It is important that advertisers in The Evening Times take notice that, under the prevailing conditions due to change of time on the railroads, this newspaper is obliged to issue one hour earlier, usually in order to make mail connections and, consequently, begin work an hour earlier in the day, therefore the business office will be open from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m., (old time) and advertisers are requested to have their copy in the office one hour earlier than usual. This to ensure prompt service and changes.

SOME OF THE BOYS WHO CAME TODAY
Times Men Have A Word With Them
Three Morrissey Brothers Among the Home-Comers—Incidents of the Return and Experiences of Some of the Men

Among the boys of the 'nifty' siege batteries which returned this morning interest centres around the three Morrissey brothers, Gunners, John, Thomas and William, all of whom have come through the fighting safe and sound and all of whom are mighty glad to get home.
Gunner John consisted in the original No. 4 Siege Battery and has practically been through all its scraps with the exception of three weeks during which the battery was out of the line. He was never "officially" hit by Fritz, but narrowly escaped a severe shaking-up when he was killed in a trench in a shell burst in it and the house collapsed. The men inside miraculously all escaped death and only one was wounded.
Gunner Morrissey had two ribs broken. Outside of this he never was a casualty and although thinner than when he left he says he feels "fit".
His brother, Thomas, was with the infantry, including the 28th Battalion, but later was transferred into the battery with John, as was also William, the third of the brothers to return this morning.
Bombardier Harry Gorman, former day porter in the Royal Hotel, also came home. He was with the 6th Battery in France. He crossed over in 1916, being one of the original battery members that came across on the Atlantic coast. Harry has many friends in the city and throughout the province who knew him in the hotel business. Naturally all will be glad to hear of his safe return.
Gunner Edward Q. Jennings, son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Jennings, and one of three brothers who were in the 28th Battalion, looked fine today at the station. "Ned" has grown to be a big chap and likes the army life despite the fact that he was twice "got to" by the Hun in the form of shrapnel and once was gassed. However, he did not look any the worse of his experience and although glad to get home, which seems needless to say in all cases, he adds he would not have missed it for the world.
Bombardier Leo G. McInerney, brother of Judge H. O. McInerney and Lieutenant Ralph McInerney, came back to St. John with the 4th, after absence from his own home for nearly two years. He is in the pink of condition. He went overseas originally with the 12th McGill Siege Battery and was later transferred to the 4th. He had his commission at one time, but passed it up to get across to France. With the exception of being gassed once he escaped a casualty. Gunner Raymond McInerney, a cousin, came back in the same unit today. He belongs to Rexton and has been through considerable fighting in France and Flanders.
Gunner Philip McBride, another well known St. John boy, a former employee of the L. I. B., was the same as a boy yet, the same as when he left, he has had at least one experience in France which he will always remember with a great expression of thankfulness that he came through alive. He was blown ten feet in the air by a high explosive and was thrown down the steps of a dug-out. Besides some minor injuries and a severe shaking-up he escaped miraculously. Later in the fighting, just previous to the armistice, he sustained a narrow escape but came through O. K.
Gunner Louis McLean was among the St. John boys to get a warm welcome today. He was formerly with the 28th Battalion as sergeant, but was transferred to the siege battery, as his original unit did not go to the front line. He was with the 7th Siege Battery in France and went into Germany with them in the army of occupation and with the redistribution of the men of the battery to their home-towns to facilitate sailing matters he became identified with the 4th.
Gunner Marven White, who went over in a draft from No. 9 Siege Battery and was in France with the 12th Battery, returned today. He looks well after his journey and his fight against Fritz, and, like the others, was glad to know that he was on his last great lap homeward in the greatest experience of his life.
Gunner Roy Driscoll, of the Park Hotel was the same fat chubby smiling faced lad as of yore. He went over in a draft from Partridge Island with No. 9, and in England was transferred to the 12th Battery and sent to France. He was through all the scraps just previous to the end of the Hun, and was fortunate in not letting Fritz get him, although in sending over some of the heavy six and eight inch shells he let the old boy know he was on the job.
Gunner George Stephenson, formerly of the Canadian Consolidated Rubber Co., got back today and says he is feeling fine. George is also one of the original battery boys and looks none the worse of his "terms" in France and Flanders.
A homecoming, notable for its sadness, was that of the Macaulay boys, Bombardier Donald and Gunner Norman. Lieut. Robert is still in England, a disciplinary officer in Seaford. It was while he returned the boys were leaving the continent and proceeding through Belgium to French part of embarkation that a cable from their brother in England told them of the death of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Beverley R. Macaulay. Naturally the blow was a crushing one, but the boys are standing up under it manfully and their homecoming is being brightened as much as possible by their brave little sister and other relatives.
Another home where more than one hero's hat hangs in the front hall is that of the Weatherhead boys at 178 Wentworth street. Sgt.-Major Arthur Weatherhead arrived home some weeks

LOCAL NEWS

PANTRY SALE.
A pantry sale was held today in the Imperial Theatre in aid of the organ fund of St. David's church. Mrs. Alex. Watson was the convener and was assisted by Mrs. B. Melrose, Mrs. J. A. MacKeigan, Mrs. G. O. Hannah, Mrs. R. E. Armstrong, Mrs. G. T. Harding, Mrs. Annie Dunlop and Miss Gerrie Campbell. At noon Mrs. Watson said that the sale had been very successful and they expected to sell out this afternoon.

