LORD SALISBURY.

He is Regarded With Affection Even by Old Opponents.

(London Cor. N. Y. Times.)

It is characteristic of some public men that the older they grow the more sympathy they excite and the less hostility they evoke. This is pre-eminently the case with Lord Salisbury. A few years ago no man was more denounced by the Radicals and Liberals, no man was more bitter of tongue than he in returning their denunciations. Yet, as time passed, he has melted. The "ribes and fangs and sneers" of which Disraeli declared Salisbury to be a monster have ceased to find a place in his public utterances, and a certain admiration, which is near akin to affection, has grown up for him in the breasts of his most determined opponents.

This is due, I think, to the conviction that Lord Salisbury, though unapproachable, full of pride of race, an aristocrat to the fingertips, is first and foremost a man, and a man, too, whose loyalty to his sovereign and devotion to his country have always been his predominate passions.

It is also due to the high example the ex-premier's private life has set to his fellow-countrymen. The home at Hatfield House, his ancestral, historic seat, has always been noted for its simplicity. The father and mother were busy and active, the sons and daughters studious and unobtrusive, the interests and pursuits of the whole family contrasting in a marked manner with the vulgar display so often made by those who have newly acquired wealth and have not learned to use it worthily and well.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

THE MOOSE DID RIGHT.

To the Editor of the Star:

Sir,—I read in one of the papers of an encounter with a bull moose near Lepreau, one of the results being that five woodsmen were forced to do the "quarrel act" and hustle up trees.

There was, however, another result, and that was that a poor dumb brute was forced to suffer through the stupidity of one of the party. If this Mr. Burchill had been at all thoughtful, it appears to me he would have kept his charge of partridge shot, not made himself a laughing stock to all who have any idea in connection with the prevention of cruelty to animals which could be enforced Mr. Burchill should be at once arrested and made to show pain and suffering on one of our noblest wild beasts.

Now, Mr. Editor, I think all sane persons who will give this matter a few moments' thought will agree with me that this is a matter which should be investigated by our local government and steps taken to try to prevent persons from doing such foolish and cruel acts. You may think me harsh, but my great regret is that the moose was not successful in favoring Mr. B. with several good thrusts of the horns with which nature had provided him and which are for his protection.

The local government sells the right to slaughter moose, etc., but surely even it would hesitate to countenance the administering of unnecessary cruelty.

ST. JOHN, N. B., Sept. 23, 1902.

CUPID IS ACTIVE.

(Frederick Gleason.)

Frank Boole of the Mills and Miss Bertha Blizard are to be married at St. Ann's church at half past seven o'clock this evening, Rev. Dr. Roberts officiating.

Miss Jennie Walsh and Fred Dibb are to wed at St. Dunstan's church at half past six o'clock tomorrow morning.

Thomas Hayes, a well known citizen of St. Mary's, will be married tomorrow morning to Miss Nellie McCann of Royal Road.

The nuptials of Miss Annie Tibbits and H. G. Chestnut will be celebrated at the Methodist church at quarter to four o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

The engagement is announced of Miss Cora Augusta Reid, sister of Mrs. J. E. Colter of this city, and Harry Mantel Bailey, a prosperous young lumberman of Little River, Sunbury County.

BID $18,000 FOR EXCHANGE SEAT.

(Mail and Empire.)

The price of stock exchange seats in Toronto is now on a parity with those in Montreal. In the latter city a seat was sold for $20,000 yesterday, while Norman Macrae of Pellatt and Pellatt, yesterday afternoon bid $18,000 for a seat on the local exchange, but failed to get one. A King street broker bid $20,000 for the privilege of acquiring a seat at that place within one year, but he also failed to find a seller. Four well-known citizens are known to be after seats on the local exchange at the present time.

WONDERFUL MELBA.

MELBOURNE, Sept. 23.—Mme. Melba has arrived here. Her father, who had not seen her in sixteen years, came from Albany to welcome her. The excitement of the meeting caused a blood vessel in his brain to burst and he is in a serious condition. Mme. Melba has consequently postponed her first concert.

The series of concerts is to be the most brilliant ever given in the southern hemisphere. The government has placed the railroads at her disposal, and the governors of the different colonies have offered to act as her hosts during her visit.

NEW Y. P. S. C. E. SCHEME.

VERONA, N. J., Sept. 21.—Men trimming hats furnished the attraction at the home of the Rev. Shelton Russell, pastor of the Congregational church here, last evening. The function was a sociable given by the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor.

To the pastor was awarded one of the prizes for the best work of hat trimming.

The hats trimmed by the men were worn home by the women, some of whom also wore them to church today, to display the artistic work of the male milliners of Verona.

MEN FOR THE WOODS.

(Frederick Gleason.)

