

China Dinner Sets $15.00 REDUCED TO $8.00 For This Week Only W. H. HAYWARD & CO., Limited - 85-93 Princess St.

Our Shirt Story Many chapters would have to be written if we attempted to fully describe the many unusual patterns, cloths and styles we are showing. Suffice it to say--

HAGEN SHIRTS appeal to men of discrimination. In every way—for every occasion. In fit, in service, in price. We have just received a large shipment of Hagen Shirts for Easter trade. Prices: $1.00 to $1.75

H. N. DeMILLE & CO. 199 to 201 Union St. Opera House Block

MUSIC! MUSIC! MUSIC! "We'll Never Let the Old Flag Fall" 15c. per copy, 2 for 25c. Music Selling at 15c. per copy. That was 35c. per copy. Music Selling at 5 copies for 25c. That was 15c. per copy. Music Selling at 3 copies for 25c. That was 15c. per copy.

The C. H. Townshend Piano Co. 16 King Street St. John, N. B.

SHIPPING ALMANAC FOR ST. JOHN, MAR 23 A.M. 4:34 Low Tide 11:24 P.M. Sun Sets 6:36 Sun Sets 6:36 Time used is Atlantic standard. PORT OF ST. JOHN. Arrived Yesterday. RMS Misanabie, 7,727, Evans, Liverpool via Halifax, Wm Thomson Co, Pass and gen cargo. Str Orkla, 2,694, Marris, Glasgow, Robert Reford Co, gen cargo. Str Mascara, 3,301, Limond, London, C P R, gen cargo. Str Tor Head, 3,868, Butt, Androssan, Wm Thomson Co, bal. Cleared Yesterday. Bark Bellville, Olsson, West Coast, W M. Mackay, deak. Sailed Yesterday. Str Rio Tyte, Freemantle, trans-Atlantic port. Str Louisburg, Marsters, Louisburg. BRITISH PORT. Glasgow, March 20—Sld, str Orcadian, St. John. FOREIGN PORTS. Boston, March 19—Ard, sch Princess of Avon, Weymouth (NS). Sid March 19—Schs Sunlight (from New York), Calais, Carrie C Ware, Windsor (NS). Vineyard Haven, March 19—Ard, sch Isiah K Stetson, St John for New York. Baltimore, March 19—Sld, str Athena, Black, Newport News and Glasgow. Sid March 19—Sch Myrtle Leaf, New York, for St. John. MARINE NOTES. The C.P.R. liner Misanabie arrived in port yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock from Liverpool with 642 passengers and a large general cargo. The steamer entered two large icebergs in latitude 42°35 and longitude 50°18. Among the passengers were Captain James A. Murray, formerly of the Empress of Britain. Several Canadian soldiers left the steamer at Halifax. The Donaldson liner Orkla from Glasgow arrived in port last evening. On March 14 the steamer received wireless for help from the Johnson liner Vedamora. Before she arrived there the Funness liner Crown Point had the steamer in tow and was heading for Philadelphia. The Orkla had on board fifty-five horsemen from Newport News who have been in England and France.

CANADA IN THE WAR The artillerymen, who left the city last night for Halifax, where they will take steamer for England, were given hearty send-off. They included—Officer commanding, Lieut. Colin Mackay, Currier, Robert, Arthur Lee, George Binley, Joseph Leison, Thomas Andrews, John Dawson, William Thompson, Harley Finnigan, A. B. Sowers, Ernest Thompson, W. J. Blackwell, Thomas Lacey, John O'Dowd, William M. Thomas and Dennis Boyd. General Hughes stated in parliament yesterday that all the Canadians who had gone with the first contingent to England were not all yet in France, that some were in a new brigade under Col. Seely. A letter received by Hon. Mr. Hazen from Dr. Murray MacLaren from France said that he believed the war would end in August, and this view was taken by many British officers.

SMOTHERING OF ASTHMA STOPS QUICK THOUSANDS CURED BY "CATARRHOZONE" Count Ten—Then Relief Comes From Chronic Asthma powerful antiseptic found in the Blue Gum Tree of Australia, and this is fortified by other germ-killing properties which, when so scientifically combined, make Catarrhozone a veritable specific for Asthma, Catarrh and Bronchitis. Even though many other remedies have failed—even though you are discouraged and blue—cheer up and try Catarrhozone today. What it repeatedly has done for others it will surely not fail to accomplish for you. Catarrhozone is not expensive. One dollar will buy a complete outfit from our Dispensary. The money will be well spent because your immediate improvement in health will surpass your fondest expectations. Don't wait—today is the time to use Catarrhozone.

PAINLESS DENTISTRY We extract teeth free of pain only 25c. We do all kinds of dentistry. Call and see us. No charge for consultation.

BOSTON DENTAL PARLORS 527 Main St. 245 Union St. Cor. Brussels, Phone 683. Dr. J. D. Maher, Proprietor. Open 9 a. m. until 9 p. m.