WEST END PLAYGROUND PLANS
The West End Improvement League is revived to get behind playgrounds and amateur athletic sports, including baseball. A meeting was held last evening in the city hall and adjourned till next week to complete plans. President Donohoe presided last evening and those present were much interested in the movement. It is felt that the west side will not fall behind other sections of the city in this work for the benefit of the young people.

WELCOMED BY FRIENDS.
Pte. F. Gallagher of Enniskillen has been in town visiting his friends, who are very glad to see him. Private Gallagher was reported officially killed, later reported severely wounded and is recovering as well as can be expected. While in St. John he called on Major McLean, to report the balance of his leave furlough at his home prior to going to Fredericton military hospital for further treatment.

AUCTION SALES.
Walter Holly's summer residence at Westfield, originally owned by L. C. Prime, was sold at auction at Chubb's Corner at noon today by F. L. Potts, George H. Waterbury became the owner for $2,200.
Mr. Potts also sold a farm of 17 1/2 acres on the Golden Grove road to Mr. Waterbury for $750.
Earlier in the morning Mr. Potts sold two lots of land used in the city fire department. The same purchaser took both at $215 each.

TOWER PRISONER IS BELIEVED COMMANDER WHO SANK THE SUSSEX
London, May 10.—The submarine commander who is confined in the Tower of London, after being brought to this country from Spain, is said to be Captain Kalservetter. It is believed he was in command of the U-boat which torpedoed the British channel steamer Sussex on March 24, 1916.

ago, after a busy wartime in Major Inche's battery—a matter of four years and seven months, and today Gunner Charles Weatherhead reached home after twelve years' overseas duty. He started out with Major Allen, and like his brother, saw most of the big show. The brothers met frequently on the field of battle and were able to chum it quite a lot.
Capt. Edward M. Slader, soon after his leaving the army, hastened to the bedside his rapidly declining grandmother, Mrs. Thomas Currie, who is in the Old Ladies' Home, Broad street. The captain enjoyed the tender ministrations and household companionship of his grandmother from his childhood and in the absence of his mother from the city, she might be said to be his only relative here. It was, therefore, a meeting deeply affecting and overwhelming with joy when the soldierly hero met over the little old lady's cot and took her in his arms. Mrs. Currie has been quite ill of late and her single wish has been that she might be spared to see "her boy" again.
Hampton Soldiers.
Among those arriving with No. 6 Siege Battery was Gnr. H. M. N. Warneford, son of Dr. P. H. Warneford, Hampton. He enlisted with No. 4 Siege Battery and went overseas and to France with that unit, but was transferred to No. 6 and served till the armistice with that unit. Gnr. Warneford was badly shaken up on two or three occasions, but managed to escape all right. A large number of friends in this city and in Hampton extend him a hearty welcome.
Gnr. M. B. Scribner, son of Herman Scribner, also of Hampton, arrived with No. 4 Battery. He enlisted with it when it was being recruited. Gnr. Scribner went to France and served continually until the armistice. He will also receive a hearty welcome.
Gnr. John I. Smith, son of Thomas E. Smith, also of Hampton, arrived with No. 6. He enlisted with No. 9 and went overseas in a draft, but was transferred to No. 6, and he served with that unit until the armistice. He is heartily welcomed by a large number of friends.
Gnr. H. E. Burgess, son of Charles Burgess, of Hampton, arrived with No. 6. He enlisted in No. 9 when he was seventeen and in England was transferred to No. 6, and served some months with that unit. He was warmly greeted.
Gnr. R. M. Hallett, son of George B. Hallett, also of Hampton, arrived this morning. He was formerly of Sussex, but as his father was recently appointed registrar of deeds for Kings county at Hampton, he is claimed as a Hampton lad. He enlisted with the 104th Battalion when sixteen and was transferred to the battery with which he served for many months. He will receive a hearty welcome in both Sussex and Hampton.

After All It's Service You Should Buy When You Purchase Furniture
You are interested in the service you get when you trade with a store; it would help if you knew just what sort of service the owners of each store want to give; it would have a good deal to do with where you did your buying.
Because some new customers seemed surprised at the extra service they get here, we want to devote this advertisement to an explanation of Everett service.
Our business has been built on the one idea of selling only good furniture; guaranteeing that it is good and that it will stay good; agreeing that you must be satisfied with what you buy here, not only when you see it attractively displayed in our store, but when you get it into your home, and always thereafter. Such satisfaction is a source of pleasure to you, and that means good will for us. This good will of our customers is the most valuable thing we have. Whenever a piece of Everett furniture fails to give complete satisfaction it fails to create good will; we therefore are anxious to replace it with something which will continue the feeling of good will.
These principles apply to every transaction in this store from a dollar and a half candlestick to a luxurious bedroom suite, and these principles have built our business.
