

SUPPLEMENTAL SCHOOLS.

1. Supplemental schools are held each year for students who have failed in drafting or laboratory courses, in which there are no written examinations. To be eligible to attend a supplemental school, a student must:-

(a) Have secured a standing of at least 30% in the subject in question. Should his standing be lower than 30%, he must repeat the regular course. (Mar. 3, 1913.)

(b) Pay a fee of $10.00 to the University Bursar for each school he desires to attend. This fee is handed over to the instructor in charge of the school in payment for the extra services required of him.

2. Supplemental schools are held between 4 and 6 p.m. during October and November of each year.

3. The schedule of supplemental schools is arranged in conference between the Examination Committee and the heads of the Departments concerned.