When down town shopping, and feeling as if you would not relish your dinner or tea, drop into the Royal Pharmacy and get a TONIC APPETIZER 5c. a Glass. Drawn from our up-to-date Hygea Soda Fountain, 47 King Street—the store that aims at serving the best of everything to its customers.

The 2 BARKERS Limited 100 Princess St. 111 Brussels St. Do You Eat Fruit for Breakfast? See Our Fresh Shipment OF GRAPE FRUIT and ORANGES. Sweet and Juicy Grape Fruit, 6 for 25c. Sun-kist Oranges—the famous brand you so often read about, at 25c, 30c, 35c per dozen. Valencia Oranges, very juicy, 15c. Seville Bitter Oranges for marmalade, 2 dozen for 25c. Choice Lemons, 25c per dozen. 14 lbs. Finest Granulated Sugar For $1.00. Strictly Fresh Eggs, 23c per doz. Smoked Shoulder, by the piece, 15c per lb. Rolled Bacon, by the piece, 18c per lb. Rolled Bacon, sliced, 20c per lb. Best Table Potatoes, $1.25 per bbl. Arriving—Our cat CHARLIE, the best grade Manitoba Flour, special price while landing, $3.60 bbl.

The 2 BARKERS Limited 100 Princess St. 111 Brussels St. Do You Eat Fruit for Breakfast? See Our Fresh Shipment OF GRAPE FRUIT and ORANGES.

GRAPE FRUIT and ORANGES. Sweet and Juicy Grape Fruit, 6 for 25c. Sun-kist Oranges—the famous brand you so often read about, at 25c, 30c, 35c per dozen. Valencia Oranges, very juicy, 15c. Seville Bitter Oranges for marmalade, 2 dozen for 25c. Choice Lemons, 25c per dozen. 14 lbs. Finest Granulated Sugar For $1.00. Strictly Fresh Eggs, 23c per doz. Smoked Shoulder, by the piece, 15c per lb. Rolled Bacon, by the piece, 18c per lb. Rolled Bacon, sliced, 20c per lb. Best Table Potatoes, $1.25 per bbl. Arriving—Our cat CHARLIE, the best grade Manitoba Flour, special price while landing, $3.60 bbl.

The 2 BARKERS Limited 100 Princess St. 111 Brussels St. Do You Eat Fruit for Breakfast? See Our Fresh Shipment OF GRAPE FRUIT and ORANGES.

IF BACK HURTS USE SALTS FOR KIDNEYS Eat Less Meat if Kidneys Feel Like Lead or Bladder Bothers. Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders. You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean, and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is harmless to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity. It also neutralizes the acids in the urine, so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder troubles. Jad Salts is harmless; inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everybody should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean, thus avoiding serious complications. A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble. MONCTON BOY TELLS OF GERMAN ATROCITIES Mrs. D. W. Kyle of Moncton has received the following letter from her son, John A. Kyle, with Major Anderson's 5th Battery, now fighting on Belgian soil. He tells at first hand stories of the German atrocities: French, March 6, 1915. "My Dear Mother—I have been up to the firing line with Capt. McKee, and everything looks pretty good. "It is a fine sight after dark to see the star shells bursting. They light up all around for about 200 yards, and when you are behind them you can see all objects. Nearly everywhere you go you see a church in ruins. When the Germans went through here they entered one place I know of and broke all the furniture, tables and lamps and took all the mattresses and blankets, and every bit of food in the house. "When they retreated, they took about 100 young girls prisoners from the villages. Why they even took the wedding ring from a woman and cut a six-months old baby's hands off for souvenirs. These are only a few of the things I could relate, and then when people see these things in the papers they can't believe them. "The Germans seem to delight in shooting priests, and destroying churches.

ORANGES Fancy, Sweet, Juicy, Seedless Oranges California Navel, medium size, 25c. doz. California Navel, large size, 25c. doz. California Navel, larger size, 38c. doz. Best Lemons, 25c. doz. Fancy Grapefruit, 6c. each, 5 for 25c. Cape Cod Cranberries, 9c. 3 qts. 25c.

POTATOES Fine Selected Delawares delivered to any part of the city, only $1.15 per barrel. GOOD 25 CENT VALUES 6 lbs. Rolled Oats, 25c. 5 lbs. Rice, 25c. 3 cans Old Dutch Cleanser, 25c. 3 bottles Tomato Catsup, 25c. 7 lbs. Gran. Corn Meal, 25c. 9 lbs. Corn Meal, 25c. Yerxa Grocery Co. 443 Main St. Phone Main 2913. Free delivery to all parts of the City, West End, Fairville and Millford; also all boats and trains.

