

foyle and Acton, which is seven miles to either place. This village was laid out by the proprietors in 1856, and contains one church the New Connexion Methodist a handsome frame building with stone basement erected in 1847 at a cost of $1,800, having capacity to seat three hundred. The congregation was formed in 1833. The Methodist new Connexion Congregation in this place was originally gathered by the Rev. Wm. Martin, a local elder, and worshipped in a log chapel until 1847 which then gave place to the beautiful church now occupying the same site, shortly after its formation the church was placed under the pastoral care of the regular ministers of the Body, under whose oversight it has made gratifying progress. The Rev. H. Wilkinson is the present minister, connected with the Church is a respectable parsonage, and also three other small chapels.
