UNION PRINTERS

AT HOT SPRINGS

Fifty-Third Session of the International Typographical Union Opens Today.

Many Delegates and Visitors Attend—President and Secretary Submit Reports, Showing Progress Made—Immense Sum Expended for Eight-Hour Day.

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., Aug. 12.—The fifty-third convention of the International Typographical Union was called to order this morning in the spacious dining room of the Eastman hotel, which was temporarily converted into a convention hall. Addresses of welcome were made by the mayor of the city, the officers of the local union and others and were responded to by President Jas. M. Lynch. The reports of officers were then presented to the convention. About 1,500 delegates and visitors are in attendance.

The report of President Lynch is a comprehensive document, and covers the progress made by the International Typographical Union for the period elapsing since the Colorado Springs convention, and also outlines new policies and touches upon those that have become a part of the work and history of the organization. Among other things an aggressive campaign for the union label is recommended, and it is quite likely that this subject will occupy considerable of the convention's time. The campaign for an eight-hour day, which has been vigorously prosecuted by the International Typographical Union for nearly two years, is touched upon extensively, and it is shown that this movement has been attended with a very large degree of success, about 40,000 members of the union working not more than eight-hours per day.

In the president's report the proposition to pension the superannuated and incapacitated members of the union is given considerable space. This feature, if adopted, will be a new venture for the union, but it is looked on with much favor by the delegates, and undoubtedly a proposition embracing the pension feature will be submitted to a membership vote of the International Typographical Union.

This Union, on the introduction of typetting machines, avoided the error committed by other trade unions in fighting the machine, and encouraged and advised the members to learn the operation of the new device. Because of that wise policy nearly all typetting machines are now operated by union printers. This subject is touched upon in the president's report, and the membership is advised to continue the friendly attitude toward the machine, and to take the greatest opportunity for the instruction of union printers in the operation of typetting devices.

SANITARY CONDITIONS IN COMPOSING ROOMS.

Another most important proposition touched upon in the president's report embraces the sanitary conditions in composing rooms throughout the country. The president strongly advises that local unions insist on healthful workrooms, and without question the convention will endorse the president's recommendation. The movement for the stamping out of tuberculosis has become national, and the union printers believe that they are vitally interested in its success. Tuberculosis has for many years been the scourge of the printing trade, and the Union Printers' Home at Hot Springs contains a large number of patients who are suffering from the white plague. It is believed by the union printers that unsanitary and badly ventilated composing rooms are responsible for much of the tuberculosis that exists among them, and they propose to see to it that they are not made victims of a disease that in nearly all cases spells death. From the expressions of the delegates it is evident that there will be drastic action by the convention along this line.

The arbitration agreement between the American Newspaper Publishers' Association, and the International Typographical Union, is given extended notice in the president's report. It is shown that about 200 of the larger newspapers of the country have arbitration contracts with the International Typographical Union. It is also demonstrated that this agreement has been of great value to the union and that many increases in wages have been secured under it in a peaceful way. The operation of this agreement thus far has been a distinct success, and it is believed that there will be but little friction under it. It will expire in 1912. The president recommends rigid rules for the education of apprentices. The union seeks to turn out first-class workmen, believing that the betterment of conditions and the securing of a fair wage depends to a large extent on the ability of the workmen.

The Union Printers' Home as stated by the president in his report, is a most successful institution. It is supported and maintained entirely by the International Typographical Union, and is the only institution of its kind in the world.

THE UNION'S FISCAL RECORD.

Secretary-Treasurer Bramwood in his report shows that the collections for the year ending May 31, 1907, have reached the enormous total of $3,329,304.51, and the expenditures $2,619,411.54 leaving a balance in the treasury of $709,892.97. There was also collected during the same period for the support of the Union Printers' Home, $61,914.40. The secretary-treasurer shows that the expenditures from the burial fund for the year, reached the sum of $39,270. The total expenditures from this fund since its establishment in 1892 have been $443,102. The average age of death of printers for the year was 46.7 years. It is proposed to build an addition to the Union Printers' Home, and the fund for this purpose is known as the Cummings Memorial Fund. There was in this fund on May 31, 1907, $12,300.44. This amount represents voluntary contributions by the membership.