The Reason why. We endorse VINOL: BECAUSE Vinol is not a patent medicine, but a real cod liver preparation with the useless oil eliminated and tonic iron added. BECAUSE Vinol replaces weakness with strength. THAT'S WHY we recommend Vinol for coughs and colds, and why it creates strength for old folks and weak, sickly persons. You can rely upon this. Your Money Back if Vinol Fails to Help $1.00 Bottle Guaranteed By WASSONS DRUG STORE The Yellow Store 711 Main St. Near Paradise Row & Mill St. Corner

WASSONS DRUG STORE The Yellow Store 711 Main St. Near Paradise Row & Mill St. Corner

OPTICAL SERVICE unexcelled in what we offer. Our equipment for eye-testing is modern and complete. This together with our thorough knowledge of the eye and our long experience, makes here the ideal place to visit when in need of good optical service. D. Boyaner Registered in Province of Quebec 38 DECK ST.—111 CHARLIS ST. opp. Dufferin Hotel

Just Opened The Peoples' Market Groceries, Meat, Fish, Fruit, Vegetables and Give us a trial. W. A. MEGARIS 39 BRUSSELS ST.

Davis' Grocery Choice California Sun-kist Oranges at 70c per peck; also 20c, 28c, 35c, 50c, and 60c per dozen. Phone 2279, 78-77 Sydney street.

TELEPHONE SUBSCRIBERS Please Add to Your Directories. M 9460-11—Eagles, H. C., Res. No. 139 Bridge street. W 389-41—Hill, T. S., Res. Fairville Flatens. M 1602-11—Lingley, A. W., Res. No. 24 High street. M 2190-11—Kilham, Mrs. A., Res. No. 28 Doychester. M 2287-11—Owen, John, Res. East St. John. M 2223-11—Tobias, R. M., Res. No. 18 Brunswick. M 1074—Rowan, A. M., Hardware, No. 44 Germain street. M 2261-11—Walt, Miss Florence G., Res. No. 50 Camden street. M 1178-11—Walsh, J. D., Res. No. 29 Elm street. W 366—Canadian Overseas Ry., Co's Const. Corps, Col. C. W. P. Ramsey, Christopher's Pl. W. E. M 2475-21—Peters, L. S., Com. Merchant, Stall B., City Market. M 68-21—Murphy, C. T., Res. No. 59 Harrison, number changed from M 1084-11.

RECENT WEDDINGS A wedding of much interest was solemnized in St. Paul's Valley church at 6:15 o'clock last evening when W. Harold Hayes, B.S.A., son of Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Hayes, was united in marriage to Miss Hazel Seely, daughter of the late J. J. Seely, of this city, the officiating clergyman being Rev. E. B. Hooper, rector of the church. The principals were unattended. After the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Hayes left on the Boston train on a honeymoon tour to American cities and their return will make their home at Fair Vale where the groom has purchased a large farm. Beautiful and valuable gifts from many friends attested to the popularity of bride and groom and the best wishes were expressed for their happiness.

LOCAL NEWS The St. Luke's Cadets had a march-out last night and made a good appearance. NOW IS THE TIME To test 37miles water-proof solid leather boots and repairs, 227 Union, Phone 161-21. Street car No. 80 left the rails at the foot of King street yesterday about five o'clock. Passengers were severely jolted, but no one injured. WE ARE WAITING That's our business, but you don't have to wait when you come in for dinner at the Grand Union Cafe, Mill street. ANNIVERSARY In commemoration, photos at half price on 22nd, 23rd, 24th at Clinics, 3-24. At a meeting of the Provincial Relief Committee yesterday the sending of $6,000 for the purpose of relief was authorized. For sale at Thomas Hayes', Sydney street, twenty good horses; just arrived from Montreal. In the police court yesterday afternoon, William Forrester was fined $18 or six months in jail for disorderly conduct and chasing his step-father with a hammer and knife. The fine was allowed to stand against him if he promised to take the pledge for life. Scotch coal Singles, cheap for cash. Small quantity, George Dick, 1-f. An enjoyable evening was spent last night at the banquet of the New Brunswick Military Veterans in their rooms in Market building. Andrew Emery, president, occupied the chair and the speakers included Col. Buchanan, J.

ORANGES Fancy, Sweet, Juicy, Seedless Oranges California Navel, medium size, 25c. doz. California Navel, large size, 25c. doz. California Navel, larger size, 38c. doz. Best Lemons, 25c. doz. Fancy Grapefruit, 6c. each, 5 for 25c. Cape Cod Cranberries, 9c. 3 qts. 25c.

POTATOES Fine Selected Delawares delivered to any part of the city, only $1.15 per barrel. GOOD 25 CENT VALUES 6 lbs. Rolled Oats, 25c. 5 lbs. Rice, 25c. 3 cans Old Dutch Cleanser, 25c. 3 bottles Tomato Catsup, 25c. 7 lbs. Gran. Corn Meal, 25c. 9 lbs. Corn Meal, 25c. Yerxa Grocery Co. 443 Main St. Phone Main 2913. Free delivery to all parts of the City, West End, Fairville and Millford; also all boats and trains.

