With five months of the year to run, the city fathers are able to figure ou a prospective deficit of about $5,000. They have $11,000 in cash in the bank as the result of prompt payment of taxes under the five per cent discount rule and estimate further receipts of $16,000 to meet an estimated expenditure of some $32,000. The deficit includes $2,700 for street widening and macadamizing to be assessed for next year, but after making this allowance, the city fathers would appear to have been rather lavish in their expenditures. The Oddfellows have an excursion to Shediac during the meeting of the grand lodge of the maritime provinces ere next week. The members of the city council and press have been invited, to attend.

BURNED AT THE STAKE.

John Wesley Pennington, a Negro, th Victim of a Southern Mob.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Aug. 7.-John Wesley Pennington, a negro, was burned at the stake near Enterprise before a crowd of 500 enraged and determined citizens of Coffee county this morning. The mob was composed of both whites and blacks, and though the suffering man pleaded for mercy and frantically endeavored to break the chains that bound him, net a trace of sympathy was shown Pennington had committed a brutal assault upon Mrs. J. C. Davis, wife of one of the most prominent farmers of Coffee county, and had confessed his

The crime was committed Tuesday afternoon. A large posse was organ-ized with bloodhounds and captured the negro in a swamp. He was bound and taken to the Davis house for idenification. When the posse arrived this norning with Pennington at least 500 persons were gathered near the Davis esidence. Mrs. Davis recognized her assailant, and the negro admitted the ssault and pleaded for mercy, but he was dragged to the woods nearby. An iron pipe was driven in the ground around which brushwood was piled. When the negro saw his doom he screamed with terror and fell in a faint. He was revived and dragged to the stake, but had to be held up while the chains were fastened around his neck and body. A match was applied to the pile, and with oil to feed upon the flame soon burst into a roar. The errified negro again and again pleaded for mercy in agonizing tones, and prayed to God that those around him might perish. He then called upon his Maker for forgiveness, and as the ames leaped up and encircled his neck soon nothing could be seen but the writhing motion in the circle of fire then the oil burned out and the lames subsided sufficiently to show that Pennington's head had fallen forward and hung limp over the chain. His body was quickly umed and the crowd dispersed.

CHARLOTTETOWN ELECTRIC LIGHT.

In 1898 the Charlottetown Gas Company was taken over by what was practically a new company, which secured a charter for the lighting of the city and running street cars in the city and royalty. During the past year or two, the two rival electric ompanies have been cutting rates, and this, together with the recent granting of the contract for the street ighting to the Full Electric Company as helped to bring about the present

WANT TO BUILD PAPER MILLS. A representative of an English synlicate is now in the province looking into the possibilities for establishing a large paper manufacturing plant. He has visited Quebec province, and looked over the chances there. The English concern desire to establish in east ern Canada a paper mill with a capacity of at least 200 tons of paper per lay, and their representative is looking for a place where they can get a thousand square miles of timber limits and a water power that would develop from 20,000 to 30,000 horse power Outside of Grand Falls this power could hardly be got in New Brunswick, although there would be no difficulty in securing the timber limits. The syndicate desire to manufacture raper, and would not export a pound of pulp. If it were possible to secure such an industry for this province it would be of great advantage.

MONCTON, N. B., August 6.-Some weeks ago Driver Wm. McGarrity, running between Moncton and Truro, was suspended for a month for refus ing to take a train out, alleging that he had been on duty twenty-four hours and required rest. The fireman, who was in the same predicament, was also given a month's rest. Driver Me-Garrity is on duty again, but he is asking the management to pay him for the month he was not allowed to work. His claim is backed by the Brother hood of Locomotive Engineers and the grievance committee waited on the ter. McGarrity contends he was acting within his rights in refusing to take out a train after being twentyhours on duty without rest, and he has the support of the brotherhood in the stand he has taken. Manager Russel has been given to understand that nothing short of Driver McGarrity's full pay for the time he was off will satisfy him or the order a. his back. Unless the management accedes to the claims put forth more is likely to be heard of the matter.

Only the other day we stated that the tonnage launched in three months in the United Kingdom totalled 398,585 tons, the measurement of 177 vessels, and now we have an official report recording the waste of shipping as 224 vessels of 171,996 tons, so that the tonnage added to credit is more than double that shown on the debit side. Moreover, while 392,864 tons of the new ships were steam-propelled, only 91,781 tons of the waste was in steamers, and thus the carrying efficiency of the new vesels is nearly four times that of the vessels removed from Lloyd's Registry, from which the returns are issued.
Obviously the difference means keener competition. The wastage indicated is much

The wastage indicated is much under the average, for the twelve months total usually is between 780,000 and 850,000 tons, or at the rate of 210,000 tons per quarter, as compared with the 171,996 tons now reported. We have indicated that the loss is fairly equally divided between steamers and sailing vessels; steel vessels account for one-third, iron ships accounting for 61,390 tons, and wooden or composite vessels for 52,187 tons. Since few iron or wooden craft have been built for some years, it will be seen that most of the vessels lost were of some antiquity. Wreeks, as usual, accounted for the greater half of the waste-126 vessels, of 85,078 tons, being thus lost; while 28 vessels, of 24,754 tons, were broken up or condemned. Fire claims 10 vessels, of 18,807 tons, most of them, curiously enough, being sailing ships; 15 vessels were posted "missing," the tonnage of these averaging nearly 1,000. Nineteen vessels, of 10,661 tons, were abandoned at sea. Collisions sent to the bottom 13 vessels, of 10,199 tons, most of them steamers. Bight vessels, of 7,137 tons, foundered, and five vessels, of 1,855 tons, were otherwise lost. It is gratifying to note that only 47 tons out of every 10,000 tons owned by Britain were lost during the quarter, whereas with other notable maritime powers the proportions were: Italy, 216; Norway, 151; Spain, 135; Sweden, 68; United States, 67; France, 64; Russia, 49; and Germany, 36,—London Engineering.
