunity, and defy the magistrates. Their modus operandi is this. They advertise their "best coals" for sale at a low price. The unwary, mostly of the poorer classes especially washerwomen and laundresses, pay their money, and receive in return a load of slates, black stone, and other rubbish which of course will not burn, even when oil is poured on it—as some of the many dupes of the rascals testified before the police courts. When before the Court, the vendors of the rubbish in question plead that they did not sell the stuff as "best coal," but simply as "our best coal" and that in truth they had none better in their yards. So the scoundrels go away smiling, and bless the Lord for the privileges which they enjoy as dwellers in the land of an "open bible."

M. MAZURETTE'S CONCERT.—M. Mazurette was most unfortunate in the weather.—Monday, the day of his first Concert, was one of the stormiest of the season, accompanied with a deluge of rain and a heavy N.E. gale. This prevented numbers from attending, and the audience was not so large as his merits, and the merits of his Troupe entitled him to expect.—Nothing daunted, however, M. Mazurette well maintained his reputation as one of the first pianists of the day, and by his brilliant execution enraptured his audience; in listening to him they felt that they were listening to an artist of the highest rank. M. Luderer, the violinist of the Company, achieved a great success, and was rapturously applauded by the audience, as were also Miss J. Daniel, and Mr. W. H. Stanley, especially in their duo "Only Three."

M. Mazurette, who is on his way to Paris, will probably visit Quebec, and some other of our Canadian cities. Should such be the case, we strongly advise all lovers of first class music not to let the opportunity slip, but to go and hear one who will in after years be held in remembrance as one of the great pianists of the present century.

Father O'Keefe writes to the Daily Express contradicting the report of his submission to his ecclesiastical superiors. He complains that he has "not got from the public the support he requires to continue the struggle with people of unlimited means;" but he adds, though he may be conquered, he will never yield.

The Iowa Catholic Advocate.—This is a recent and very handsome addition to the Catholic press of the U. States, and one which, judging from the number before us, will render good service to the cause of religion on this continent. We present to its editors our respects, and best wishes.

His Grace the Archbishop of Halifax has been pleased to make the following change: Rev P. Deneher, from Bedford to St. Joseph's Church, Halifax, where all letters and papers for him may be addressed.

Mr. Francis Treanor has kindly consented to act as our Agent for the True Witness in Charlotte-town, and surrounding country.

In our columns last week, appeared the announcement:—"In this city, on the 11th inst., the wife of J. A. Sadler, Esq., of a son."

The above should have read J. A. Sadler, employed, we believe, on the Daily Witness Staff.

The following was received too late for publication in our last week's issue:—

JOLIETTE, Oct. 13th, 1873. Dear Mr. Editor.—The Pastoral visit of Mgr. Fabre has been the occasion of much consolation and pleasure to the people of Joliette, and especially to the Faculty of the College. And for which reason, they left no means untried to make it as agreeable and pleasant as possible to all concerned. On the morning of the feast the students gave a very creditable entertainment, at which His Lordship and the public were invited to attend. All the young gentlemen acquitted themselves of the particular parts assigned them, in a manner which did much credit to themselves and no less to their instructors—as the many and hearty plaudits of the audience testified.

Monday being the Feast of St. Edward, the patron Saint of His Lordship, he sang Pontifical High Mass in honor of the occasion, in the presence of a vast assemblage of the laity and clergy.

The music, rendered by some one hundred voices and a brass band, under the management of the indefatigable Prof. L. Vandobonour, S.V., was superb. And in a word, the ceremonies and amusements connected with His Lordship's visit were of so impressive and delightful a nature as not to be easily forgotten by those who had the good fortune to participate. It might not be amiss to say a word here in reference to this College. For it is not as widely known as it deserves to be. The Institution, which embraces a College and Seminary, was founded by Hon. Bar. Joliette, in 1846, and was given by him to the Fathers of the Order of St. Viator. It is consequently in the 28th year of a prosperous existence. And under the able directorship of Rev. C. Beaudry, S.V., is making rapid strides in becoming one of the first, if not the very first College outside of Montreal. On Sunday morning in the chapel attached to the College, the following gentlemen were advanced to Minor Orders:—A. Panneton, Diocese of Montreal, R. Boivin, F. Mondor, F. X. Boiseau.

Tonsure:—A. Lapalme, Diocese of Montreal, T. Archambault, E. Doyle, Marquette; J. A. Hart, Albany.

The St. John, N.B., Freeman remarks that in Charlottetown, P.E.I., the Methodists also have built schools for the children of that denomination not being satisfied with the "education" given in the public schools. To this several of the denominations in this city will yet find themselves driven.

Montreal, 17th October, 1873.

