This splendid accomplishment is being celebrated in a fitting manner by the management of Loew's, and they have set this week aside as anniversary week. The theatre has been decorated, and at a considerable expense a program of unusual merit has been provided.

That this success is no idle boast is proven by statistics issued by E. A. Lake, the manager. In twelve months, more than 1,138,000 people paid their way into the theatre. Despite the fact this department.

Among other improvements was the relating of the last fourteen rows of seats to a higher level, so that everyone could secure a view of the stage. The lobby theatre has been repainted and crated at a considerable expense. Following a policy adopted in the beler Manager E. A. Lake, the same efficient staff which ushered the patrons to their seats on the opening night is still practically intact.