Yerxa Grocery Co. 443 Main St. Phone Main 2913. Free delivery to all parts of the City, West End, Fairville and Millford; also all boats and trains.

HIGH PRAISE FOR THE CANADIANS Hostile Fire Did Not Worry Gunners CALM AS VETERANS Drivers Took Guns Into Position as if Merely on Manoeuvres—Bath a Supreme Luxury

London, March 22.—A long account of the work of the Canadian artillery is received from a man serving with them. He writes: "I am now right in the business. Our guns have been busy for nearly a fortnight. You will be pleased to hear they are performing splendidly. Firing is continuous and heavy, night and day. It has not taken our gunners long to remove any misconception which the Hun may possess in regard to the efficiency of the Canadian artillery. Everybody except those who already knew what our gunners were capable of. Not only is the marksmanship excellent, but the behavior of the men is splendid. They go about their work as calmly and methodically as any veterans. Fire from the German guns does not disconcert them in the least. "No Better Soldiers "The drivers, too, were complimented upon the cool, purposeful way they ran the guns into position. It was the first time the great majority of them had been seen in action, but the control maintained over the horses was magnificent, no chaos, just well-ordered manoeuvring, as though we were still at Salisbury Plain. All criticism levelled at the Canadians as to lack of discipline in receiving an answer now, for here right in the thick of the fighting there is no better disciplined unit in the whole British fighting force. Though a Canadian has no love for the ceremonial and finds it difficult to digest month after month the rigorous drill necessary to shine in a spectacular parade, he possesses in abundant degree all the traditional fighting qualities of the British soldier, and to whatever branch of the service he belongs I do not think you will find him backward. "Only Move is Forward "In this campaign I do not see much of the infantry boys. They are busy holding the trenches, but I do know they have been there nearly a fortnight and have not given an inch yet, and are not likely to. I do not know what is likely to happen, nor if I did would I be allowed to mention it, but if I may be permitted to hazard an opinion I would say that when the boys do move it will be forward. So far as I am concerned, I have been in no danger up to the present, not half so much as they, ready for me, knows what might happen in that region, particularly late at night, with shells whizzing about all over the shop, and I have never been near enough to disturb our slumbers, though, of course, it is no use crowding too soon. "Except for the restrictions upon our letters, I could write an interesting account of the life over here which I have no doubt you would be glad to read. As it is I must not mention names and places we passed through nor describe them even in the vaguest possible way. I can, however, tell you that I had life very exhilarating. No doubt should I come through all right, the experience of today may in future years be of much service to me. At any rate nothing in the world could induce me to return to my old life as an able to keep going. What we go through now is probably but a feeble experience of that which will be the biggest luxury in many a long day. "A Valuable Ten Minutes "It is an odd picture to see about sixty of us, the men standing naked round shallow tubs, being timed by the clock, while we remove the accumulated mass of many weeks dirt. Ten minutes was the time allowed. As soon as we were out another bunch of grimy soldiers took our places. The relief wrought by that ten minutes of soap and water was ineffable. We hope we shall not have to wait two months for the next."

London, March 22.—A long account of the work of the Canadian artillery is received from a man serving with them. He writes: "I am now right in the business. Our guns have been busy for nearly a fortnight. You will be pleased to hear they are performing splendidly. Firing is continuous and heavy, night and day. It has not taken our gunners long to remove any misconception which the Hun may possess in regard to the efficiency of the Canadian artillery. Everybody except those who already knew what our gunners were capable of. Not only is the marksmanship excellent, but the behavior of the men is splendid. They go about their work as calmly and methodically as any veterans. Fire from the German guns does not disconcert them in the least. "No Better Soldiers "The drivers, too, were complimented upon the cool, purposeful way they ran the guns into position. It was the first time the great majority of them had been seen in action, but the control maintained over the horses was magnificent, no chaos, just well-ordered manoeuvring, as though we were still at Salisbury Plain. All criticism levelled at the Canadians as to lack of discipline in receiving an answer now, for here right in the thick of the fighting there is no better disciplined unit in the whole British fighting force. Though a Canadian has no love for the ceremonial and finds it difficult to digest month after month the rigorous drill necessary to shine in a spectacular parade, he possesses in abundant degree all the traditional fighting qualities of the British soldier, and to whatever branch of the service he belongs I do not think you will find him backward. "Only Move is Forward "In this campaign I do not see much of the infantry boys. They are busy holding the trenches, but I do know they have been there nearly a fortnight and have not given an inch yet, and are not likely to. I do not know what is likely to happen, nor if I did would I be allowed to mention it, but if I may be permitted to hazard an opinion I would say that when the boys do move it will be forward. So far as I am concerned, I have been in no danger up to the present, not half so much as they, ready for me, knows what might happen in that region, particularly late at night, with shells whizzing about all over the shop, and I have never been near enough to disturb our slumbers, though, of course, it is no use crowding too soon. "Except for the restrictions upon our letters, I could write an interesting account of the life over here which I have no doubt you would be glad to read. As it is I must not mention names and places we passed through nor describe them even in the vaguest possible way. I can, however, tell you that I had life very exhilarating. No doubt should I come through all right, the experience of today may in future years be of much service to me. At any rate nothing in the world could induce me to return to my old life as an able to keep going. What we go through now is probably but a feeble experience of that which will be the biggest luxury in many a long day. "A Valuable Ten Minutes "It is an odd picture to see about sixty of us, the men standing naked round shallow tubs, being timed by the clock, while we remove the accumulated mass of many weeks dirt. Ten minutes was the time allowed. As soon as we were out another bunch of grimy soldiers took our places. The relief wrought by that ten minutes of soap and water was ineffable. We hope we shall not have to wait two months for the next."

