AMERICANS FACE NEWS PRINT FAMINE

Publishers Appeal to Congress to Save Them from Disaster

CANADA THEIR HOPE

Want Tariff Amended Immediately So That Paper Can Be Imported from the Dominion Free of Duty; Quebec's Action Makes Them Panicky.

New York, April 29.—After John Norris, chairman of the committee on paper, had announced at the meeting of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association yesterday that the government reports from paper mills showing stock on hand April 1, indicated that there was less than a six-day supply of paper for the newspapers, the association instructed its president to send the following statement to congress:

"As a result of a strike in the mills of the International Paper Company the price of newsprint paper for transient needs has advanced approximately 80 per cent within the last five weeks. A condition approaching a paper famine is imminent.

"The commission of corporations reports that the stock on hand at paper mills on March 31, 1910, was 19,907 tons, which is less than a six-day supply for the newspapers. Within three years the newspapers have encountered three such panics in paper supply.

"Aggravating this situation is the official announcement that pulp wood cut from crown lands after May 1, 1910, cannot be exported. The American supply of pulp wood is almost exhausted.

"Many of the American mills are dependent upon Canada for their supply of raw material, so that the action of the provincial authorities brings to the print paper industry of the United States a menace which the special committee of the house of representatives, after a ten months' investigation of the subject, attempted to avert by its unanimous recommendation for legislation.

"If final action in adjusting this print paper matter with Canada is deferred for ratification and approval by congress until next winter, it is probable that the newspapers' loss, due to this delay, will reach millions of dollars.

"We ask that you promptly act upon the bill proposed by the chairman of that committee, James R. Mann (H. R. bill 12,314) entitled 'A bill to encourage and promote commerce between the United States and the Dominion of Canada, and authorizing the free entry of wood pulp and printing paper from Canada, provided all restrictions on the exportation of pulp wood and wood pulp are removed.'

"The good faith of the Dominion of Canada, and the recommendation of that special committee."

"The government sent out troops, who seized many of the revolutionists, and summarily put a number of them to death. Warships of several nations hastened to Port au Prince, and their arrival secured the lives and property of foreigners.

For only a few months, however, did Alexis maintain his rule. In November he ordered General Antoine Simon, commander of the south, to Port au Prince, and confer with him on the political situation.

General Simon refused to comply and took up arms against the president. His march to the capital was a triumphal one, and he was hailed as the savior of the people of that city turned against their president. They surrounded the palace and took possession of the city. At the last moment Alexis yielded to the plans of those about him and decided to take refuge on board the French warship Duguay Trouin.

The day after his escape, he was seized by the revolutionists, and he was taken to the capital, where he was put to death.

The revolutionists then elected a new president, and the country was again at peace.

NORD ALEXIS, EX-PRESIDENT OF HAITI, DEAD

Passed Away at Kingston, Jamaica, Where He Had Been a Refugee—Had a Stormy Career.

Kingston, Ja., May 1.—Nord Alexis, ex-president of Haiti, died here today. His death occurred after a brief illness. His health, however, had been considerably broken by the experience of the last year and a half, for he was deposed from the presidency and sent into exile. He had been a refugee here since the revolution of 1908 and was possessed of considerable property in Kingston.

A picturesque ruler was removed from office when Nord Alexis was compelled to abdicate and flee from Haiti on Dec. 2, 1908. Port au Prince was then in the hands of the revolutionists, and General Antoine Simon, who afterwards became president, was marching up with an army of 5,000 men.

Nord Alexis was variously estimated at from ninety to 100 years of age. He was a descendant of one of the oldest families of Haiti. He took part in many wars, and in 1888 he was elected president of the republic. He was deposed in 1908, and he was succeeded by General Sam.

Nord Alexis became president of Haiti in 1908. His term was to have expired May 15, 1909, but his administration was not conspicuously successful. Prominent politicians grumbled because he did not give them what they considered their fair share of the spoils and promised some notorious looters of the national treasury.

Early in 1908, the movement against Alexis had gained great strength and in March a reign of terror was subsequently inaugurated in Port au Prince.

The government sent out troops, who seized many of the revolutionists, and summarily put a number of them to death. Warships of several nations hastened to Port au Prince, and their arrival secured the lives and property of foreigners.

For only a few months, however, did Alexis maintain his rule. In November he ordered General Antoine Simon, commander of the south, to Port au Prince, and confer with him on the political situation.

Smiths Falls, Ont., May 1.—(Special)—Murder was committed here Saturday morning in a little frame house on Main street, when Mrs. Rebecca Smith was choked to death by her husband.
