PATRICIA

"Birth," the Great Educational Film for Women Only at the Patricia Every Afternoon Next Week.
 Babies are more important than pigs or calves or lambs. Yet Governments do not seem to realize the fact. Until the last year or two little or nothing has been done by the Governments of Canada and the United States to inform and educate the mothers of the nation as to the duties and the value of their services to the nation. Yet those same Governments spend millions in sending out pamphlets and lecturers to inform farmers and breeders how to get the best results in stock-raising. "Birth," the wonderful moving picture which is to be shown at the Patricia Theatre for the week beginning October 22, is designed to educate the mothers of today and those of tomorrow on the sanctity and duties of

TWO GREAT STARS HELP THE BELGIANS

Mary Pickford and Douglas Fairbanks are shown here with their collection of sweets from wealthy Los Angeles children for the Belgian kiddies. Mary Pickford is showing at the Patricia this afternoon in "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm," and Douglas Fairbanks will be seen in "Wild and Woolly," on October 29, 30 and 31.

Stanley Meredith and Miss Anita Black in a musical comedy, "Keep It Dark," at the Majestic today. The proceeds to be donated to the Red Cross for work in aid of conscriptive soldiers at Byron Sanatorium.

H. Ruthven MacDonald, Canada's most famous baritone. At the Majestic all next week except Tuesday, when Miss Jones, the Welsh soprano, will sing.

of the inanimate body writhing with the first heart pulsations after the physician had used his utmost skill in the effort to save it from slipping into the beyond. The preparation of the baby's milk, from the time it is taken from the cow by the electrical milker until it is bottled up and put into the baby's chubby little fist, is shown. How to prevent the baby becoming bow-legged, how to properly dress and undress it, how to hold it, and how to cure a variety of baby ills are faithfully shown in this great film.

"Birth" is not devoid of humor. It has the most natural and appealing humor in the world—that of little children. The unconscious pranks of the babies are more amusing than the clowning of high-salaried comedians. At the Patricia all next week (matinee only), for women only.

Gail Kane in "Whose Wife," at the Patricia Theatre Next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, Matinee Only.

A long hatpin, a broken pair of eyeglasses and one glove with a tear in the thumb are elements in a murder mystery solution that so fascinated Gail Kane in "The Velvet Paw." Continued On Page Eleven.

MAJESTIC

Vivian Martin, in "The Sunset Trail," at the Majestic Today.
 From merry-hearted girlhood on a ranch high in the California mountains to a womanhood of beautiful gowns and real love affairs, Vivian Martin is as winsome as ever in her latest Paramount photoplay, "The Sunset Trail," which is appearing today at the Majestic Theatre.

Famous Feminine Impersonator Appears at Majestic Theatre With New Wardrobe.

Played by women as the most beautiful example of their sex, Julian Eltinge, the famous feminine impersonator, will be seen at the Majestic Theatre on Monday and Tuesday. This is his initial Paramount appearance, in a scenario written especially for him by Carolyn Wells and Gelett Burgess. For a number of years Mr. Eltinge has made a sensation on the stage by the number and gorgeousness of his gowns, and it is said that in his first photodramatic production he introduces an entirely new wardrobe of unusual variety and style.

At the Majestic Theatre Wednesday and Thursday, House Peters and Gail Kane in "The Velvet Paw."

House Peters and Gail Kane are the "starring" players in the new Broadway World picture drama, "The Velvet Paw," at the Majestic Wednesday and Thursday. The scene of which is Washington, with Miss Kane wielding upon the nation's lawmakers the persuasive puissance of her personality in the interest of an already powerful lobby. The "big" episode of this photoplay represents a heated debate on a child-labor measure, and upon this episode Director Maurice Tourneur has known to fame, for, alas, his name is expended unusual care in the matter not on the program.

As an example of this, the actor chosen to assume the role of Speaker of the House bears a most remarkable physical resemblance to Speaker Champ Clark, without employing any of the artifices of makeup.

Other noted men are copied to some extent, but the Champ Clark "double" is almost startling. The performer who contributes this bit of contemporaneous animated portraiture may never be
