MEN OF 142ND GREET FORMER COMMANDER MAJOR C. M. R. GRAHAM

O. C. of "London's Own" Battalion Reaches Home.

Major C. M. R. Graham, who went overseas in command of the 142nd Battalion (London's Own), received a rousing welcome on his return home Saturday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock. There was a large crowd of friends and relatives at the Grand Trunk station to shake Major Graham by the hand and smother him with kisses.

"It's awfully jolly to see you all," stated the major as cheer upon cheer arose. The Great War Veterans' band broke into "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow," and led the parade that was quickly formed up Richmond street. Some of Major Graham's men of the 142nd pulled their former commander's auto by a rope, while Majors Alex Calder and Sawyer, Capt. Percy Millman and others marched ahead of the car. Major Graham was heartily cheered by small groups as the parade moved up the street.

At his home, Major Graham, speaking to the Advertiser, referred feelingly to the reception accorded him by London residents.

"I feel deeply grateful to the people of London for their kindness shown to me on arriving," he said. Referring to his departure from England, he said that Capt. Fred Fisher, one of the former officers of the 142nd Battalion, was on hand to see him off, and wish him safe voyagers.

"The reception given the returned men in Halifax was wonderful," said Major Graham. "The whole town turned out. The Daughters of the Empire and the women's organizations of Halifax were more than kind, and when the men entered the train, they found on every seat apples, cigarettes and a magazine for each man."

"It's very jolly to be home again," added the major.

Views of Palestine, Greece and Egypt shown by lecturer. "Morning Lands of History" was the title of an interesting illustrated lecture by Rev. Godfrey R. Wreford at the Auditorium yesterday afternoon. The 130 beautiful views of Palestine, Egypt and Greece were alone worth seeing, but as Mr. Wreford, who is a member of the Royal Geographical Society, and who has traveled through the places shown on the screen, explained them in his interesting manner, the entertainment was well worth while.

Other than those of the three places mentioned above, scenes of London, Paris and Marseilles were shown. There were many views of the Holy Sepulchre, including the Temple of Theseus, the Temple of Zeus, Temple of Erechtheus and the Temple of Apollo.

Among the Holy Land collection were scenes of the walls and gates of Jerusalem and the Church of the Holy Sepulchre.

A. L. Carr, of the Military Y. M. C. A., president, and Sgt. Gordon Scott played the piano.

A ROMANCE OF THE GREAT WAR.

showing at the Majestic Theatre all this week.

The great orchestra, led by Jules Brazil, will furnish many wonderful musical effects particularly suited for this colossal screen drama.

"Hearts of the World" shows the happy, peaceful life of the people of a small village before the grim horror war.

The causes that led up to the war are shown; the meeting of the English Parliament on the eventful night when the vote was cast for war; the session of the French Senate voting upon the declaration of war; the session of the cabinet awaiting the fatal hour when the ultimatum to Germany would expire.

These scenes come as a prelude; then the great drama begins when the German hordes enter France. In taking the battle pictures for "Hearts of the World" Mr. Griffith had the assistance and co-operation of the British war office.

Lillian and Dorothy Gish, starring in the world's greatest motion picture drama, "Hearts of the World."
