THE MIC-MAC REMEDY A SPECIFIC FOR SMALL-POX.

ANOTHER VICTORY FOR MAJOR LANE. A HOPELESS CASE OF SMALL-POX CURED BY THE MIC-MAC

GREENFIELD, Mass. To Major Jno. Lane,

DEAR SIR,-I telegraphed for a package of your Small-Pox Remedy on last Monday, which I received the following day. I would have instantly responded and forwarded the money, but thought 1 would await the result of its trial. I prepared the medicine myself so as to render everything secure and I am proud to be able to state that it produced almost instantaneous relief. It was a malignant case of Small-Pox-in fact, there was no hope of recovery expressed on any side; but by the application of your famous Remedy it easily yielded. Enclosed I send you a five dollar bill. Please acknowledge. Your truly, Rev. W. A. HENNEBERRY.

Price $5 per package.

DRINKING AND CORPULENCE.-M. Dancel has laid before the French Academy some experiments and observations on copulence, from which he deduces the conclusion that it is greately promoted in man and animals by drinking much fluid, and may be reduced by diminishing the liquid supply.

MURICAL FROM -The author of "Ten Years in Sweden," speaks of the Bombinater igneus, a little frog that has become naturalised in that country, as emitting a note like the ringing of bells. As this sound proceeds from the depth of the water, it appears to come from a long distance, although the frog may be within a few fathoms. Linnaus spoke of the same reptiles making sounds as if large bells were ringing in the distance.

A New STIMULANT.—It is said that in a very short time the stimulant known as "pitury," used by the aborgines in Central Australia, will be introduced into this country. The botanical name for the "pitury" plant is the Dubbisia Hopwoodi; and it seems that the retires of Central Australia charges seems that the natives of Central Australia chew the leaves of the plant just as Peruvians and Chilians masticate those of the coca, in order to invigorate them during their journeys through the desert. It is also used as a stimulent during war-

THE DEALNING OF THE ZUYDER Zee.—Active prepar ations are going on for the commencement of the long-projected work of draining the Zuyder Zee. A dam twentyfive miles long is to be carried across the gulf, and upon this pumping machines are to be erected having 10,000 horse power, and capable of discharging from the inclosed sea a quantity of water equivelent to 6,500,000 cubic metres daily. The work, it is expected, will occupy sixteen years for its completion, and its estimated cost will be 335,000,00J francs.

Antiparthies of Dega.—A brown retriever known to the writer, very good-tempered to most people and very quarelsome with some dogs, recently exhibited decided symptoms of anger when patted by a gentleman he usually made friends with. The dog's master suggested that this was probably because the visitor had been caressing his own dog with the same hand. To test this, the other hand to which the objection could not apply, was tried and the retriever immediately manifested his accus tom d pleasure at being noticed.

THE SAGACITY OF WILD GERSE -The large flocks of geese which are constantly passing over the town are frequently shot at, but they generally fly at too high an altitude to be reached by the leaden missiles. Sometimes, however, the shots take effect. The other day we were watching a flock flying southward, when the report of a gun was heard, and we observed one of the geese begin to fall slowly. The others, perceiving that the'r comrade was wounded uttered shrill cries of distress and about a dozen of them flew under the wounded bird, huddled together, so that their backs formed a sort of bed upon which the wounded one rested The buoyed it up for some time, the others meanwhile looking on and manifesting their concern by uttering loud and discordant stricks. Finding that their companion was unable to longer accompany them in their flight, they abandoned him to his fate, and he fell to the earth, and into the arms of an expectant Chinaman.—Anaheim (California) Gazette.

MYSIERIES OF A LUMP OF COAL.—For years no one supposed that a piece of soft coal dug from its mine or bed in the earth, possessed any other quality than being combustible, or was valuable for any other purpose than as fuel. It was next found that it would afford a gas which is also combustible. Chemical analysis proved it to be made of hydrogen. In process of time mechanical and chemical ingeuuity devised a mode of manufacturing this gas and applying it to the lighting of buildings and cities or a large scale. In doing this, other products of distillation were developed, until step by step, the following ingredients or materials are extracted from it; 1. An excellent oil to supply light-houses, equal to the best sporm oil, at lowest cost. 2. Benzole—a light sort of ethereal fluid. 3. Naphtha, bears did a supply side of the step of the a heavy fluid, useful to dissolve gutta percha indiarubber, &c. 4 An oil for lubricating purposes. 5. Asplaltum, in making varnishes, and covering over vaults. 6 Paraffin—awbite, crystalline substance, resembling white wax, which can be made into beautiful wax candles It meals at a temperature of

