

detained near a month by contrary winds ; at last a favourable one came on, which we immediately took the advantage of, and having cleared the Orkney Isles, we proceeded along the coast of Scotland, &c. On the 5th of October anchored at the Nore ; and the day following moored alongside the hulk, after a long and tedious absence of four years, and near three months.

THE END.
