ACUTE WATER SHORTAGE

for the breakdown. Asked by Mayor Gross whether it would be remedied, Mr. Gorton replied he understood it would. Mr. Breithaupt pointed out that the water at this plant is being used for cooling purposes only and therefore was really going to waste. It would be a good thing if it could be pumped back and used. Commissioner Braun thought this was not desirable as the water would not be cool. The Mayor had the same opinion. Chairman Breithaupt said that the water would be cool because it would take the temperature of the ground. However, the plan was not feasible, Mr. Breithaupt added.

Urges Immediate Action on Compressor Test
Commissioner Braun urged the continuance of the test at the plant with the air compressor. He thought the Strange Street well also should be tested with the air compressor. Engineer Walker did not favor the idea of this, claiming it could not be operated satisfactorily because it is isolated from the other wells. "I do not like the idea of leaving machinery run alone by itself without anybody being around," he said.

"I would suggest that Mr. Walker to-morrow go down to Toronto and see what he can do looking over compressors and a pump. We want to act right away," Mr. Braun said. The idea met with favor and it was also suggested by Commissioner P. Gies that Chairman Breithaupt also go down to Toronto. This was agreed on in the two Commissioners' motion and Mr. Breithaupt said that although he was very busy he would arrange to go down to Toronto this morning. They are authorized to purchase if they find apparatus which would answer the purpose.

Sink Another Rockwell
Commissioner Gorton suggested that another rockwell be sunk. The idea was favored by Mr. Walker, who has been stated on other occasions is a firm believer in these wells. The Commission instructed Superintendent Hymmen to communicate with a well-known well-driller to-day with the view of having arrangements made to have him or some other reliable driller come here as soon as possible to sink another rock well.

Waterloo Manager's Statement This Morning
When queried by the Record this morning on Waterloo's supply to this city, Manager C. W. Schiele said: "I have just noticed that during the last five days we have supplied an average of 750,000 gallons per day to Kitchener. This is all that we can supply."
"What about the extra well you have?"
"We have an extra well, which we could put into shape but it would cost several thousand dollars to do that. We would require a new agreement with Kitchener if this well is to be put into operation."
"How long would it require to put it into shape?"
"Oh, several weeks, perhaps."
"And what would be its capacity?"
"About 300,000 gallons. 300,000 to 500,000 gallons. Say 300,000." Mr. Schiele replied.

Last Week's Test Showed Water Good
It was ascertained from Medical Officer of Health Dr. McGillivray that the latest test of the city water, which was made last week, showed the water in pure condition. Asked about the previous report, the doctor said: "The report was not as good as this, although it did not say it was bad. Regarding the water we are keeping tab on it. There is no question but something will have to be done."
As to the pressure this morning the gauge at the office on North Queen Street showed that there was a big drop. It went down to 25 pounds from 30 pounds.

(Special to The Record)

TORONTO PLEASED WITH VICTORY WON
WILL SENATE PASS MEASURE?
TORONTO, June 5.—The victory won by the municipalities at Ottawa, in the Toronto and Niagara Power Company case is regarded as the city hall as achieving two main ends—that is if it gets past the Senate.
In the first place, it guards Toronto's streets against future raids on the part of the Mackenzie octopus.
In the second place it prevents the company from conferring on the Toronto Electric Light and other purchased companies, its own perpetual franchise and pole rights.

TWO SEAMEN WERE BADLY SCALDED
(Special to The Record)
TORONTO, June 5.—As a result of an explosion of steam from the manhole joint of a boiler in the steamer "Toronto," of the Canadian Steamship line's passenger boat, early this morning two men were badly scalded and had to be taken to the hospital.

Winnipeg Veterans Hold a Parade
STAND FOR LAW AND ORDER.
WINNIPEG, June 4.—Winnipeg to-morrow will witness a day of parades and demonstrations that on several occasions threatened to end the tranquility that has marked the general strike of union workers in force for 30 days. Fifty additional policemen were sworn during the day by municipal officials.
Soldier veterans of the European war who were put after a day of parades and demonstrations that on several occasions threatened to end the tranquility that has marked the general strike of union workers in force for 30 days. Fifty additional policemen were sworn during the day by municipal officials.

Another parade of strikers, strike sympathizers and a few returned soldiers also paraded the streets, but the factions did not meet. Leaders of both the pro and the anti-strike marchers announced that they would repeat the demonstration to-morrow. The City Council arranged to open milk and bread depots throughout the city after bakers and dairymen declared they would attempt to operate the plants despite the strike order.

Many brotherhood executives, attempting to mediate the difficulties between the union trade workers and the industrial employers, said they had no announcement to make. The strike of the metal trades several weeks ago was followed by the sympathetic walkout.

