

- American type tendency
 the develop-
 improbable,
 and thought,
 civilization,
- i. 59
 etts, i. 515
 voting, i. 40
 2, 262
 ed to, i. 217,
 lectual rela-
 erica, ii. 6,
 eed Ring, ii.
 ee countries,
 fluence upon 3, 612
 a Executive 382, 509
 42, ii. 330
 s of, referred 17, 253, 352,
), ii. 11, 177
 21, 27, 36,
 0, 651, 665
 ia, i. 34
 80; relations
 ed States, ii.
 44-46, 211;
 608
 ics, ii. 474
 e States, ii.
 mental interd the United
 l to, i. 126, 71, 194, 199,
 rliament
 , i. 93, 94,
 See Parlia-
- IDAHO, Territory of, i. 557
 Illinois, State of, i. 572, 686
 Immigrants in America, i. 21, ii. 5, 260, 706; influence of public opinion
 upon them, 328; their influence upon the national character, 709; restrictions upon immigration, 710
 Impeachment of executive officers, i. 47,
 88, 208, 479; of judges, 106, 227,
 552
 Indian affairs, i. 84, 262; ii. 332
 Indian territory (west of Arkansas), i. 552
 Individualism, spirit of, in America, ii.
 406
 Individuals and Assemblies, combats between, i. 223
 Intellectual eminence, position accorded to, ii. 605
 Intellectual productivity, conditions of,
 ii. 613 sqq.; how far existing in America, 624; recent developments of American thought, 631; promise for the future, 641, 715
 Intellectual relation of America to Europe, ii. 634-643
 Interior, Secretary of the, i. 81, 84
 Interpretation of the Constitution, i.
 363; the interpreting authorities, 365;
 judicial principles of interpretation
 and construction, 367; lines of development of implied powers, 371;
 development by the executive and Congress, 372; checks on the process,
 375; its important results, 377-386
 Iowa, State of, i. 474
 Irish in America, The, i. 21; ii. 51,
 261, 328, 706
 Ivins, Mr., on the Party organization of
 New York, ii. 110
 JACKSON, Andrew (President), i. 52, 61,
 262, 366; ii. 98
 Jefferson, Thomas (President), i. 41, 43, 53, 372, 639, 642, 644, 651
 Jersey, New, State of, i. 416
 Johnson, Andrew (President), i. 47, 52,
 55, 59, 210
 Joint-stock companies, ii. 517
 Judiciary, American, General remarks on,
 ii. 476, 495-505
 Judiciary (Federal), The, i. 32, 701; cases of impeachment, 106; Federal courts a necessary part of the government, 225, 241; Supreme Court, 226;
 Circuit courts, 227; District courts, 228; Court of Claims, 228; their jurisdiction, 228-233; procedure, 233;
 working of the system, 234; separation of the judicial from the executive and legislative departments, 235; necessity for its creation, 241; the Courts do not control the legislature, but interpret the law, 247; importance of their functions, 248; the system not novel, 250; its success, 251; not peculiar to a Federal government, 253; the Courts and politics,
 255; salutary influence of the Bar,
 259; conflict with other authorities, 261; weak point in the constitution of the Supreme Court, 264, 269, 297;
 value of the Federal courts to the country, 265; degree of strength and stability possessed by them, 266;
 their relation to the State courts, 324;
 mode of interpreting the Constitution,
 364; development of their powers,
 392; character of the Bench, ii. 497;
 freedom from corruption, 500; its future, 595
 Judiciary (State), The, i. 32; nature of its authority, 430; principles of action, 431; variety of courts, 480;
 jurisdiction, 481; attempts at codification, 482; powers of judges, 483; mode of appointment, 483; tenure of office, 484; salaries, 485; character of the bench, 485; ii. 3, 26-29; amount of independence, 532; local judiciary
 in Illinois, 575; city judges, 597;
 judiciary of California, i. 722; charges
 of corruption, ii. 500
 KEARNEYISM in California, ii. 372-395
 Knights of Labour, ii. 12, 259
 "Know-nothing" party, ii. 253
 LABOUR party, ii. 11, 259, 704
Laissez faire, policy of, i. 332, 659, ii.
 404-423
 Laws, American, four kinds of, i. 243;
 their want of uniformity, 337
 Lectures in America, ii. 657
 Legal issues, their importance in Congress, i. 81
 Legal Profession. See Bar
 Legal Tender Acts, i. 263
 Legislation in America: the President's