London, March 22.—A long account of the work of the Canadian artillery is received from a man serving with them. He writes: "I am now right in the business. Our guns have been busy for nearly a fortnight. You will be pleased to hear they are performing splendidly. Firing is continuous and heavy, night and day. It has not taken our gunners long to remove any misconception which the Hun may possess in regard to the efficiency of the Canadian artillery. Everybody except those who already knew what our gunners were capable of. Not only is the marksmanship excellent, but the behavior of the men is splendid. They go about their work as calmly and methodically as any veterans. Fire from the German guns does not disconcert them in the least. "No Better Soldiers "The drivers, too, were complimented upon the cool, purposeful way they ran the guns into position. It was the first time the great majority of them had been seen in action, but the control maintained over the horses was magnificent, no chaos, just well-ordered manoeuvring, as though we were still at Salisbury Plain. All criticism levelled at the Canadians as to lack of discipline in receiving an answer now, for here right in the thick of the fighting there is no better disciplined unit in the whole British fighting force. Though a Canadian has no love for the ceremonial and finds it difficult to digest month after month the rigorous drill necessary to shine in a spectacular parade, he possesses in abundant degree all the traditional fighting qualities of the British soldier, and to whatever branch of the service he belongs I do not think you will find him backward. "Only Move is Forward "In this campaign I do not see much of the infantry boys. They are busy holding the trenches, but I do know they have been there nearly a fortnight and have not given an inch yet, and are not likely to. I do not know what is likely to happen, nor if I did would I be allowed to mention it, but if I may be permitted to hazard an opinion I would say that when the boys do move it will be forward. So far as I am concerned, I have been in no danger up to the present, not half so much as they, ready for me, knows what might happen in that region, particularly late at night, with shells whizzing about all over the shop, and I have never been near enough to disturb our slumbers, though, of course, it is no use crowding too soon. "Except for the restrictions upon our letters, I could write an interesting account of the life over here which I have no doubt you would be glad to read. As it is I must not mention names and places we passed through nor describe them even in the vaguest possible way. I can, however, tell you that I had life very exhilarating. No doubt should I come through all right, the experience of today may in future years be of much service to me. At any rate nothing in the world could induce me to return to my old life as an able to keep going. What we go through now is probably but a feeble experience of that which will be the biggest luxury in many a long day. "A Valuable Ten Minutes "It is an odd picture to see about sixty of us, the men standing naked round shallow tubs, being timed by the clock, while we remove the accumulated mass of many weeks dirt. Ten minutes was the time allowed. As soon as we were out another bunch of grimy soldiers took our places. The relief wrought by that ten minutes of soap and water was ineffable. We hope we shall not have to wait two months for the next."

