

them to apocryphic however, unless indeed it might be Victoria in the Park! - in the deficiency, please feel that you have our best wishes for a long long series of useful service, blessed with abundance of health & strength.

The lives of this our generation are so filled with problems & responsibilities, & so evidence have their horizons become, that it is not only England, but the whole world today ^{that} expects that every man will do his duty. - Hence the less, & fine opportunity, is to tread those paths of glory which have many windings before they reach their inevitable end.

In this aspect I envy you - & I enjoy with you if I may, the thought that this turn in the labyrinth of life begins not inauspiciously.

It was such a pleasure to have you Mrs. Meighen with us the other evening and I trust that in some future occasion Philip himself may have the pleasure of playing with you - I noticed that you were both so keen it was delightful for me merely to look on. With kindest regards to you both in which he joins me - & again with best wishes to you & Canada.

Believe me -
Sincerely yours -
Ella B. Kelly