110 degrees, and affords an excellent light. All these susbtances are now made from soft coal. ANTS, AND THEIR HABITS .- These little creature have armies commanded by officers who issue their orders, insist upon obedience, and on the march will not permit any of the privates to stray from the ranks. There are some which till the ground, weed it, plant the particular grain on which they feed, cut it when ripe, and store it away in their subterranean granaries. There are ants which are as arrant slavcholders as any people on earth ever were. They make systematic raids on the nests of other ante carry off the unhatched cocoons, and yet rear them in their own nests to be their servants. There are ants which bury their dead-a fact which was discovered by accident. A lady had been obliged to kill some ants, the bodies of which lay about upon the ground. Presently, a single ant found its dead companions, and examined them, and then went off. It soon returned with a number of others, and proceeded to bury the dead bodies. Four ants went to each body, two lifting it, and the other two following the main body, some two hundred in number, following behind. The four bearers took their office in turns, one pair relieving the other when they were tired They went straight to sandy hillock, and their the bearers put down their burdens, and the others immeditaely began to dig holes. A dead ant was then placed in each grave, and the soil filled in. The most curious part of the proceedings was that some six or seven ants refused to assist in grave-digging, upon which the rest set upon them, killed them, dug one large hole, and tumbled them unceremoniously into it. THE FIRST HORSES IMPORTED INTO SOUTH AMERICA. -It is well known that on the march from Californin the horse of Cortes received divine honours, and under the name of Shimir-Shac was believed to be the God of Thunder. It is a curious fact. that this species of religious veneration has been exhibited by all the American tribes, whether of the North or of the South, on first finding themselves in presence of the noble animal The Indians of the Rio de la Plata, in whose territories it was destined to multiply beyond all procedents and who to-day make such free use of it' both for work and pleasure, saw it arrive on their shores not without terror. In 1537 Nuno Cabeca was appointed Governor of South America and carried out with him thirty horses. We can hardly imagine the respectful dread of the poor Indians on seeing these large unknown animals. Convinced of the superior intelligence, and believing that they understood Castilian, the natives begged the Spaniards to intercede for them, to beseech the horse to turn away his anger, and love them, if but a little. To ingratiate themselves, they presented rich bouquets, persuaded that the fragrant flowers of their praires would be particulary pleasing. In this they showed more sense than the Mexicans, who offered Shimin Shac roast chicken and hare

OUR RETAIL ESTABLISHMENTS. THE EXTENSIVE CLOTHING HOUSE OF J. G. KENNEDY & CO.

It has been the aim of the Commercial Review, in the exhibits we have made of the various brancher of industry with which our city abounds, to mention only those establishment that can be fairly called representatives of their trade. And while as a general rule we have taken only those which do a wholsale business, we have not overlooked those in the retail trade which, from the magnitude of their operations, deserve especial mention. Within the last few years a great change has taken place in the clothing trade. Ready-made goods are now produced in as fine fabrics and as good styles and make as are the most of custom-made suits. In fact there are many of our best citizens who buy ready-made clothing entirely, and none of their acquaintances are aware that their stylish suit do not come from a fashionable tailor. Especially has this feature of the grade been apparent during the hard times and when conomy was a necessity. The most extensive retail clothing house in this city is that of Messrs. J. G. Kennedy & Co., No. 31 St. Lawrence st. We had the pleasure of visiting this establishment a few days since, and we can safely assert that a larger finer or more stylish stock of clothing would be hard to find. The building occupied by them is four stories in height and is filled to repletion with every class of goods in the clothing line, comprising men's boys', and youths' ready-made clothing n every variety, Canadian and Scotch tweeds, cassimeres, doeskins, &c. On the first floor is the stock of over coats, suits, &c., in the latest styles and makes, and sold at prices to suit the most exacting. Indeed it would be difficult to find a customer who could not be suited in his department. The measuring and cuiting department is also on this floor. Here the finest custom-made clothing can be obtained at minimum prices. The 3rd and 4th floors are devoted to clothing of every description. They carry at all times a fine stock of tweeds, broadcloths, &c, &c., in bales. Their clothing for excellence of quality and first class workmanship and finish cannot be surpassed. We commend any of our readers who really want superior, well fitting, stylish, and durable custom or ready-made garments at bottom prices to pay this house a visit they are sure to be suited by going to this fine establishment.—Advt.

so that he literally died of hunger in the midst, of plenty. These new visitors to America, received with such respect and even terror, seen raised up a poserity whose numbers defy the powers of even approximate statistics. The savage ceased to dread the quondam divinity, but subdued him. In the vast pampas bordering on the Rio Negro da Lud the Indians eat horseflesh, preferring it to beef. Thus the noble animal, once looked upon by the savages as a divine being, now only satisfies their appetite, or bears them on their raids.