The Grand Bazaar advertised in the Observer of the 26th ult., to come off in the Good Templars' Hall, on the evenings of Wednesday and Thursday, and got up by the Catholics of Wyoming and surrounding country, was a great success, the Hall being filled each night to its utmost capacity. The tables were loaded with everything to entice and satisfy the appetite; and the ladies, who had tables spread with many articles both useful and ornamental, were adepts in the art of disposing of them. When they got hold of a customer, his chances of leaving them, without leaving some of his dimes, were pretty small. No doubt there was a keen race between some of them who would make the most money. The great excitement of Thursday evening was the voting. Four young ladies' names were put up for a set of jewelry. Each vote represented the sum of ten cents. The voting was lively all the evening, but towards the close of the poll, at ten o'clock, the excitement ran high, and V. and X. came showering down fast; but as it well known in such contests, they got all beat but one. Miss Sutherland, of Wyoming, got over five hundred votes, beating her competitors by a few votes, so that she came out the lucky winner of the prize. The announcement was received by the audience with great applause. The two evening's entertainment proved very successful, realizing about six hundred dollars, which is to be applied toward the reducing the debt on their paragon. The entertainment came to a close about 11 o'clock. Dr. Devlin, of Hamilton, then took the stand, and thanked those belonging to the Church for the handsome manner in which they had come forward to assist in making the Bazaar such a success. He also thanked the friends in Wyoming and surrounding country, who were not members of the Church, for the patronage and assistance they rendered. The Rev. Father Darragh then requested the Wyoming Brass Band, which was in attendance, and had added very much to make it a pleasant evening, to close by playing the National Anthem, which was promptly responded to. It has seldom been our lot to be present where a large company enjoyed themselves better, and spent a pleasanter time than on the second evening of the Wyoming Bazaar.—Sarnia Observer.

THE LATEST SWINDLE.—This morning two young lads, who bore all the distinguishing characteristics of city gamins, came puffing and blowing along Mountain street, staggering under the weight of a well-filled bag. They stopped at a certain well-known junk store in that street, and opening their bag, offered its contents, apparently old rope—for sale. The junk dealer—it is stated that he was never taken in before—looked at the rope, placed the bag full on the scale, found it weighed 110 lbs., and offered the lads a penny per lb., which was thankfully accepted. The money was paid, and the dealer with a smile at having made a good bargain proceeded to empty out his purchase on the floor. A peculiar wriggling in the bag alarmed him, and he was utterly astounded, as, after the first coil of rope fell out, a lively urchin followed, who lit right side up on the floor. The last the astounded junk buyer saw of him was as he turned a neighbor corner. This seems a change on the old moral about buying a pig in a poke.—Witness, 14th inst.

SAN ACCIDENT.—Yesterday morning as the steamer Assomption was approaching the steamer La Mouche a feu at Verencez to permit the transfer of passengers, a blind habitant from Assomption, named Pierre Goyette, attempted, with his wife, to step on board before the gangway was laid. Missing his footing, he fell into the river, and his wife was only saved from sharing his fate by the efforts of the engineer of the Assomption who was standing near by. From all accounts it would seem that no exertion was made to save the unfortunate man who was next seen, as a strong current prevails near the spot, about thirty feet below the steamer. About ten minutes elapsed when he sank and was drowned. His wife came on to the city with the produce which he had intended to sell. The captain of La Mouche states that they had no time to rescue the man, and that any attempt to do so would have been dangerous.

STOWAWAYS AND THEIR TROUBLES.—The Steamship "St. Andrew," Capt. Fleming, which arrived from Limerick the other day, had on board seven young and athletic Irishmen who, it appears, stowed themselves away in the steamer was about leaving the Emerald Isle, turning up when the ship was fairly at sea, to the disgust of captain and officers. The latter put the men to assist the firemen, and thus work their passage out. They appeared before the Police Magistrate to-day to try and recover a small amount of wages which they alleged the captain promised them for their services when they reached Montreal. The case was settled through the exertions of Mr. A. Roy.—Witness.

THIS ENGLISH DIVORCE AND PROBATE COURTS.—It is shown by returns just printed that last year 303 petitions were filed for dissolution of marriage, and in the preceding year 298, which, with other petitions, made 396 last year. The fees in 1872 were £2,822 8s., against £3,948 in the previous year. Last year there were 10,147 probates granted, and 4,969 administrations. The total amount of stamps issued in London for probate and administration in the year was £1,748,908, of which £971,326 was for use in the London registry, and £777,582 in the district registries.

HALIFAX, Oct. 17.—The Acadia powder mills, situated at Waverly, exploded this morning. One workman was seriously injured. Cause, a mystery, but the mills are supposed to have been set on fire by three tramps, who were seen lurking in that vicinity last night.

Men make steam engines of themselves from morning till night, and, vice versa, dream of gold. The fearful strain upon the nervous system by thus taxing the mind produces not only Heart Disease, Dyspepsia and Lung Maladies, but is often the direct cause of Apoplexy, Insanity and Suicide. It is very remarkable that during the world's progress the discoveries are made suitable to the times. Hardly had man become prepared for speedy transit when the Railroad and the Steamboat were introduced, the desire for rapid intelligence developed the Telegraph. Coals are usually discovered as wood became scarce, and now, when men's minds are being taxed to their utmost in order to secure and enjoy the luxuries of an extravagant age, Fallow's Hypophosphites appears that they may by artificial means keep up this mental strain to an indefinite extent.

We all consider from the embodiment of strength and power, but how few are aware that it is this same element in the system that gives us strength and vigor, and that an insufficiency of it causes weakness and debility. The Peruvian Syrup, a prolix of iron, is prepared expressly to supply this vitalizing element.
