A Mother's Sacrifice

Made in Kindness is Often an Injustice to Herself and to Her Family.

It is a common thing for mothers to sacrifice comfort, strength, and sometimes life itself for their children.

If anyone else is tired or weak or sick, mother waits on them. But there is no time for mother to be sick or to get the much-needed rest.

RECIPROCITY WOULD BE INJURIOUS TO TRADE

St. Catharines Board of Trade Puts Itself on Record as Opposed to the Proposal.

ST. CATHARINES, Nov. 9.—(Special).—That the idea of reciprocity does not appeal to the men of Commerce in this section can be taken as a standard, is evident from the following resolution, passed practically unanimously at the regular meeting of the St. Catharines Board of Trade to-night:

"Whereas the growth of the manufacturing, commercial, mining, marine and cultural industries of the Dominion has led to general prosperity and the influx of foreign capital; and increased immigration to a greater degree than at any previous period; and whereas any change in the tariff on imports from the United States would seriously injure growing industries, and adversely affect the inflow of capital to-day, and afterwards on the United States, from which country, during a very recent period immense sums have been invested in the introduction of branches of established U.S. concerns, or in the formation of new industries. This has been brought about largely by the increased growth and prosperity of the Dominion, and by the fact that the tariff has prevented the product of the mills of the States coming into competition with Canadian capital and workmen, and whereas this board believes that it could not be in the best interests of the Dominion to become entangled in any treaty with the United States in respect to reciprocity, which might create conditions likely to destroy or impair our industries of other immense interests, and whereas Canada has expended very large sums of money in building railways and canals, and contemplating in the immediate future the expenditure of millions of dollars on the betterment of waterways from the far west to the sea coasts via the great lakes, in addition to assistance to the construction of transcontinental railways, therefore, be it resolved that this board is of the opinion that reciprocity would seriously affect the nation's system of transportation, and would divert an immense and growing trade, would be negative to a large extent the immense expenditure, which has been made in the Dominion to assist in the construction of transportation, and transfer to the railway and canal systems of the States a very considerable portion of the trade, and materially injure direct commercial trade with the British Isles through our own seaports."

Therefore, be it resolved by the St. Catharines Board of Trade, that reciprocity, as defined, is not in the best interests of the Dominion, and that any such conditions would be unwise and injurious."

EEL CREEK, Cumberland Co., N.S., Nov. 9.—Suffering from Female Kidney and Heart Trouble, so run down, nervous and depressed that all the brightness had gone out of her life, and never expecting to be a healthy woman again, Mrs. J. W. Leadbetter of this place tried Dodd's Kidney Pills, and is once more in the best of health. "I was treated by five doctors," Mrs. Leadbetter states. "Four of them did me no good. The fifth operated on me and that gave me relief for a time. I had Female Kidney and Heart trouble. I was so nervous and run down that my friends did not think I would ever get better."

"An advertisement led me to use Dodd's Kidney Pills and I found in them a cure for all my trouble. I cannot praise Dodd's Kidney Pills too highly."

The Symphony Orchestra

In so far as the concert goers of the City of Toronto are concerned the Symphony Orchestra has become an institution. Last night Massey Hall was packed to the last tiers of the second balcony and half an hour before the appearance of the orchestra only a handful of tickets remained for sale.

The opening number last evening was the Surprice Symphony, No. 6, in G major, that exquisite piece of pattern music of the older school that combines with classic values a spirit of drollery which musicians only permit themselves too rarely. It was a merry Calippus who ruled Franz Josef Haydn when he wrote that wanton whimsy of a summer morning, Under a Catalpa Welman's baton last night it assumed all the magic of a shimmering lustrous tapestry sporting in the sun, and the swift transitions of color and movement were entrancing. The storm of applause that greeted the last of the announced contributions elicited from the artist two dainty little bite-Chants Polonais in G flat major (Chopin's) and the Burlesque in G flat major, the Ballade, F minor; Valse, A flat major, and the Andante Spianato, E Grande Polonaise. The first was enthusiastic applause to make a piano grand a larger audience and heads bowed to sway sympathetically. But the Andante with its rich colorful moods roused the audience to a fine ecstasy of appreciation that bade fair to bring down the mureaux decorations on the heads of the devoted auditors.

The concluding number, the magnificent overture to "Der Fliegende Hollander" was perhaps the master effort of the orchestra. The fortissimo passages were rendered with true Wagnerian fire, while the tender and cooing lullaby to make a piano grand a larger audience and heads bowed to sway sympathetically. But the Andante with its rich colorful moods roused the audience to a fine ecstasy of appreciation that bade fair to bring down the mureaux decorations on the heads of the devoted auditors.

The brigade with that distressing cough are now convalescent and they managed to restrain themselves until the pianissimo passages of the ballade.
