

CONTENTS.

iii

CHAPTER VI.

MISSION IN THE MAURITIUS.

COMMENCEMENT of the mission—Description of the mission-house—Extracts from the journal of the missionaries—
State of the mission,.....126, 127

CHAPTER VII.

MISSIONS IN SOUTHERN AFRICA.

THE mission commenced by Mr. Shaw—Account of his labors—He is joined by Mr. Edwards—A Hottentot's anxiety to hear the gospel—Experience of Jacob Links, a converted Namaqua—Commencement of a new station—Account of Mr. Shaw's journey to some of the tribes beyond the Great Orange river—Account of the Great Namaquas—Extension of the mission in South Africa—Hardships of Mr. Archbell—Mr. William Shaw's visit to the king of the Caffres—His second visit to Caffraria—He establishes a mission in the dominions of Pato, called Wesleyville—Account of the mission among the Bechuanas—Notice of the station at Khamies Berg—Encouraging incident—A mission among the Corannas—Account of the conversion and death of a Caffre—A remarkable preservation—Shaw's and Whitworth's journey to the Tambookies—A new station called Mount Coke—Different departments of the South African mission—Account of Cape Town mission—Account of Little Namaqualand mission—Murder of three missionaries—The execution of the murderer—Speeches of the natives at a missionary meeting—Account of the mission among the Bechuanas—Letters from Hodgson and Archbell—Report of Plaat Berg station—Report of Bootschnaap station—Account of the Albany mission—Interesting cases of conversion—Charity of the natives—Account of the Caffrarian mission—Establishment at Butterworth—Recognition of the mission by the chief—Letter from Mr. Shrewsbury—Letter from Mr. W. Shaw—Establishment of Morley settlement—Difficulties occur—Children devoured by wolves—An answer to prayer—State of this mission—Establishment of a fifth station—Another station established in the dominions of Faku—Closing account of the South African mission,.....127—175

CHAPTER VIII.

MISSION IN WESTERN AFRICA.

SIERRA LEONE.—Commencement and character of the mission—Mission at St. Mary's,.....176

CHAPTER IX.

MISSION IN THE SOUTH SEAS.

NEW SOUTH WALES AND VAN DIEMEN'S LAND.—Origin of this mission—Its general progress—State of the mission in Van Diemen's Land,.....177
THE FRIENDLY ISLANDS.—The mission commenced by Mr. Lawry—His account of it—Extract from the Sydney Gazette—Character of the natives—Account of Morgan, a convict—Mr. Turner's account of his arrival—Encouraging prospects—Letter from Finau, king of Vavou—Opposition from Ata—Prosperity of the mission at Tonga—Success of Mr. Thomas at Lifuca—Opening of a chapel at Nukualofa—An interesting love-feast—Last account of the mission, showing its prosperous state,.....177—184
NEW ZEALAND.—Mr. Leigh commences the mission—

Anecdote of a priest—The New Zealanders' views of the soul—A painful scene—New Zealanders anxious for instruction—Mr. Leigh visits Ho-do-do—The missionaries experience trials—Murder of a slave—An instance of cruelty—A trying occurrence and providential escape—Account of the mission at Wesley Dale—Female infanticide—Turner and Hobbs's visits to Teperry—Serious difficulties—Interesting particulars of a brig taken by the natives—The missionaries leave the island—The particulars of their leaving—The missionaries return to New Zealand, and renew their labors—Death of Shunghee—Extracts from the journal of Mr. Stack—The latest information from the station,.....184—190