Timothy Lynch had about fifty men for the woods arrive here upon the Canadian Eastern this afternoon and they will go up river on the Gibson branch tomorrow morning. Woodsmen are receiving from $26 to $30 a month and are scarce even at these wages.

A HAPPY PASTOR.

The Rev. Alex. McGillivray, minister of Bonar Church, Toronto, completed yesterday the first quarter of a century of his ministry, and the congregation celebrated the event by paying off the debt on the extension of the church, made last year at a cost of $6,300.

HAPPY HOME COMING.

Mr. and Mrs. William A. Walsh returned to Fredericton Monday evening from their bridal trip, having spent a fortnight in Boston and returning to St. John by steamer. Mrs. Walsh's sisters, Mrs. C. E. Reynolds and Miss Dot Winslow of St. John preceded the bridal couple to Fredericton and had prepared for them a reception at their home, on Brunswick street.

HE INVENTED THE ALPHABET.

But That Was Ages Ago—Now He Can Reconstruct Humanity.

(New York Sun.)

A solemn-looking man walked into the office of Supt. Merwin of the Outdoor Poor Bureau yesterday afternoon. "I hear that you help the poor," he said. "I am poor, but I have a great discovery. You'd be surprised if I told you that I am the inventor of the alphabet. My soul has been transmigrated many times since I did that, and in this present life I have been physically asleep for a long time. I have just woken up to the fact that I am the greatest inventor. I have been leading a false life, and now I want help to put my new discovery before the scientific world. It is the reconstruction of the human body—to replace any party that may be destroyed or diseased."

"What is your name?" asked Mr. Merwin.

"Owen Cooley," he replied. "I live at 357 West Sixteenth street."

"I think we can help you," said the superintendent. He called Policeman Scanlon and had Cooley taken to Bellevue. There he was put in the insane pavilion.

HEAVIER UNDERWEAR.

ANOTHER MYSTERY.

Body of a Man Fastened on a Raft Found Near Fall River.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Sept. 24.—The body of an unknown man was found on a raft made of two pieces of board, fastened together with clouts, on the west side of Stafford Pond, two miles from this city. A heavy revolver was clenched in the right hand. The body was that of a man of 25 or 30 years old, 155 pounds, five feet five inches height, brown hair, with a sprinkling of grey, teeth badly decayed. The body was well dressed. Several English and Canadian coins were found in the clothing. A gold ring set with four diamonds, three loaded cartridges and a pair of bone cut links. The money was in a chamouis skin purse, with a brass plate bearing the name of "G. or Y. Brennan."

WHITE WHALE CAUGHT.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., Sept. 24.—The whaling bark Platina, of this port, Captain McKeezie, about May 10, captured a pure white whale, which made one hundred barrels of oil. In his 25 years of whaling, Captain McKeezie writes that he never before saw a white whale. The Platina had been only three or four days out from Bedford when the big fellow was captured.

BRIEFS BY WIRE.

JOHNSTON, Pa., Sept. 24.—President Roosevelt passed an excellent night, and that was that he had since he started on his western trip. His leg is about free from pain and his temperature is normal.

SARASOTA, Fla., Sept. 24.—Benjamin B. Odell was unanimously renominated for lieutenant-governor by acclamation.

THE WEATHER.

TORONTO, Sept. 24.—Maritime—Strong winds and moderate gales from northwest, scattered showers, but generally fair and cooler. Thursday, north-westerly winds, fair and cooler.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—Forecast, eastern states and northern New York—Rain and cooler tonight; Thursday, rain; winds becoming northeast and fresh to brisk.

DR. BARCLAY DECLINES.

(Special to the Star.)

KINGSTON, Sept. 24.—Rev. Dr. Barclay of Montreal has declined to accept the offer of the trustees of Queen's University that he become principal of that institution.

MAYOR OF WACO, TEX., INDICTED.

Charged with Neglecting His Municipal Duties to Fight Prohibition.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Sept. 23.—The prohibition movement in Texas has culminated in the indictment of Mayor Riggins of Waco, one of the most picturesque characters in the Lone Star State. Mr. Riggins has been Mayor of Waco for many years. He is a breezy orator of the far-western type, and never loses an opportunity to make speeches. He greeted the New York business men who visited Waco several months ago with a speech that made them stand on end.

When the prohibition movement reached Waco Mayor Riggins threw himself into the breach and became the leader of the whiskey forces. He took entire charge of the campaign and had all the speaking he wanted. Now he is paying the price of his whiskey campaign. The charges are neglect of duty, in that he devoted so much time to the whiskey campaign, for which the saloon men paid him $4,000 a year, that he neglected all his municipal duties.

He is really on trial because the council and people of Waco resent the action of their mayor in being charged and personally managing the whiskey campaign, while not objecting to his personal views on the subject.