London, March 22.—A long account of the work of the Canadian artillery is received from a man serving with them. He writes: "I am now right in the business. Our guns have been busy for nearly a fortnight. You will be pleased to hear they are performing splendidly. Firing is continuous and heavy, night and day. It has not taken our gunners long to remove any misconception which the Hun may possess in regard to the efficiency of the Canadian artillery. Everybody except those who already knew what our gunners were capable of. Not only is the marksmanship excellent, but the behavior of the men is splendid. They go about their work as calmly and methodically as any veterans. Fire from the German guns does not disconcert them in the least. "No Better Soldiers "The drivers, too, were complimented upon the cool, purposeful way they ran the guns into position. It was the first time the great majority of them had been seen in action, but the control maintained over the horses was magnificent, no chaos, just well-ordered manoeuvring, as though we were still at Salisbury Plain. All criticism levelled at the Canadians as to lack of discipline in receiving an answer now, for here right in the thick of the fighting there is no better disciplined unit in the whole British fighting force. Though a Canadian has no love for the ceremonial and finds it difficult to digest month after month the rigorous drill necessary to shine in a spectacular parade, he possesses in abundant degree all the traditional fighting qualities of the British soldier, and to whatever branch of the service he belongs I do not think you will find him backward. "Only Move is Forward "In this campaign I do not see much of the infantry boys. They are busy holding the trenches, but I do know they have been there nearly a fortnight and have not given an inch yet, and are not likely to. I do not know what is likely to happen, nor if I did would I be allowed to mention it, but if I may be permitted to hazard an opinion I would say that when the boys do move it will be forward. So far as I am concerned, I have been in no danger up to the present, not half so much as they, ready for me, knows what might happen in that region, particularly late at night, with shells whizzing about all over the shop, and I have never been near enough to disturb our slumbers, though, of course, it is no use crowding too soon. "Except for the restrictions upon our letters, I could write an interesting account of the life over here which I have no doubt you would be glad to read. As it is I must not mention names and places we passed through nor describe them even in the vaguest possible way. I can, however, tell you that I had life very exhilarating. No doubt should I come through all right, the experience of today may in future years be of much service to me. At any rate nothing in the world could induce me to return to my old life as an able to keep going. What we go through now is probably but a feeble experience of that which will be the biggest luxury in many a long day. "A Valuable Ten Minutes "It is an odd picture to see about sixty of us, the men standing naked round shallow tubs, being timed by the clock, while we remove the accumulated mass of many weeks dirt. Ten minutes was the time allowed. As soon as we were out another bunch of grimy soldiers took our places. The relief wrought by that ten minutes of soap and water was ineffable. We hope we shall not have to wait two months for the next."

London, March 22.—A long account of the work of the Canadian artillery is received from a man serving with them. He writes: "I am now right in the business. Our guns have been busy for nearly a fortnight. You will be pleased to hear they are performing splendidly. Firing is continuous and heavy, night and day. It has not taken our gunners long to remove any misconception which the Hun may possess in regard to the efficiency of the Canadian artillery. Everybody except those who already knew what our gunners were capable of. Not only is the marksmanship excellent, but the behavior of the men is splendid. They go about their work as calmly and methodically as any veterans. Fire from the German guns does not disconcert them in the least. "No Better Soldiers "The drivers, too, were complimented upon the cool, purposeful way they ran the guns into position. It was the first time the great majority of them had been seen in action, but the control maintained over the horses was magnificent, no chaos, just well-ordered manoeuvring, as though we were still at Salisbury Plain. All criticism levelled at the Canadians as to lack of discipline in receiving an answer now, for here right in the thick of the fighting there is no better disciplined unit in the whole British fighting force. Though a Canadian has no love for the ceremonial and finds it difficult to digest month after month the rigorous drill necessary to shine in a spectacular parade, he possesses in abundant degree all the traditional fighting qualities of the British soldier, and to whatever branch of the service he belongs I do not think you will find him backward. "Only Move is Forward "In this campaign I do not see much of the infantry boys. They are busy holding the trenches, but I do know they have been there nearly a fortnight and have not given an inch yet, and are not likely to. I do not know what is likely to happen, nor if I did would I be allowed to mention it, but if I may be permitted to hazard an opinion I would say that when the boys do move it will be forward. So far as I am concerned, I have been in no danger up to the present, not half so much as they, ready for me, knows what might happen in that region, particularly late at night, with shells whizzing about all over the shop, and I have never been near enough to disturb our slumbers, though, of course, it is no use crowding too soon. "Except for the restrictions upon our letters, I could write an interesting account of the life over here which I have no doubt you would be glad to read. As it is I must not mention names and places we passed through nor describe them even in the vaguest possible way. I can, however, tell you that I had life very exhilarating. No doubt should I come through all right, the experience of today may in future years be of much service to me. At any rate nothing in the world could induce me to return to my old life as an able to keep going. What we go through now is probably but a feeble experience of that which will be the biggest luxury in many a long day. "A Valuable Ten Minutes "It is an odd picture to see about sixty of us, the men standing naked round shallow tubs, being timed by the clock, while we remove the accumulated mass of many weeks dirt. Ten minutes was the time allowed. As soon as we were out another bunch of grimy soldiers took our places. The relief wrought by that ten minutes of soap and water was ineffable. We hope we shall not have to wait two months for the next."