Two Demonstrations
Factions of returned soldiers, divided over the question of approving the general strike, which has been in progress here for some time, to-day. The soldiers who refused to approve strike massed some 2,000 strong around the Parliament buildings, which had been the scene previously, moved up Portage avenue and passed within four blocks of the Parliament buildings. These paraders continued up the avenue and did not return in the direction of Parliament.
At the gathering of soldiers around the Parliament buildings several Canadian army officers, including Major Fred Thompson, addressed the men and denounced the demonstrations of the past few days.
"If aliens and others demonstrate we will act as the Canadians should," said one of the speakers. The parade later returned from the Parliament buildings, marchers carrying banners bearing the inscription, "Down With Bolshevism!" "We Uphold our Duty Elected Constitutional Government!" "Deport the Enemy Alien!" etc.

Later the parade of strike sympathizers arrived at the Parliament buildings the parade continued to Victoria Park for a mass meeting. The two parades did not meet. Leaders of both said similar demonstrations would be held to-morrow. Hundreds of men in workmen's clothes were in the parade which first visited the Parliament buildings. With British and Dominion banners snapping and the marchers whistling a military tune, this parade moved through the downtown section without the slightest opposition. One banner said: "God Save the King."

Despite the tenderness of the general situation reports were received from several places that small groups of employees who had been on strike were returning to work.

A number of operators at the commercial offices reported for duty. Commercial business was being accepted by the telephone companies and some press dispatches were handled. From the beginning of the strike up to last night the only press wire in continuous operation was that of the Winnipeg situation to the Associated Press.

Railway offices announced that a considerable number of machinists and car men had returned to work, despite intimidation by pickets and strike agents.

More Called Out.
While the parade demonstrations were in progress the central strike committee was calling out union workers who thus far were not on strike. Motion picture operators were ordered to quit work. Efforts of the strike leaders, however, were directed principally against the distribution of food-stuffs.

Fifty additional policemen were sworn in, equipped and placed on active duty to-day by the city police commission. All formerly served on the force.

Union engineers in Winnipeg, bakers and errandmen were called out this morning by the central strike committee. Most of the men obeyed the order. Some of the men driving milk and bread wagons also quit work.

James A. Duncan, secretary of the Trades and Labor Council of Seattle, arrived in Winnipeg this morning and addressed a meeting of strikers at Victoria Park this afternoon.

WINNIPEG TO DISTRIBUTE MILK
Winnipeg today took over the distribution of milk and was straining to provide for bread distribution if necessary. It was reported that strike leaders were preparing to resist their order of yesterday ordering all union handlers of food-stuffs to go on strike. Mayor Gray said that milk stations would be opened in all public schools buildings and that adequate protection would be furnished.

Municipalities to Control Their Streets

OTTAWA, June 4.—In an atmosphere that was overwhelmingly oppressive from the heat the Commons struggled all day with the vexatious and long fought-out clause in the Railway Act in regard to the control of the streets by municipalities. This is the clause in which Toronto is particularly affected, as it is the right of the Toronto and Niagara Power Company under its charter of 1902 to enter the streets of the City of Toronto without the consent of the municipality which has been the bone of contention and which has resulted in the deterring of the Consolidated Railway Act for four successive years. Today's debate was the climax to this four years fight. It looks like an all night debate before the vote will be taken.

H. M. Mowatt, Parkdale, was the leader of those who were championing the City of Toronto's viewpoint. He moved an amendment, which met the desires of the municipalities. Mr. Mowatt maintained that if action was not taken a charter worth millions would be given to a group of companies, which would be allowed to exploit every province in the Dominion. He said the whole trouble had arisen through a misunderstanding in drafting the revised railway statute in 1902 the effect of which was to wipe out the Railway Act amendments of 1899, protecting the rights of the public. Mr. Mowatt thought that the claim that vested rights were being interfered with and was not sound argument in the present case. Mr. Mowatt was supported by Thos. Foster of East York and other Toronto members. W. B. Butler, Duncan Ross, W. F. Nickle and W. F. Cockshutt supported the Toronto members. Mr. Cockshutt was particularly vehement in defending the right of the municipalities to control their own streets. He questioned the right of the Dominion Parliament to give these companies permission to enter the streets of any municipality.

The other side of the question was argued by H. H. Stevens, Vancouver, and Hon. F. E. Carvell who were supported by D. D. MacKenzie, the opposition leader. Mr. Stevens said that if this clause was passed it would mean disregard of all the powers given to private companies up to the present time. He pointed out that by a clause in the bill the municipalities, if they felt themselves unfairly treated, could appeal to the railway commission.

Hon. Mr. Carvell protested that this was purely a local question and provisions affecting a local matter should not be incorporated in a general statute. He admitted that no company should be given the right to go on the streets of a municipality without civic consent. He did not think anyone to-day would give such a situation as was granted in 1902. He said he had nothing but good words to say for the Hydro Commission of Ontario, but it had no right to destroy other people's property. He claimed that this legislation was nothing short of confiscation.
