T. T. Cartwright, who represents Baird & Peters in Newfoundland, arrived in the city on Thursday. In conversation with The Telegraph Friday, Mr. Cartwright stated that the story cabled to Canada that ex-Attorney-General Morrison had decided to form a party and appeal to the people on the platform of union with Canada, was entirely incorrect. While Mr. Morrison might personally favor confederation, it was absurd to suppose that he would run an election on that platform, as he would, at the present time at least, be certain of defeat on that issue.

Mr. Cartwright says that times are good in the ancient colony. Both the cod and seal fisheries have been remunerative, and the people have had a better year than for quite a number of years past.

With regard to game, he says there are many American hunters on the island, and they are having good sport. Caribou is the game there, and some fine specimens have been brought out by the visitors.

He was a mem of genial disposition and fine social qualities. He was an excellent bass singer, and was for a long time a member of Trimbty church choir, and very popular in his younger days on the programmes of local ententainments.

His friends were many, and though his lengthy illness had prepared all for an nouncement of his death, yet when the sad news circulated yesterday it was heard with feelings of deep regrets.

NEW PASTOR IN CHARGE,

Rev. Howard H. Roach in Main Street Baptist Church.

Rev. Howard H. Roach, the new pastor scourse was a heart to heart talk in hich he referred to his feelings in appearing before the congregation as spiritial leader. He alluded to the text as an implied command which meant that to enlarge necessitated an attractiveness which could be attained by the lifting up of Christ.

Dealing with the cost of this attra

ness, the speaker said we must pay the same price for it that Christ paid in passsame price for it that Christ paid in passing through temptations. We should enlarge our powers of helping mankind. Christ helped by what He was. We would help by the gospel that was preached and lived, and mindful of the awful cost of sin, our gospel must have blood in it. The foundations would be laid in accordance with the ideas held. Faith in in it. The foundations would be laid in accordance with the ideas held. Faith in Jesus Christ was the foundation; the Therefore looking to the great fact that faith without works was dead, hearts and hands would be struck as pastor and
