

the course thither. The stupidity of this letter nearly recommends it for good faith ; as to the other, attributed to Verrazzano, whatever may have been his ability as a navigator, or his merit as a discoverer, that document furnishes no evidences of either.