Inspector Wood said that in conse-mence of a report he received from ne post master on Saturday morning the post master on Saturday moraing he had three young men brought before him, the two defendants and a third party.

On questioning them in regard to their attempt to convert postage stamps into cash, Leathe stated he had secured them from Downey in exchange for a valise. He said Downey told him he had come stamps but could not exchange them for money so he said he would exchange them for him. They then together with a third party went to the post office where Leathe tried to effect the exchange.