Riggins has succeeded in getting an injunction from the court of appeals prohibiting the Waco council from trying him.

ALL IN THE FAMILY.

(Stray Stories.)

They were discussing the factors which make for success in the world, when the knowing young man said: "There's nothing like force of character, old man. Now, there's Jones. Sure to make his way in the world. Has a will of his own, you know."

"But Brown has something better in his favor."

"What's that?"

"A will of his uncle."

WEDDINGS.

Three Fashionable Events in the City Today.

One in St. John's and One in St. Paul's—A Jewish Marriage.

LANDAU-HART.

The wedding of Charles S. Landau, of Toronto, and Miss Rebecca Hart, was solemnized this afternoon at the residence of the bride's mother, Mrs. Solomon H. Hart, 109 Germain street.

The parlors were artistically decorated with potted palms, ferns and cut flowers, and the ceremony took place under a canopy of blue and gold supported by four nephews of the bride, wearing white silk prayer scarfs, and in the glowing light of numerous candles the scene was most impressive.

The ceremony was strictly orthodox. Rabbi Welensky officiating. The bride was given away by her brother-in-law, Abraham Isaacs, and the groom was escorted by A. S. Hart, brother of the bride.

Miss Hart wore a going away gown of blue broadcloth, hat of grey and white chiffon and ostrich feathers, and carried a bouquet of white roses. Her bridesmaid, Miss Ruby Isaacs, wore a white costume, white picture hat, and carried a bouquet of pink roses.

Little Sylvia Isaacs, maid of honor, preceded the bride, strewing flowers in her path.

The presents were numerous and beautiful, a number having been sent by Mr. Landau's relatives in Europe.

The groom's present to the bride was a diamond crescent and to the bridesmaid a pearl crescent.

After the ceremony the guests partook of a sumptuous repast and the wedding festivities will be continued this evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Landau leave by the I. C. R. this evening on a trip to Vancouver, stopping at the principal cities en route. Upon their return they will reside in Toronto.

STEEVES-PUGSLEY.

One of the most restful weddings of the season took place in St. John's (Stone) church this morning when Miss Isabella Maude Pugsley, youngest daughter of the late Gilbert B. Pugsley, was united in marriage to Francis Bennett Steeves of the Canadian Drug Company.

The ceremony was performed at six o'clock by the Rev. John deSoyres, in the presence of a large number of friends of the parties.

The bride, who was given away by her uncle, Hon. William Pugsley, wore a going away gown of navy blue broadcloth, with hat to match, and carried a bridal bouquet of white roses.

She was attended by her sister, Miss Bessie Pugsley, whose costume was of grey voile over pink silk, with white chiffon hat, and pink roses.

The groom was supported by George Warwick, and the ushers were T. E. St. John, G. W. Harrison, and William Pugsley. Mr. Carman officiated at the organ, and during the ceremony played Mendelssohn's wedding march.

After the service Mr. and Mrs. Steeves drove at once to the depot, where they took the morning train on a visit to Boston and New York. They will be absent for about two weeks, and upon their return will reside at 80 Coburg street.

Miss Pugsley received many beautiful presents, among them being a large bronze ornament from the employes of the Canadian Drug Co., and a set of carvers from the Drug Clerks' Association.

KEATOR-SMITH.

St. Paul's church was the scene of a brilliant nuptial event at half-past three o'clock this afternoon, when Miss Frances Charlotte Sidney Smith, youngest daughter of G. Sidney Smith, of 37 Dorchester street, was united in marriage to John Gillis Keator, who deVeber performed the ceremony, assisted by Rev. A. G. H. Dickson, in the presence of a large number of guests.

The bride was gowned in white silk trimmed with white lace, with veil and orange blossoms. She was attended by Misses Laura Harrison, and Mary R. Warner as bridesmaids, and little Miss Lou Harrison as maid of honor. The bridesmaids wore white, white trimmed with white insertion, white felt hats, and carried pink roses, while the maid of honor was daintily attired in white silk and white hat and carried a basket of pink flowers.

The groom was supported by Charles McL. Troop, and Stewart L. Fairweather, James G. Harrison, Guy Robinson and F. M. Keator acted as ushers.

The organist, Percy Bourne, presided at the organ and played Mendelssohn's wedding march, and The Voice That Breathed O'er Eden was sung by the choir. After the ceremony luncheon was served at the home of the bride, followed by a reception. The happy pair leave by the C. P. R. for a trip to Boston and New York, and on their return will live at 13 Garden street. Miss Smith is one of the most popular young ladies of the city, and has hosts of friends, as was amply shown by the very large number of costly and beautiful presents which she received.

THE WINTER FAIR.

Ten Thousand Dollar Building Being Erected at Amherst.