The net cost of transacting the general business of the organization, excluding the conduct of the eight-hour campaign has been only $16,026.63. The average cost per member has been 37.6 cents; the average cost of officers' salaries has been 10.02 cents. The total cost of the eight-hour day campaign and its attendant strikes up to May 31, 1907, is shown by the secretary-treasurer to have been $2,533,053.11. The receipts and disbursements of the International organization from 1891 to 1907 are $4,934,318.56 and $4,639,037.21, respectively. The secretary-treasurer's reports contain numerous tables setting forth minutely the sources from which money has been received and the avenues through which it has been expended. It is also stated that receipts are on hand for every dollar directly expended by the International Typographical Union.

After the receipts of the reports of officers, the obligating of the delegates, the appointment of committees, and the disposition of business, the convention adjourned until tomorrow morning.

PRIESTS DEFEND

CARDINAL'S PALACE

Hurl Bricks and Stones on the Heads of Fierce Invading Mob of Sicilians.

ROME, Aug. 10.—Notwithstanding the Senate's concession by which Signor Nitti is permitted to remain a prisoner at his own private residence, instead of in the Regina Coeli Prison, popular tumults in Sicily and the adjacent regions still preoccupy the authorities.

At Messina last night rioters plunged the city in darkness, hurled the customs officers' huts into the sea and stoned the Carabinieri and a party landed from the Carabiniere Sardegna. About thirty persons were wounded. Riots broke out at the same time across the straits at Reggio di Calabria. The mob stormed the cardinal-archbishop's palace, wrecking all the windows as well as the huge clock at the cathedral. Cardinal Portanova called upon the commander of the Carabinieri to disperse the malcontents, but when that official pleaded inability for want of reinforcements, the priests and seminarians ascended the roof and hurled down bricks and tiles on the heads of the invaders.

The mob then rushed forward to seize the Liberal Confederation's buildings, but their volley of stones were answered with such a shower of chairs, tables, billiard balls and champagne bottles that they had to beat a hasty retreat. The visitors to the club were luckily unhurt, though the ceiling of an upper room was perforated with pistol shots.

A STEADY FIRE.

(Lippincott's.)

During the discussion of the Madden bill for cheaper gas, Congressman L. gave told the following story of a cook he had once brought from home with him. She was a splendid servant, but she didn't know anything about gas to cook with, so he went to the kitchen to explain about the range. So that she could see how it was operated, he lit each of the many burners. While still explaining a message called him from the kitchen, and he left her saying, "I guess you will find that it will work all right now, Martha." He didn't see the cook again for four or five days, then upon entering the kitchen he said, "Well, Martha, how's that range doing?" To his utter consternation she replied, "Dread, sir, that's the best stove I ever did see. That fire what you kindled for me four days ago is still a-burning, and it ain't even lowered once."

HANDICAPPED EDITOR

IN COURT AS WITNESS

Much Indignation Created in Germany by Indignities Put Upon News-paper Man.

BERLIN, Aug. 10.—Much indignation has been caused throughout the country by the treatment meted out to Herr Wicky, editor of the Socialist Volkszeitung in Muehlhausen. Herr Wicky was in jail undergoing a sentence of seven days' imprisonment for insulting the authorities. Only six hours of his sentence were unexpired, when he was informed he had to appear in court as a witness against a man named Gaudner, who was alleged to have defrauded to the extent of fifty marks.

Before Herr Wicky left his cell he was handcuffed, and in this condition appeared before the court to give his evidence. When he protested, the jailer informed him he was only acting according to his written instructions.

Such tactics and unnecessary severity, could only be extended to socialists, and it will doubtless have the effect of largely increasing the number of socialists in Muehlhausen and vicinity.

CRICKET AT FREDERICTON.

FREDERICTON, Aug. 1.—The cricket match yesterday afternoon on Scurry's field, attracted a large attendance which included many ladies. The game was between the eleven who recently played the Massachusetts cricketers, and an eleven chosen from members of the club. The result was a most disastrous defeat for the former who were captained by Mr. Deeder. They went to the bat first and could only succeed in putting together 28. The bowling of their opponents was most destructive. The victorious team ran up a total of 79 before they were retired, of which H. R. Powell made 23, Fletcher 16, the remaining scores being pretty well distributed.

The Wm. Bradley who figured in a police court case the other day, is not the Wm. Bradley in McPherson Bros.' employ.

James McCarthy, the Dock street liquor dealer, left for Winnipeg on Saturday evening. On Friday evening a number of Mr. McCarthy's friends presented him with an address and a travelling bag. Mr. McCarthy may locate permanently in the West.
