London, Aug. 30.—At the conclusion of the Moscow conference, Premier Kerensky announced the partial re-establishment of the death penalty as a necessary measure of army discipline, according to the Central News

Petrograd correspondent, who quotes the premier as saying:

"As minister of justice, I abolished the death penalty, but as minister of war I decided it necessary partially to re-establish it. This re-establishment hurts to the very soul, but for the salvation of the country, we will kill with all our souls. The army must be organized and disciplined, each combatant occupying his proper place and each recognizing his duty as well

"The disciplinary tribunals will be conserved and will receive authority indispensable for the maintenance of the army as an efficient

UNDER CLOSURE RULE

Bill is Given Third Reading by a Majority of

Ottawa, Aug. 30,-By a vote of 53

to 37 the house of commons, at an early hour this morning, passed the Canadian Northern Bill. The entire sitting was occupied with the debate upon the motion for third reading under the closure rule. This limited each speaker to 20 minutes, and it had each speaker to 20 minutes, and it had the effect of producing a lively and crisp debate. There was some goodnatured raillery at the expense of those members who found their speeches cut in twain by the descent of the guillotine, but both sides suffered from the rigid application of the rule. For example, Sir Thomas White, who moved the closure, had to sit down before his speech was finished. The feature of the debate was a sharp encounter between R. B. Bennett of Calgary and the minister of finance. Mr. Bennett, who was for years the solicitor of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, resented bitterly the statements of Sir Robert Borden and Sir Thomas White that the Canadian Pacific was anxious to gobble up the Canadian Northern. Mr. rule. For example, Sir Thomas White, gobble up the Canadian Northern. Mr. Bennett declared this to be a bogey, brought into the chamber for the purpose of stampeding the house, but the finance minister in reply said there were only two possible purchasers in all Canada for the Canadian Northern Railway. One, he said, was the gov-ernment, and the other was the C. P. R. The issue before the house was, therefore, the issue of public owner

This fact was frankly recognized by Mr. Frank B. Carvell, Liberal member for Carleton, N.B., who demounced public ownership as a farce and a fal'acy, and therefore opposed the bill. The first division was upon Mr. Pugsley's amendment, which in effect provided that the agreement to be entered into between the government. The object of this action is to enand the Caandian Northern should not able the government to take over the come into effect until the award of the arbitrators had been subridited to and approved by parliament. ## CANADIANS NEED MEN TO CONTINUE FIGHTING

Drafts From England Replace Latest Casualties -- Recruits escorting fleets of British, French or Required---Perley Reviews Troops---Sixty-One German Battalions Beaten.

Canadian Headquarters in France, vis London, Aug. 30.—Sir George Persey, overseas minister of militia, has been spending a few days at the front. He paid a visit to the Canadian divisions, on whom the chief surden of the recent battle fell. They marched past, amid a pouring rain, like the veterans they are, with weapons and accourtements in perfect peyes.

Sir George stated to your correspondent that the losses in the battle f Lens were rapidly being made good from the Canadian depots in Engand, and that the men still available for reinforcements were of the time of the ranks of the past and and that the men still available for reinforcements were of the time of deterioration either in keenness or fighting qualities of the young Canadians now taking their submarine menace is being built up gradually, but certainly. Many devices and many methods enter into places in the firing line. The great problem was to secure from Canada a sufficient number of men to keep the divisions new in the field up to strength. That could only be accomplished by the massure of national service recently adopted at Ottawa. By their spendid valor the men now at the front had earned the right to urge that the people back home should see that the needed support reaches them before the fighting p.w.—

has been marked by a pause on all and defence. the western fronts a pause which was inevitable after the great successes of the previous week, a pause accentuated by the bad weather which affected the operations all the way from the North Sea to the Italian sea coast," said Major-General F. B. Maurice, chief director of military operations at the war department, in his weekly talk to the Associated Press today.

"At the moment it is the Italian front where the situation is the most interesting. Here also, after a really important advance, there now comes a pause, pending the readjustment of the artillery positions. There is much work to be done during these pauses. The problem is whether General Cadorna will be able to get his guns posted for the renewal of the operations before the Austrians get up adequate reserves, some of which are being brought from the Russo-Rumanian front. That is the problem in the pauses in all these battles—the race

"This effect is shown in the constant necessity imposed on the Germans of withdrawing and replacing units. The best way to illustrate this is to refer to the battles of former times in which, as the text books tell was an attempt by each side to draw in and exhaust the sizemy's reserves, thus preparing for the second phase of the day, namely, the decisive attack.

"So we are now in the first phase of the Flanders battle. We are axiously in and later will come the pauses in all these battles—the race (Concluded on Page 12, Column 4). pauses in all these battles—the race

New Depth Bomb Destroys Many U-Boats --- Allies Plan to Increase Patrols in Hundred and Fifty Mile Zone Off German Coast.

Washington, Aug. 30. - American naval forces are convoying merchant craft across the Atlantic, it was disclosed officially today at the navy department, and examination of the records show that the loss of convoyed ships by submarines has averaged less than one-half of one per cent.

Details of the convoy system are withheld. It was stated, however, that American war vessels are regularly other allied merchantmen across, the protection being supplemented when the danger zone is reached by the destroyers and other patrol craft.

American naval officials believe that ment of high officials, however, that saveral have been sunk by Admiral Sime destroyers, and they are confident today, more confident than ever before, that the submarine menace will be substantially abated as the will be substantially abated as the number of destroyers and other craft available for the work is increased. The effect of the increasing patrol, of the employment of airplanes and of the addition of new devices to the anti-submarine weapons has been to force the U-boats under water to a greater and greater degree. Their effectiveness is limited in proportion. They cannot run down a merchant ship of average speed if kept under water. They can operate only against ships that almost stumble upon them.