London, March 22.—A long account of the work of the Canadian artillery is received from a man serving with them. He writes: "I am now right in the business. Our guns have been busy for nearly a fortnight. You will be pleased to hear they are performing splendidly. Firing is continuous and heavy, night and day. It has not taken our gunners long to remove any misconception which the Hun may possess in regard to the efficiency of the Canadian artillery. Everybody except those who already knew what our gunners were capable of. Not only is the marksmanship excellent, but the behavior of the men is splendid. They go about their work as calmly and methodically as any veterans. Fire from the German guns does not disconcert them in the least. "No Better Soldiers "The drivers, too, were complimented upon the cool, purposeful way they ran the guns into position. It was the first time the great majority of them had been seen in action, but the control maintained over the horses was magnificent, no chaos, just well-ordered manoeuvring, as though we were still at Salisbury Plain. All criticism levelled at the Canadians as to lack of discipline in receiving an answer now, for here right in the thick of the fighting there is no better disciplined unit in the whole British fighting force. Though a Canadian has no love for the ceremonial and finds it difficult to digest month after month the rigorous drill necessary to shine in a spectacular parade, he possesses in abundant degree all the traditional fighting qualities of the British soldier, and to whatever branch of the service he belongs I do not think you will find him backward. "Only Move is Forward "In this campaign I do not see much of the infantry boys. They are busy holding the trenches, but I do know they have been there nearly a fortnight and have not given an inch yet, and are not likely to. I do not know what is likely to happen, nor if I did would I be allowed to mention it, but if I may be permitted to hazard an opinion I would say that when the boys do move it will be forward. So far as I am concerned, I have been in no danger up to the present, not half so much as they, ready for me, knows what might happen in that region, particularly late at night, with shells whizzing about all over the shop, and I have never been near enough to disturb our slumbers, though, of course, it is no use crowding too soon. "Except for the restrictions upon our letters, I could write an interesting account of the life over here which I have no doubt you would be glad to read. As it is I must not mention names and places we passed through nor describe them even in the vaguest possible way. I can, however, tell you that I had life very exhilarating. No doubt should I come through all right, the experience of today may in future years be of much service to me. At any rate nothing in the world could induce me to return to my old life as an able to keep going. What we go through now is probably but a feeble experience of that which will be the biggest luxury in many a long day. "A Valuable Ten Minutes "It is an odd picture to see about sixty of us, the men standing naked round shallow tubs, being timed by the clock, while we remove the accumulated mass of many weeks dirt. Ten minutes was the time allowed. As soon as we were out another bunch of grimy soldiers took our places. The relief wrought by that ten minutes of soap and water was ineffable. We hope we shall not have to wait two months for the next."

London, March 22.—A long account of the work of the Canadian artillery is received from a man serving with them. He writes: "I am now right in the business. Our guns have been busy for nearly a fortnight. You will be pleased to hear they are performing splendidly. Firing is continuous and heavy, night and day. It has not taken our gunners long to remove any misconception which the Hun may possess in regard to the efficiency of the Canadian artillery. Everybody except those who already knew what our gunners were capable of. Not only is the marksmanship excellent, but the behavior of the men is splendid. They go about their work as calmly and methodically as any veterans. Fire from the German guns does not disconcert them in the least. "No Better Soldiers "The drivers, too, were complimented upon the cool, purposeful way they ran the guns into position. It was the first time the great majority of them had been seen in action, but the control maintained over the horses was magnificent, no chaos, just well-ordered manoeuvring, as though we were still at Salisbury Plain. All criticism levelled at the Canadians as to lack of discipline in receiving an answer now, for here right in the thick of the fighting there is no better disciplined unit in the whole British fighting force. Though a Canadian has no love for the ceremonial and finds it difficult to digest month after month the rigorous drill necessary to shine in a spectacular parade, he possesses in abundant degree all the traditional fighting qualities of the British soldier, and to whatever branch of the service he belongs I do not think you will find him backward. "Only Move is Forward "In this campaign I do not see much of the infantry boys. They are busy holding the trenches, but I do know they have been there nearly a fortnight and have not given an inch yet, and are not likely to. I do not know what is likely to happen, nor if I did would I be allowed to mention it, but if I may be permitted to hazard an opinion I would say that when the boys do move it will be forward. So far as I am concerned, I have been in no danger up to the present, not half so much as they, ready for me, knows what might happen in that region, particularly late at night, with shells whizzing about all over the shop, and I have never been near enough to disturb our slumbers, though, of course, it is no use crowding too soon. "Except for the restrictions upon our letters, I could write an interesting account of the life over here which I have no doubt you would be glad to read. As it is I must not mention names and places we passed through nor describe them even in the vaguest possible way. I can, however, tell you that I had life very exhilarating. No doubt should I come through all right, the experience of today may in future years be of much service to me. At any rate nothing in the world could induce me to return to my old life as an able to keep going. What we go through now is probably but a feeble experience of that which will be the biggest luxury in many a long day. "A Valuable Ten Minutes "It is an odd picture to see about sixty of us, the men standing naked round shallow tubs, being timed by the clock, while we remove the accumulated mass of many weeks dirt. Ten minutes was the time allowed. As soon as we were out another bunch of grimy soldiers took our places. The relief wrought by that ten minutes of soap and water was ineffable. We hope we shall not have to wait two months for the next."