An agreement has been signed between the town of Amherst, N. S., and the Maritime Stock Breeders' Association, whereby the former agrees to put up a building suitable for holding winter fairs, horse shows, live stock sales, etc., and in return for this the association guarantees to hold a winter fair in Amherst every year until December, 1912.

Rhodes, Curry & Co. have the contract for erecting the winter fair building. It will cost $10,000 and be thoroughly equipped with boilers, steam heating, large auditorium, and with all the facilities for slaughtering animals for the block tests.

AIRSHIP TRIP OVER LONDON.

English Inventor Travels 30 Miles. Sometimes Against Wind, Without Mishap.

LONDON, Sept. 20.—The veteran aeronaut, Spencer, made an ascent from the Crystal Palace, Sydenham, yesterday in an airship of his own construction and sailed over St. Paul's Cathedral.

The airship, which behaved excellently, proceeded in a southerly direction, and when near Egham its course was altered to northeast. The airship sailed well against the wind.

Spencer landed at Eastcote, near Harrow, at 6 o'clock. The trip of thirty miles was made without a hitch.

The airship has a blunt tail and nose, differing in that respect from the design of Santos-Dumont's balloons. The general lines are those of a bottle-nosed whale. The bag is seventy-five feet long and contains 20,000 cubic feet of gas. The frame is of bamboo.

Unlike Santos-Dumont's machine, Spencer's airship is propelled in front. The designer says that this will render the airship more manageable, as the steersman can see the whole mechanism.

A simple pressure of a button sets the airship going and stops it. It is propelled by a petrol motor of thirty horse power placed at a safe distance from the gas valve. The speed in moderate weather is fifteen knots an hour. It weighs only about 600 pounds and carries only one person at a time. The car is practically only a frame, with a flooring of roped bamboo. There are special features and devices to prevent pitching and dipping and a "blower," by which gas can be pumped out at a great rate and air pumped in.

In case a hasty descent is desired, and should the fabric not be ripped, the gas escape bag forms itself into a parachute.

MRS. GOODSPEED INDIGNANT.

(Daily Telegraph.)

Mrs. James Goodspeed called at The Telegraph office last night and asked that this paper should give emphatic and explicit denial to the statement in the evening papers attributed to Daniel Mullin, who in ridiculing the idea that Mr. McGinley was able to accurately fix the time in corroboration of Goodspeed "hinted" that the fact that the witness was engaged to marry Goodspeed's sister assisted him to fix the time.

Mrs. Goodspeed stated to The Telegraph that there was not more than a passing acquaintance between the witness in question and her daughter, and was highly indignant that the names of the young people should be publicly connected when there was no foundation in fact to justify it.

STOCK MARKET.

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—Wall Street: There was a rush to sell stocks at the opening this morning, yesterday's weakness on account of the motor situation being aggravated by the unexpected news that President Roosevelt was under surgical treatment. There were violent breaks in the prices of one to three points in the leading stocks on a spread six to eight points. The market was a downward grade which showed a spread of 1,000 to 2,000 shares. The Pacific and South Westerns and Coalters were three points, and Atchafalaya, Mo. and St. Louis South Western of two points over. The market steadied slightly on secondary quotations, but the liquidation continued in large volume.

THE DOUKHOBORS.

Government Has Taken Steps to Rescue Them From Their Folly.

WINNIPEG, Sept. 23.—The reported fanaticism of the Doukhabor colony around Yess stock in pursuance of their strange religious belief that it is a sin to hold cattle or to use any beast of burden to assist in their labors, have not only been confirmed, but the government itself has taken steps to rescue the Doukhabors from their folly.

Government agents have seized all the cattle, sheep, and horses which were turned at large by their owners, and the live stock will be sold at auction and the money so obtained will be used to provide for the Doukhabors during the winter months. It was some two weeks ago that an agent of the immigration department went into the district where the fanatics had left their live stock to run at large and rounded up the beasts. It is not likely that the sale of the amount of money, but the proceeds will, to a certain extent, go to relieve the starvation that will surely exist in the affected colony once the rigors of winter have set in.

AUTUMN CARNIVAL.

St. John Sports Take the Matter in Hand and Will Provide Six Days' Amusement.

A number of the prominent sporting men in the city are now making arrangements for a grand autumn carnival to be held here next month. This is chiefly for the purpose of arousing a somewhat latent interest in amateur and professional sport. The dates which have been decided upon are from October 6th to October 11th, and interesting programmes for the carnival are being prepared. Attractions will be provided on each day and will include regattas, horse races, baseball games by local and imported teams and football as well as other sports by local clubs. It is the intention to provide a whole week of solid enjoyment, and for the purpose of making definite arrangements a meeting will be held this evening.