London, March 22.—A long account of the work of the Canadian artillery is received from a man serving with them. He writes: "I am now right in the business. Our guns have been busy for nearly a fortnight. You will be pleased to hear they are performing splendidly. Firing is continuous and heavy, night and day. It has not taken our gunners long to remove any misconception which the Hun may possess in regard to the efficiency of the Canadian artillery. Everybody except those who already knew what our gunners were capable of. Not only is the marksmanship excellent, but the behavior of the men is splendid. They go about their work as calmly and methodically as any veterans. Fire from the German guns does not disconcert them in the least. "No Better Soldiers "The drivers, too, were complimented upon the cool, purposeful way they ran the guns into position. It was the first time the great majority of them had been seen in action, but the control maintained over the horses was magnificent, no chaos, just well-ordered manoeuvring, as though we were still at Salisbury Plain. All criticism levelled at the Canadians as to lack of discipline in receiving an answer now, for here right in the thick of the fighting there is no better disciplined unit in the whole British fighting force. Though a Canadian has no love for the ceremonial and finds it difficult to digest month after month the rigorous drill necessary to shine in a spectacular parade, he possesses in abundant degree all the traditional fighting qualities of the British soldier, and to whatever branch of the service he belongs I do not think you will find him backward. "Only Move is Forward "In this campaign I do not see much of the infantry boys. They are busy holding the trenches, but I do know they have been there nearly a fortnight and have not given an inch yet, and are not likely to. I do not know what is likely to happen, nor if I did would I be allowed to mention it, but if I may be permitted to hazard an opinion I would say that when the boys do move it will be forward. So far as I am concerned, I have been in no danger up to the present, not half so much as they, ready for me, knows what might happen in that region, particularly late at night, with shells whizzing about all over the shop, and I have never been near enough to disturb our slumbers, though, of course, it is no use crowding too soon. "Except for the restrictions upon our letters, I could write an interesting account of the life over here which I have no doubt you would be glad to read. As it is I must not mention names and places we passed through nor describe them even in the vaguest possible way. I can, however, tell you that I had life very exhilarating. No doubt should I come through all right, the experience of today may in future years be of much service to me. At any rate nothing in the world could induce me to return to my old life as an able to keep going. What we go through now is probably but a feeble experience of that which will be the biggest luxury in many a long day. "A Valuable Ten Minutes "It is an odd picture to see about sixty of us, the men standing naked round shallow tubs, being timed by the clock, while we remove the accumulated mass of many weeks dirt. Ten minutes was the time allowed. As soon as we were out another bunch of grimy soldiers took our places. The relief wrought by that ten minutes of soap and water was ineffable. We hope we shall not have to wait two months for the next."

London, March 22.—A long account of the work of the Canadian artillery is received from a man serving with them. He writes: "I am now right in the business. Our guns have been busy for nearly a fortnight. You will be pleased to hear they are performing splendidly. Firing is continuous and heavy, night and day. It has not taken our gunners long to remove any misconception which the Hun may possess in regard to the efficiency of the Canadian artillery. Everybody except those who already knew what our gunners were capable of. Not only is the marksmanship excellent, but the behavior of the men is splendid. They go about their work as calmly and methodically as any veterans. Fire from the German guns does not disconcert them in the least. "No Better Soldiers "The drivers, too, were complimented upon the cool, purposeful way they ran the guns into position. It was the first time the great majority of them had been seen in action, but the control maintained over the horses was magnificent, no chaos, just well-ordered manoeuvring, as though we were still at Salisbury Plain. All criticism levelled at the Canadians as to lack of discipline in receiving an answer now, for here right in the thick of the fighting there is no better disciplined unit in the whole British fighting force. Though a Canadian has no love for the ceremonial and finds it difficult to digest month after month the rigorous drill necessary to shine in a spectacular parade, he possesses in abundant degree all the traditional fighting qualities of the British soldier, and to whatever branch of the service he belongs I do not think you will find him backward. "Only Move is Forward "In this campaign I do not see much of the infantry boys. They are busy holding the trenches, but I do know they have been there nearly a fortnight and have not given an inch yet, and are not likely to. I do not know what is likely to happen, nor if I did would I be allowed to mention it, but if I may be permitted to hazard an opinion I would say that when the boys do move it will be forward. So far as I am concerned, I have been in no danger up to the present, not half so much as they, ready for me, knows what might happen in that region, particularly late at night, with shells whizzing about all over the shop, and I have never been near enough to disturb our slumbers, though, of course, it is no use crowding too soon. "Except for the restrictions upon our letters, I could write an interesting account of the life over here which I have no doubt you would be glad to read. As it is I must not mention names and places we passed through nor describe them even in the vaguest possible way. I can, however, tell you that I had life very exhilarating. No doubt should I come through all right, the experience of today may in future years be of much service to me. At any rate nothing in the world could induce me to return to my old life as an able to keep going. What we go through now is probably but a feeble experience of that which will be the biggest luxury in many